-Acton's big Community Picnic will be held next Wednesday afternoon in Acton Park.

-The softball games played twice a week are creating quite a bit of fun and keen contest.

-Never let a difficulty stop you-it may be only sand on your track to prevent your skidding.

-Just two more weeks until the school bells call teachers and scholars back to school duties again. -Mr. Arnold Weaver has been suffering from blood poisoning in his left arm. but is now recovering nicely. -The electrical storm and rains of Saturday night were quite heavy and supplied a much-needed rain. -Town and countryside will join in an afternoon of community sport and fun at the Park next Wednesday. - "False Economy Has No Value" is the subject of the special article in Acton's Prosperity Campaign' this week.

-Quite a number from Acton Women's Institute attended the birthday party of Eden Mills Institute on Wednesday of last week. -On Tuesday little Shirley Duval sustained a fractured collar bone when she fell from a local delivery wagon, on which she was having a ride.

-Exhibitors of last year will have very pleasant recollections of Acton Fair in remembering that Acton Fair was one of the few that last year paid everyone one hundred cents on the dollar.

-Some thief stole a tankful of gasoline from Mr. C. H. Harrison's car, on Tuesday night when it stood in front of his residence. The culprit was not thoughtful enough to even replace the tank cap, which is also missing.

-This year the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, the world's professional sculling championship will be defended by Ted Phelps, of England. Oarsmen from various parts of the world seek his honors and the rich cash prizes.

Million dollar buildings are not uncommon at the Canadian National Exhibition. Toronto, which operates this year from August 25 to September 9. Perhaps the most beautiful of these magnificent structures is the Automotive Building, wherein are seen advance models of the motor cars of 1934. Tuesday, August 29, is Highways and Automotive Day.

THE CLOCK AND THE CALENDAR

The clock and the calendar are two portant aids to a successful life. There are so many tasks you mean to do today, drop in to see Warren, who is recovering from a siege of pneumonia, write a letter acknowledging Aunt Betty's birthday present, make up the lesson you missed last week. Somehow when bedtime comes, none of these tasks are done. You did not set any special time for calling on Warren, or writing the letter, and since there was no special time, they were omitted. Use your clock. You need. it. The same thing happens when you fail to make use of the calendar. You must fix on an earlier bedtime for you are not getting sleep enough and are dull and weary in consequence. Well, there is the calendar on the wall, and all that is necessary is to draw a line. around the date that stands for to-day, and follow its suggestion. Instead, you are always going to do, with no definite time set. You salve your conscience and do nothing. Undoubtedly there is a clock and a bender in your home. Do not overthe them, for if you utilise their assist-Das you may, it will go a long way. status your life successful.

SELF-SACRIFICE

All really human persons want to give themselves away, at least for something if not for somebody. . . . We may preach a prudential morality sometimes, because it seems so sane, and men are so selfish very well that no man ever satisfied his eoul with prudence - with the sanest selfishness though many have tried. The only thing that can satisfy a human being is an object of devotion, not himself, for which he can feel it worthy of him to sacrifice himself without limit. No man is fully alive, who is not ready to die for something. The charactestic law of human life, as we feel it in our most vivid moments, is not self-preservation, but self-devotion passing into readiness for self-sacrifice. "He that loseth his life for My sake"-for some sake-"shall find it."-Dr. Sophie Bryant.

A REAL SPRINTER

The young man wrenched open the door of the railway carriage, tumbled inside, and collapsed on the seat gasping for breath as the train slid towards the end of the platform. The rather obvious retired "colonel" in the opposite corner grunted. "When I was your age my lad," he disapproved,, "I could sprint down a platform and catch a train without turning a hair."

"But I missed this-at the last station," replied the young man.
