It was a merry, jostling, good-natured crowd that, bedecked in a wide variety of costumes and outfits, essembled on Wilbur Street on Tuesday night and were oajoled and entreated and threatened toto some semblance of order for Acton's tenth annual Hallowe'en Frolic. Acton Citizens' Band was in the lead and the Countown Band brought up the rear of the procession, which was fully two blocks long. Down Mill Street to Main Street and Knox Avenue and the Arena this weird outfit went, and the spirit of Hallowe'en was not found lacking in Actom.

In a neighboring town not many miles from Acton a stranger put on a Community Sale-a special three-day event for the business men of that town. It was not advertised until on the last day of this supposedly big event when a large bill was distributed. They were delivered in the community the night before the last of the three days' selling. Of course the stranger had his printing done out of town for this "community" feature and the bills were late in arriving. The out-of-town printer had no particular interest in the community in which the bills were to be distributed. A customer in one of the stores of that town said to the man in charge: "What kind of a shopping centre is this?" His reply gave evidence that this was not the first allusion to the subject: "Go on -shoot your stuff-we take our medicine." In Acton the business men gave no encouragement to a similar event. "Tugboat Annie" at Gregory Theatre on Monday

Thrills, laughs and heart throbs all mingle in the re-union of Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, beloved team of "Min and Bill," who are again co-starred at M. Readhead that Council adjourn to the Gregory Theatre on Monday in "Tugboat Annie," filmization of the famous Saturday Evening Post stories of a battling feminine tugboat captain and her sanguinary adventures. Miss Dressler plays Annie: with Beery cast as her shiftless but good-natured mate, Captain Terry. They battle and make up again for countless laughs; there is a dramatic note of mother love and a gigantic thrill in the climax when Beery enters a blazing firebox to repair a boiler at sea and thus save a storm-tossed liner. Most of the picture was filmed in Puget Sound in the actual locales of the Norman Reilly Raine stories, which gives the picture an extraordinary sense of authenticity. Miss Dressler pilots a sea-going tug and competes with the whole waterfront in the vivid maritime drama, directed by Mervyn Le Roy of "Gold Diggers' and "Little Caesar" fame.
