RED CARROTS AS WINTER GREEN FEED FOR POULTRY

It is a known fact that green feed in one form or another is a very valuable addition to a poultry ration. No matter how well balanced any ration may be there seems to come a time when a change is desirable. Variety in a diet is possibly no less welcome to the hen than to the human race. Though it has been authentically reported that birds receiving dried green feed such as alfalfa leaf meal may give results as good if not better than birds receiving steeped alfalfa, cabbage and mangels, the question of a change in diet is a point that will always deserve consideration. In the feeding of the birds in the Egg-Laying Contests at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Agassiz, B. C., particular attention has always been given to the matter of green feed. For many years mangels were used in this connection during the winter months. However, as evidently the value of the mangels did not justify its classification so much as a green feed as a succulent feed only, the attention of those responsible has recently been turned more and more to the value of red carrots. The latter is of value not only for its succulence but for its Vitamin content also. No matter how well balanced a ration may be a success in feeding whether it be poultry or other live stock depends very much indeed on the ability of the feeder. It is here where his power of observation comes in. Birds will apparently, if given the opportunity, pick out from a number of feeds not only what they prefer but what is best for them. Although no definite experiment has been carried out at Agassiz in the feeding of red carrots as against mangels, the evidence so far obtained from the feeding of both of these is inclined to be much in favor of the red carrots.

Acton Won the Opening Game

and about this time Bob Anderson injured his knee and the ligaments of his leg that put him out of the game for the evening. Preston almost gave one of those gift goals from a Preston stick in their own net—we said almost. Harry Chew missed on Morton's rebound shot, and Greer missed again. We don't know how, because everyone was in the goal, but it didn't count. Waller, in goal for Preston, had a busy time for awhile and when Gibbons had what looked like a sure goal, Waller was lying on the ice and took the puck in the ribs, just where there weren't any pads. It took him some minutes to recover. Score 2-2 at the end of the period. Schomfeldt, Schmuck and Bettke got the penalties. Acton looked better this period and had the edge of the play.

Period three was faster and rougher. Both teams wanted that game badly and both had the grit to get it. In the first thirty minutes of play Clucura put Preston up one. It was a rebound—from Schomfeldt. The same story, Acton boys were not covering their net. Minute Walters evened the score for Acton at four minutes of play. Boy, if Preston won this game they would know how and why. Harry Chew put Acton into the lead at 8:45, and bang! Stark tied up the score just fifty seconds later. The same story, a loose puck picked up in front of the Acton goal. Bus Morton gave the winning goal after thirteen minutes of play and took the honors of scoring the first and last goals—2 of 'em—in this opening game. Welcome to Acton, Bus. Most of the fans think that's a fair introduction. The assist was from Terry's stick. The last seven minutes were put in by Acton staving off Preston's attacks and the occasional break through by the locals without goal results. Holloway was a very busy young man. The game ended 5-4 for Acton, and if that's the brand of hockey we're to expect this year the Arena will have some record crowds this winter. Acton took four penalties in the last period and Preston had three.

D. Brush, of Milton, was the referee. The line-up was: Preston—Waller, goal; Schomfeldt and Schmuck, defence; Clucura, centre; Bettke and Stark, wings; Ross, Wright, Bartholomew and Hills, alternates; Schmaltz, sub goal. Acton—Holloway, goal; Gibbons and Greer, defence; Terry, centre; Morton and Chew, wings; Jack Kentner, Joe Kentner, Walters and Anderson, alternates.

The league standing is: Teams P W T L F A P Goals Eton 2 1 1 0 9 3 3 Acton 1 1 0 0 5 4 2 Elmira 1 0 1 0 1 1 1 Georgetown 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Preston 1 0 0 1 4 5 0 Fergus 1 0 0 1 2 8 0

They say they never come back—not any more. What about Harry Chew, Joe Kentner and Jack Kentner? Sure they're back, and going stronger every game. With two goals to his credit and some nice passes, Bus Morton made a real hockey debut in Acton. Wouldn't be surprised to see him on the scoring sheet regularly. Then Terry came back, too, and put his name on the scoring pad—and gave some nice assists. Seems as if it takes the schedule games to bring out the crowds. They ought to be bigger every game now. Minute Walters was on the score pad too, and when he broke loose in the last period he was on the almost list a few times. We mean almost score list. Gibbons and Greer didn't do much bumping on the defence. It just wasn't that kind of a game, that required any such play this time, but they were pretty solidly placed all the time. It was a close checking, clean game from start to finish. Funny how the roads were so bad between Guelph and Oakville on Tuesday night. One fan suggested that possibly Guelph had to have a home game first. Tut, tut! The boys aren't very happy for the prospects of the trip to Elmira on New Year's night, but it seems that nothing but a very early January thaw will change matters of the game. No, we didn't forget Bill Holloway. That was almost impossible in the game last night. Short and long, Bill handled them well. It was a tough break for Bob Anderson to get an injured knee and strained ligaments in his leg at the first game. The injury is pretty painful. Those two exhibition games meant a lot to the locals. It might have been a different story if they hadn't had the experience of those two encounters with C. C. M. and the Kitchener-Senior-B team. Do you know that the game last night was the first time Acton has won the opening game of the schedule on their own ice? Ain't that sumpt!

Oh, yes—and Acton is scheduled to play the opening game in Elora's new rink. The Band will play "Hot Time" that night.

"Pack Up Your Troubles" was the theme song in the dressing room, of course, but everyone forgot to introduce it until just before the last period. See what a difference it made. And don't forget the Juniors play Burlington here on Friday (that's tomorrow) night. Give the boys a hand. They deserve it and will be your next Intermediates.

The smokers may enjoy the privilege at the Arena, but the indulgence in the habit is not improving the pleasure of others who attend. It would be real sportsmanship for all to forego their smoke until after the game.

The Band helps a lot at the games. Acton Arena is about the only place in this district where it is a regular feature. It's a fine example of a co-operative community.

Elora won from Fergus last night by a score of 8-2. Looks as if Fergus was a weak member of the group, but you never can tell. Georgetown plays the first game in the Intermediate series to-morrow night with Elmira.

Burlington are the contenders with the Juniors here to-morrow night. Here's hoping the boys follow the Intermediate example and capture the first game.

Acton's next Intermediate game at home is on Thursday, January 4, when Elora comes here. Nuf sed. A chap who failed to clip the schedule was inquiring when Acton and Georgetown meet. That will occur on January 18, in Georgetown, wind and weather permitting.

Can you tell me where Widow Smith lives? "First turning on the right and it is about the third house." "Couldn't you tell me the number?" "No, but it is on the door."

A well-known American preacher was once asked by a student to tell the secret of holding the attention of large congregations, and he replied: "When I began my ministry, I tried to impress my listeners with long words. One Sunday morning, as I was about to go into the pulpit, the sidesman, who was a farm laborer, whispered to me, 'There's a child in the church this morning.' I took the hint, and preached in simple language, and I have done so ever since.' Preachers who love to use high-sounding words to impress their hearers, should remember—"There's a child in the church." Even better will be the times that are coming.—Benito Mussolini.

AUTOS, TRAINS, EVEN HATS. GO STREAMLINE

(Right)—While not completely streamlined, in accord with the more advanced engineering, the new Austro-Daimler car, recently tried out on the Long Island Railroad, made speeds of around 80 miles an hour. Travelling almost twice as fast as the conventional type trains, this car has a much lower operation-cost per passenger.

This car illustrates one of the first definite breaks with the old horse-and-carriage tradition in design.

Design for a sedan representing a complete streamlined revolution. The chassis is re-engineered from the ground up. Notice from the window spacing that passengers no longer sit over the rear wheels—important improvement in riding comfort. The blunt nose is another advance in streamlines design.
