This and that

- This is the last week of November. -Just three weeks from Tuesday will be Christmas. -Keep watch of the ads for Christmas shopping bargains. -Lovely mild weather. Just mention the fact to the coal dealers. -The hockey fans are beginning to get anxious for winter to set in. -As usual, the nominations and elections bring many surprises. -Jitney service will be free to the Post Office or Hydro Shop on Monday. -The hours of daylight in each twenty-four are very limited at this time of year. -Acton will have an election this year. Two years' seems the limit without a contest. -Mr. Wallace Swackhamer won third prize for Sheaf of Oats at the Royal Winter Fair this week. -Half a dozen cases for infractions of the Highway Traffic Act were disposed of in Police Court in Acton today. -Many from Acton and the district have attended the Royal Winter Fair this week and been delighted with the exhibits. -A group of young ladies held a handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Jessie Young at the home of Mrs. Wm. Ramsden on Friday evening. -"Jerry," the Boston bulldog owned by Dr. A. J. Buchanan, was hit by a motor truck and so seriously injured that he had to be destroyed. -Breeders of Hackney horses from Acton and district swept the class at the Royal Winter Fair. A list of the local winners will appear next week.

MILTON

Miss Bessie Dilworth, who has been staying with her aunts, the Misses Marshall, Trafalgar, for the past six months, died on Friday last.

Stanley Fay, plumber and tinsmith, has leased the store, one door east of H. L. Sherman's store, and is moving his stock into his new premises this week.

Several hunting parties have returned home during the past week, and all report excellent sport and a fine outing. H. M. Pettit, County Clerk, shot a deer and a timber wolf.

Fire, which neighbors' suggest might have been incendiary, totally destroyed a barn on the farm of Archie Speers, Middle Road, near Bronte, at 1.30 a. m. on Tuesday last. The Fire Brigade battled hopelessly against the blaze, but their efforts saved a neighboring building and silo.

Milton T. O. L. No. 2385, elected Will Boyes, of Zimmerman, Master, and Lawrence King, of Milton, Deputy Master. County Master W. Evans, of Oakville, and District Master T. Turner, of Cambridgeville, were present at the meeting. The election of officers will be completed in December.

Clarence Wilson, farmer, of Trafalgar Township, left last week with a carload of Suffolk rams for Dickson, California. The rams, which are owned by James Bowman, of Guelph, will be exhibited at the Dickson Fair, and then auctioned off to California ranchers for breeding purposes. This is Mr. Wilson's second trip with a carload of sheep for ranchers in California.—Champion.

Nomination Meeting a Lively Affair

The School Board, said this was the first opportunity he had had of speaking at a nomination meeting, as usually the first speakers took all the time. There were certain criticisms about the Board that he felt should be brought to rest. The past four years had been difficult ones and everyone had been hit badly. In 1931 the Board had cut $150 from their requisition to the municipality. In 1932 there had been a reduction of $1,150, and the same amount in 1933. In the past year, 1934, the reduction had been $2,800. In four years the Board had made a reduction of $5,200. Repairs had been kept up at the school in spite of this lower amount and efficiency unimpaired.

There had also been a drop in Provincial and County grants, and notices of these always came at a very inopportune time. There had been splendid results in the Public School, second to none in the Province. There was a good staff of teachers. The High School standard was better and was efficiently conducted. There were nearly 400 in attendance at the Public School and about 150 at the High School. He thanked all for the support accorded him in the past and was willing to do his duty as long as possible.

Mr. H. I. G. Fraser, a School Trustee, appreciated being re-nominated for the position again. He had served the past year with pleasure and if the electorate felt satisfied with his fulfillment of the office he would be glad of their support. He intended to stand for election.

Mr. F. E. McGeary thanked those who had nominated him for School Board. A new broom was supposed to sweep clean. He would do his best if elected to office.

Mr. L. G. King, Public Utilities Commissioner, felt he should defend his actions in connection with the new building. The duties of the Commission were to protect the consumers of light. They had nothing in common with the Murray Memorial Committee or the Council. Last year, at the nomination meeting, no one had gone on the platform to say that an office in the new building would be provided for the Public Utilities office. It had always been the ambition of the Commission to occupy a home of their own and when they saw a lot available it was considered well to secure it. He had no idea that the mortgage on the lot was held by Commissioner Kerr, but knew the lot was owned by Mr. Lindsay.

After plans had been made, the Commission had come to the Council. They had never refused to co-operate with the Murray Memorial Committee and Mr. King pointed out the number of extensions of time and delay that had been made to accommodate the Committee. They now had a splendid office quarters, possibly better than the other building would have been. If, however, the same thing came up again, the Y. M. C. A. would never have been on this lot. He felt the Commission could take a little credit for bringing the issue to a head.

Differences of opinion were readily forgotten and he hoped to be able to carry on harmoniously. There was $4,500 in bonds in the bank, and a working capital of $1,500 to $2,000. The Commission was in good financial condition. They were willing to survey the plan of electric heat for the building but the installation cost, he felt, would be prohibitive. He thanked all for their support in the past. Mr. King has another year in office and was not seeking re-election at this time.

Commissioner R. J. Kerr thanked those who had placed him in nomination for the third term. If the electors had read THE FREE PRESS they had followed the proceedings because everything was there and nothing held back. He had never been opposed to the Murray Memorial building or any other town improvement. The building had been talked of last year but no mention made of office quarters for the Commission. He did not hold the mortgage at the time of the sale of the lot. There had been some talk that the Murray Memorial building would never be finished. The Commission had asked the Council for something definite but was not going to give up the lot until something was assured. The present office was not fit for the conduct of business. He was right for the new building and was ready to put up a dollar or two if necessary. He would like to have a year or two in the new home.

Councillor Jones—How would the tin building look at the back of the new building?

Mr. Kerr—Just as well as some of the stuff lying about there now.

Mr. Jones—Are you going to move this building to the lot, at the rear?

Mr. Kerr—It is the intention to put it there and you can think what you like regarding the looks.

Reeve Theford was again to the platform to say that at the first meeting this year the small office building of the Commission had been proposed and rushed on. He had asked the Commission to drop the matter until the new building got under way.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

The plastering of the walls in the gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A. has now been finished. Much of the second story has also received a first coat.

The heating system at the new Y. M. C. A. building is being connected up temporarily until the plasterers can complete their work.
