LOCALS

—Mostly Fair Notes this week.

—Every Director did his job and the result was a smooth running organization.

—The Fair Night Dance in the Town Hall last night drew a splendid attendance.

—The arena show came within 21 people of setting a new attendance record.

—Norton Motors had a very attractive exhibit of cars and tractors on the Fair ground.

—And the smiles of officers and directors have not worn off. All are pleased with the 1937 event.

—The loud-speaker system was so satisfactory that it has already been booked for the Fair of 1938.

—Acton Citizens' Band supplied a splendid musical program both days of the Fair and led the parades.

—Milton was eliminated in baseball yesterday by Oshawa. They lost the first game in Oshawa on Saturday, too.

—The new track improvements enabled a new track record to be established. The races were the best seen here in many years.

—Acton Fair has been dealt with most graciously in the matter of good weather. There is true cause for thankfulness by all again this year.

—What would Acton Fair do without R. J. Kerr? In V. B. Rumley and J. M. McDonald he is coaching a couple of very capable assistants.

—Ex-Reeve Harrison, now of Toronto, was again at his place in the ticket booth, handing out a smile with every ticket and a cheery greeting.

—There were plenty of rest places available for those who grew tired. Robinson's tent was popular and several registered at the Registration Booth.

—The accident to Miss Young, of Norval, who was thrown from a saddle horse at the Fair was regretted. It was the only mishap of the two days.

—Some beautifully colored specimens of gourds have been on view in THE FREE PRESS window. They were shown through the courtesy of W. Evans, Acton, and W. Tuck, Georgetown.

—The Boy Scouts did a number of good turns for the Fair. They had charge of the grandstand, the registration booth and distributed programs. They were courteous and efficient.

—Splendid commercial exhibits in the hall at the Fair were by Regent Woods, for B. D. Rachlin, Beatty Bros., electric appliances, J. R. Leishman with Westinghouse radios, and J. N. Reid.

—Provincial engineers were in town yesterday taking levels and measurements with a view to improving three or four blocks of the highway through town. It is expected the work will be undertaken at once.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS IN ARREARS

Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken or not. Obituary

MISS JESSIE WILLIAMSON

The funeral of the late Jessie Anne Williamson, daughter of the late Miss Mann and David Williamson, of Guelph, formerly of Acton, was held Thursday afternoon from McIntyre's funeral home to Fairview Cemetery, Acton. Rev. Dr. A. J. MacGillivray officiated at the services.

Born 62 years ago at Richmond Hill, Miss Williamson had resided in Guelph for forty years. She was a cousin of the late Sir Donald Mann. Though in poor health for some time, her death came as a severe shock to her relatives and a wide circle of friends.

She was a member of Knox Presbyterian Church, and until recently, was an active worker in the Ladies' Aid and the Missionary Society. She was for several years a teacher at McCormick's Business College, but had lived retired for the past eighteen years.

She leaves to mourn her loss, Mrs. E. Williamson, a niece, Jessie Williamson, and a nephew, John Williamson.

The pall-bearers were: J. Anderson, H. Heather, D. Anderson, F. Sweetman, T. Lawrence, and J. Williamson.

MRS. ALEXANDER P. SCOTT, Toronto

Friends here were shocked to learn of the sudden death on Tuesday of last week of Mrs. Alex. P. Scott, of Toronto. She had been going around as usual and on Saturday had participated in a game of bowls. On Sunday she suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which she failed to rally and passed away on Tuesday.

Mrs. Scott was before her marriage, Miss Lillian B. Nelson, and a resident of Acton. Following her marriage she resided in Brampton and since the death of her husband, fourteen years ago, has resided in Toronto. One son, Dr. John Scott, of Erin, and a daughter, Miss Constance, of Toronto, remain. Three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Warren, Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, and Miss M. E. Nelson, all of Acton, also remain. To those so suddenly bereaved sympathy of many friends in this home town goes out at this time. Numerous floral tributes bore some testimony to the esteem in which Mrs. Scott was held.

The funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon, at the home of her sisters, Mrs. Kennedy and Miss Nelson, in Acton. Service was conducted by Rev. E. M. Morrow, and Rev. Merner, of Erin. Interment was made in Brampton Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. E. Charters, C. A. G. Matthews and C. C. Henderson, of Toronto; J. C. Matthews, A. T. Brown and John Wood.

MRS. A. L. HEMSTREET

Friends in Acton and elsewhere were indeed shocked to learn of the death on Sunday, 12th inst., of Mrs. A. L. Hemstreet. She had been able to be about a week previously and had been removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in Guelph for treatment just a few days prior to her death.

Born in Campbellville, she was a daughter of the late James and Jennie Easterbrook. She had resided in Milton and Toronto for a few years. Nine years ago she was joined in holy wedlock to A. L. Hemstreet, who survives her. Seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. Hemstreet came to reside in Acton, on Lakeview Farm, and have been esteemed residents of this community since that time. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Hemstreet was a member of the Anglican Church and was for several years organist at St. John's Church in Nassagaweya. Since her marriage she has been a member of the United Church and faithful in attendance and interested in the advancement of the work.

Besides her sorrowing husband, she leaves four sisters and two brothers: Mrs. D. M. Johnston, of Rochester, Minn.; Mrs. W. S. Chisholm, Milton; Mrs. W. J. Moore, Toronto; Mrs. C. W. Johnston, Edmonton, Alta.; W. J. Easterbrook, Winnipeg, Man.; John Easterbrook, Edmonton, Alta. To all of these sympathy of many friends goes out in their bereavement. One sister, Mrs. J. Agnew, and a brother, N. C. Easterbrook, predeceased her.

The funeral was held on Wednesday of last week, with service at the home at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. M. Morrow, her pastor. At the graveside, Evergreen Cemetery, Milton, Rev. Canon Naftel assisted in the service. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Cecil Chisholm, Stanley Chisholm, Harold Agnew, Clair Morden, Grant Cummings and A. McIsaac.

LLOYD D. DINGLE
Conservative Candidate for Halton in Provincial Election

Burlington, Ontario,
September 20th, 1937

TO THE PEOPLE OF HALTON COUNTY:

In this Pletter I wish to discuss the question known as the Hydro issue, but before doing so, I shall refer briefly to Mr. Blakelock's letter of last week.

Mr. Blakelock's comments on my letter setting out my standing on labor problems and the C.I.O. in no way affect the strength of my arguments on this question. It is interesting to note that since my letter was written, Hon. Norman Rogers, Liberal Minister of Labor at Ottawa, speaking at Kingston, came out emphatically against Mr. Hepburn on this question, to the great disappointment of the Globe & Mail, which stated in an editorial that Mr. Rogers would have been more helpful to the Hepburn Government "if he had stayed at home."

I shall discuss the question of Succession Duties in a later letter.

* * *

Early in 1935 certain contracts between the Hydro-Electric Power Commission and certain Quebec Power Companies for the supply of power to the Hydro were cancelled by the Hepburn Government. To justify this action the present Government made the most definite statements to the effect that this power was not required, that millions of dollars were being spent for nothing, and further, that the Hydro-Electric generating plants in Ontario were capable of delivering all the power that was required.

A few months after the Quebec contracts were cancelled, viz: in December, 1935, on account of increasing demand for power, the Hydro was forced to negotiate new contracts with the Quebec Companies, and at the present time these new contracts amount to a total of 456,000 h.p.

The cost of power last year under the new contracts was approximately 30% more than under a contract that had been repudiated. This statement appeared in a recent issue of the "Electrical News and Engineering," and is substantiated by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission's report for 1936 in which it shows that during 1936 power amounting to 791,039,800 kilowatt hours was purchased by Hydro from the Quebec Power Companies, and for this power the Commission paid $2,894,228.04, making a rate, therefore, of 3.5 mills per kilowatt hour. As against this in the Hydro report for 1935 where the terms of the cancelled contract with one of the Quebec Companies are set out, the cost works out at 2.7 mills per kilowatt hour.

With reference to the question of a power shortage, I would refer to an article headed, "Danger of Power Shortage," in a recent issue of the "Electric News and Engineering," above referred to. This periodical is a technical journal which for more than half a century has accurately expressed Canadian engineering opinion and which is not influenced by political expediency but is concerned only in the welfare of the Province. This article explains the existing situation on the Niagara Power System, and points out that there is a reserve of only 120,000 H.P. of which at least 60,000 H.P. will be required this winter, leaving only some 60,000 H.P. for emergencies. Referring to this reserve, the article says:

"Under normal circumstances such a reserve would be totally inadequate for a system having a firm load in excess of 1,000,000 H.P., but for the Niagara System, which is subject to the vagaries of the Niagara River plants, it is dangerously small for operating conditions and totally inadequate for further growth."

These are the facts: There is undoubtedly a power shortage, and at the present time Hydro is paying more for power from Quebec than it would have been obliged to pay under the cancelled contracts.

But this is not the worst feature of the stand of the present Government on the Hydro question. The most serious issue is the attitude of this Government toward the law courts of this Province.

One of the most important foundations of the British system of government is the principle that our courts shall be free from political influence and shall be open to all alike. Yet we find this principle not only threatened, but entirely disregarded by the Hepburn Government.

A few months ago certain power companies brought action against the Hydro-Electric Power Commission in the Supreme Court of Ontario. After hearing the case the presiding judge gave judgment ordering Hydro to pay the power companies a sum amounting to many thousands of dollars. Not satisfied with this decision, Premier Hepburn and his then Attorney-General, the Hon. Mr. Roebuck, appealed the case to the Court of Appeal, which is the highest court in Ontario. The Court of Appeal also gave judgment in favor of the power companies and against Hydro. On hearing of this, Premier Hepburn referred to the decision of the highest court in the Province of Ontario, as "a hogshead of law and a thimbleful of justice."

So far the conduct of Hon. Mr. Hepburn in this matter was unbecoming the Premier of this great Province, insulting to a body of men sworn to do their duty impartially, and opposed to the public interest because of the fact that, with people who did not know Premier Hepburn, it cast an unfair reflection upon the undoubted integrity of the highest court in the Province of Ontario.

But Mr. Hepburn did not stop at this. With the judgment given by the Court of Appeal standing against Hydro, the power companies were entitled to issue instructions to the Sheriff to seize any property of Hydro available and sell it in order to pay the power companies the amount owing to them. Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Roebuck forced through the Legislature a bill which has been called the Roebuck Act, and which expressly forbade any Sheriff, Bailiff or other officer from taking any steps to collect any judgment from Hydro.

Now do you appreciate the extraordinary situation?

The highest court in Ontario had made an order that Hydro should pay these power companies certain monies. The Roebuck Act made this court order worthless by prohibiting the officers of the court from taking any steps to enforce the order.

Please note that this act, known as the Roebuck Act, did not merely shut out the power companies from collecting the amount owing to them. It prevents ANY PERSON from collecting a just debt from the Hydro. This means that if you or I should be struck down by a motor car owned by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, we might bring suit against Hydro for damages and might get a judgment of the court in our favor, BUT WE WOULD BE POWERLESS TO COLLECT IT. It places Hydro in a favored position, in fact makes it judgment proof. It can incur debts as it wishes, break our laws with impunity, and we are left without any remedy whatsoever.

The principle that every person shall have recourse to the courts of this country is one of the fundamentals of British liberty. According to the British system of government our judges are sworn to administer the law impartially and without fear or favor. When the government step in, as it did in the Hydro case, and overrules the decision of the courts this is political interference with the administration of justice and makes the ruling of the judges a mere farce. When the practice of bringing political influence to bear once begins, no one knows where it will end; and if it continues it will make the administration of justice in this Province no longer something to be proud of, but an offence to all right-thinking people.

On the principle involved in the Roebuck Act, that of repudiating the courts, Mr. Hepburn and his Government stand alone. And yet Mr. Hepburn has made this question; the Hydro question, an issue in this election and asks you to go to the polls and vote for him and his candidates in order to show that you approve of his muzzling of the courts!

The decision rests with you. But I have confidence that when the people, not only of Halton County but of this Province, realize, as they must, that the Hepburn Government is a menace to our British institutions, I have confidence that they will not vote away their birthright.

The Liberal-Conservative Party and its leader, the Hon Mr Rowe, whom I have the honor to follow, stands for a Hydro-Electric Power Commission free from political domination and control and for a system of administration of justice under which the courts of this Province shall be open to all alike. There should not be one law for one person and another law for someone else. On this ground I ask your support.

Yours faithfully,

LLOYD D. DINGLE,
Liberal-Conservative Candidate

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church held their September meeting in the vestry of the church, with the President, Mrs. Will Gilbertson, in charge. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. Mrs. George Robertson read the scripture and a lengthy business period took place. Final arrangements were made for the fowl supper, also for catering to the plowing match at Fergus. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. W. Lowrie, and a social half hour spent with Mrs. W. Milne and Mrs. W. Lowrie as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and family, of Guelph, spent Sunday in the home of Mr. George Smith and Miss M. Smith.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wilson recently were Mr. and Mrs. Scott, of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. Will Grieves, Brantford; Mr. James Nickell, Misses Vivian and Jean and Mr. Jack, of Detroit; Mrs. Graham, of Winnipeg; Mrs. Weatherall, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Nickell, of Limehouse.

Mr. Melvin Taylor and sons, Harold and Clarence, of Jasper Park, Alberta, are visiting in the home of Mr. John Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Borthwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Scott spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Duffield, Oustic.

Master Billie Wright and his chum, Master Billie Graham, of Toronto, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright.

A very pleasant event took place on Tuesday evening, when the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Black and presented Miss Winnie with a miscellaneous shower on the occasion of her approaching marriage to Mr. Frank Richardson.

The many friends of Dr. Gordon Stevenson will be pleased to learn he is making a good recovery from his recent illness; also Mr. Ted Barden is improving from his injuries in an accident in his father's mill.
