The Post Office is being repainted and greatly improved in appearance.

Workmen are repairing the bridge on Brock Street, and putting on a new cement top.

Milton Fair was not granted a very good day. The heavy rain marred this usually splendid event.

J. Checkley, of Rockwood, was robbed of $140 to $180 by pickpockets on Guelph market on Saturday.

Fire completely destroyed the house and contents of W. O. Dennis, in Trafalgar Township, on Saturday.

Quite a number from Acton attended Brampton Fair on Wednesday. It was favored with beautiful weather.

Mr. J. Herag is building a dwelling apartment on the premises on Park Avenue, adjoining his blacksmith shop.

It's not often that Halton has four candidates in the Provincial field. But it's within one of quintuplets this year.

Polling booths in Acton will be at the Town Hall, for Subdivision Number One, and at the Y.M.C.A. and Woodhall's store, for Pulling Subdivision Number Two.

Little Marjorie Norton, daughter of Mr. W. Norton, had the misfortune to fall off a fence at the Park on Field Day and fracture her right arm above the elbow.

A sale of horses at the Fitzpatrick farm is drawing a good deal of attention. The animals seem of a type needed by the farmers and include a number of Percherons.

99th CHURCHILL ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, September 26th, and on Monday, September 27th, Churchill United Church celebrated its ninety-ninth anniversary.

Rev. E. W. Broadway, of Pilgrim Church, Hamilton, a former pastor, preached at both morning and evening services.

He brought to the congregation not only happy memories but messages of inspiration for the future.

The Choir, under the leadership of Mr. John Smith and with Miss Akitt as pianist provided a helpful worship in music.

They were assisted in the morning by Miss Kitching, of Guelph, and Mrs. Gardner, of Acton. To these were added, in the evening, Rev. George I. Stephenson, Mrs. Stephenson and daughters, of Brantford.

On Monday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Association, the annual fall supper was held. The shed decorated with autumn leaves, made a real banquet hall.

The supper was an undoubted success, its good management and excellent bill of fare, a credit to the ladies. It was followed by a program.

To this Acton Concert Orchestra made a most generous contribution. Mrs. Kirkness, Miss Kitching, Miss Akitt, Miss Foreman, Mrs. Black and members of her class all gave much appreciated numbers.

The vocal and instrumental music provided by Misses Marion Leslie, Dorothy Church, Marie Stewart, Eleanor Alton and Anna Jackson, all pupils of Mrs. Black, showed that this community does not have to depend entirely on the radio for its entertainment.

Rev. A. O. W. Foreman brought greetings from Ballinacree.

Churchill congregation is now looking forward to its one hundredth anniversary, one year from now.

LOYD D. DINGLE Liberal-Conservative Candidate for Election in Provincial Election

TO THE PEOPLE OF HALTON COUNTY

In this letter I wish to discuss the question of Succession Duties and also the question of Patronage.

I am very glad that Mr. Brynna has written to me, because I realize that I am not an authority on the problems of the farmer and I am always ready to learn.

Mr. Brynna seems to be basing his argument on the assumption that the cost of living is lower.

The fact is that it is incorrect to say that the cost of living is lower. The cost of living has been steadily rising.

Relief for the farmer will not come from a government refund in taxes. This is like a gift of the crumbs from a rich man's table.

Premier Hepburn has endeavored to make the collection of Succession Duties an issue in this election campaign.

This promise of Mr. Hepburn's is preposterous. No person can tell who is going to die within the next five years.

The Ontario Conservative Government immediately took steps to use this legislation to force large estates to make a true and accurate disclosure of assets.

In 1930 when markets were crashing in the greatest depression Canada has ever known, the Conservative Government collected in Succession Duties $11,229,436.

Contrast Premier Hepburn's promise to collect $75,000,000 in Succession Duties.

a promise which is not founded on fact but is merely an empty boast.

"I decided to power, I will continue to power, I will continue to power."

The question of collecting Succession Duties is not an issue in this election.

The attempt of Mr. Hepburn to make it appear that a Conservative Government would be the friend of tax evaders will be rejected by all thinking people.

Which can you trust - Mr. Hepburn's empty boast, or Mr. Rowe's definite pledge?

The Patronage System of the present administration has not been stated by Mr. Hepburn to be an issue in this election.

Almost the first act of the Hepburn Government was to introduce the vicious Tammany Hall Spoils System.

In the 1934 election campaign Mr. Hepburn had boasted that he would start an exodus of civil servants from Queen's Park.

There was not even a show of fairness about the present Government's treatment of the civil servants.

Without even a moment's notice, employees of many years' standing were dismissed.

In 1934 Mr. Hepburn talked glibly of abolishing highly paid Tory commissions.

The result of all this is the people of the Province of Ontario have a generally inexperienced, highly political Civil Service in exchange for an experienced non-political one.

But by far the most disgraceful feature of the patronage system of the Hepburn Government is the fact that party politics have entered into the giving of jobs on the Provincial Highways.

Use in condemning it. This practice has been carried on by the present Government to such an extent that I am told many people in the Town of Oakville are afraid to attend large Conservative political meetings.

Under a newly organized Civil Service Commission the qualifications for employment in the public service of Ontario will be merit and ability, rather than political allegiance.

And speaking at Oakville on September 11th, Mr. Rowe said in no uncertain terms that he would finish the highway work started by the Hepburn Government.

Can there be any question as to which leader is taking the better stand for good government in this Province?

Yours faithfully, LOYD D. DINGLE Liberal-Conservative Candidate

The children were having a nature lesson. Presently the teacher placed a bowl of goldfish on the table.

"How did your wife like the diamond brooch you gave her for her birthday?"

"Delighted! She was awfully nice to me for a couple of days but she's herself again now."

SHOWER OF GIFTS FOR BRIDE

Last Friday evening about forty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman to hold a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Kate Freeman.

A short program was given with Mr. Jas. Russell in the chair. A duet was sung by Misses Helen McEachern and Rhoe Burgess, entitled "The Wedding of Jack and Jill," after which Mr. Frank Burgess gave a poem, "The Father of the Bride."

Dear Elsie: It is with great pleasure that we, your friends and neighbors, are gathered here to-night to extend to you, congratulations upon your marriage, and to wish you much happiness in the new sphere of life which you are about to enter.

We have always known your character to be one of sterling worth and we feel that you have shown the young people a very good example by the love and devotion you have given your parents.

As slight remembrances of our affection and good will, we wish you to accept these gifts, not merely for their material value, but for their genuine good feeling, which they carry with them.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors, MABEL J. BUTLER, MARY McEACHERN, LYDIA C. KERR, VERA McEACHERN.

The basket laden with gifts was carried in by Mrs. H. McEachern and Miss Dorothy Burgess, and Misses Vera McEachern and Beatrice Graft, who presented them to the bride-to-be.

Miss Freeman responded in a very gracious manner, after which all heartily

A MAN HONORED IN HIS OWN COUNTRY

Fellow citizens of Gwillimbury Township, who know Earl Rowe best, are enthusiastic admirers of his sterling character and gift for leadership

A Public Servant For 22 Years!

If you had a large scale map of Ontario, you would find Gwillimbury Township marked in the County of Simcoe. But you would have to possess a very large scale map indeed, to locate the town of Newton Robinson.

This little dot of a town is beginning to find itself in print frequently these days. The citizens feel that this is only to be expected because one of their own boys, Earl Rowe, is going to be, they are confident, Premier-Elect of Ontario the night of October 6th.

Some of the old-time proverbs are wearing a little thin these modern days and that well-known one - "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country" means nothing, simply nothing, to these sturdy citizens of Gwillimbury. They honor Earl Rowe because they know and admire him; the oldsters have been watching him for twenty-two years, ever since he was elected a Township Councillor on his 21st birthday.

Reaches Cabinet Rank They start then young in public service in these Ontario towns but only one in ten thousand goes ahead to the Provincial Legislature - only one in a hundred thousand keeps going until he reaches Cabinet rank at Ottawa. Such a man is Earl Rowe - and Gwillimbury Township has followed, with pride, every step of his progress.

The most important events in this young man's twenty-two years of public service can be briefly summarized:

1915 - Elected to Council of Gwillimbury Township.

1916 - Elected Reeve - re-elected each year for five years.

1923 - Elected to Ontario Legislature.

1925 - Elected to Federal Parliament.

1930 - Re-elected.

1935 - Promoted to the Cabinet by Honourable R. B. Bennett, then Prime Minister. Re-elected to Federal Parliament.

1936 - Unanimously selected as leader of the Ontario Liberal-Conservative Party.

A Happy Family Earl Rowe, whenever his public duties will permit, hurries back to Newton Robinson. For there, he finds awaiting him his sturdy red brick house - his wife and three fine children - his 225 acres of farm land - his pure-bred Yorkshire swine, Durham cattle, registered Clydesdales - his old Township friends.

One cannot hope to understand a public man solely by observing him in the midst of public affairs in Toronto or Ottawa. Follow Earl Rowe back to Newton Robinson - have a meal with him in his big kitchen - walk with him over his fertile acres - see him feeding his swine and his cattle - talk with his aged parents, who live across the road. Then you would realize even more fully than ever before how completely this man possesses that something without which all else is so much chaff - and that something is CHARACTER.

Heredity must get some of the credit. The Conservative leader comes from old British stock which settled in Simcoe County many, many years ago. His father, still active at 88 and his mother, eight years younger, were farm folk, and Earl Rowe, when little more than a youngster, bought his farm from his father on credit and paid every cent of his debt from his profits as a dirt farmer.

Virtues of the Soil On his typical Ontario farm - in his typical rural Ontario residence - Earl Rowe leads the regular routine of a farmer when his Parliamentary work does not call him to the cities. His is a friendly home - made happy by the presence of his wife, and his children, Jean aged 17, Bill aged 13 and Lennox aged 8. Here are enshrined the homely virtues of the soil - those virtues which since earliest days have given strength of character to so many of Canada's greatest public servants.

HON. EARL ROWE

A Warm Personality This has been written of Earl Rowe by a long-time associate.

"The warmth of his personality is contagious. One cannot come into his presence without feeling his force and sincerity, tempered by a natural kindness and interest in his fellow-men and their problems. With his splendid ideals, backed by long and honourable Parliamentary experience, he is uniquely equipped to make a great contribution to the public life of Ontario."

Newton Robinson isn't seeing much of Earl Rowe these days.

It is a blessing that he is still in the prime of life and health, for he has mapped out a speaking program which will keep him moving back and forth through Ontario until the eve of October 6th. His friends are glad of this because they know that every man or woman who shakes his hand, who comes under the influence of his warm personality, will say, "This is the type of leader Ontario needs." For that's the kind of man Earl Rowe is - likeable, sincere, earnest - a statesman whose good character and good judgment are written indelibly in the record of his twenty-two years of public service.

You Can Trust ROWE VOTE CONSERVATIVE Issued by the Liberal-Conservative Party of Ontario.
