Milton

Walter A. Laidlaw, a native of Halton County, passed away at Minneapolis, Minn., on October 23rd.

Mrs. E. Marshall, of St. John, N.B., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hilyer.

Rev. Canon L. J. R. and Mrs. Nettie, of Milton, attended the funeral of his sister, the late Mrs. Robert Hambly, of Detroit, who died in that city on Tuesday, November 22nd, and was buried in Maitland Gardens, Georgetown, on Friday last.

The Coronation pictures, shown by Dr. Leslie King, in the school room of Knox Church, were much enjoyed by all present, particularly as since the doctor had taken the pictures himself, and they were an exact interpretation of the Coronation as he saw it.

When the car in which she was riding collided with another and overturned at an intersection in Milton Heights last Saturday night, Mrs. Samuel Wilson, 38, R. No. 3, Milton, was seriously injured. Gordon Gallagher, driver, received minor injuries. Otto Sproule, driver of the other car, suffered minor bruises, although Miss Doris Thompson, a passenger in his automobile, received painful back injuries.—Champion

Oakville

Chicken thieves appear to have selected S. MacLean, Trafalgar, as a favorite victim. On Monday night Mr. MacLean's hen-house was broken into for the third time this year and a number of hens stolen.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Porter will be sorry to hear that Bart received a very serious injury while playing basketball in Kirkland Lake where he is now in the hospital. This accident occurred on October 28th, and on Friday an operation was necessary. Mr. Porter is still in a critical condition.

According to a dispatch from London, appearing in the Tuesday issue of a Toronto newspaper, Bert Peer, of Oakville, who is playing hockey in the Old Country, received injuries which will put him out of the game for the rest of the season. Peer crashed into the board while playing in a London Cup game, sustaining broken bones in both arms, and an injured spine.

Definite assurance that Oakville will get its much-talked-of Post Office was given to the Record-Star last evening by Hugh Cleaver, of Burlington, M.P., for Halton. The Post Office Department has finally selected a site for the building, the lot immediately adjoining the property of the Red Indian service station, on the south-east corner of Colborne and George Streets.—Record-Star.

RIDDLES

What is the difference between a sailor and a broken clock?
One goes to sea and the other ceases to go.

Why is a frog like a clock?
Because they both move by springs.

What kind of vegetables are always found in apples?
Two peas. (Two p's.)

Why is the sea like a weather-glass?
Because its always rising and falling.

What sort of horse is no use for pulling a cart?
A clothes-horse.

Why are jazz band musicians cruel?
Because they give their instruments many blows.

Remembrance
If anything could make us wish to forget the 11th of November, it would be the flood of books produced about the war and who won it, the peace and who failed to make it, the statesmen and who blundered most.

Standing at the Cenotaph last Thursday, we noticed young men in the twenties grown up since the war. We thought of some questions that might be running through their minds.

What was it all about? What cause did you defend? What result of the war do you commemorate? Some of those questions cannot be answered fully here. Perhaps they were asking, "Why should we go on remembering something we have only heard second hand?" "What is this emotion you seem to feel so vividly as Armistice Day comes round? Are your feelings so deep that you can never share them with us?"

We hear some people say, "What did we get out of the war?" The answer is, "We did not fight to get something, but to keep something." Germany's slogan was "World Power or Downfall." This slogan was aimed at the British Empire. Her plan was to defeat Russia and France, annex Holland and Belgium, and then plunder and humiliate our Empire, and if the Empire had not fought, that plan would have succeeded.

Today we are in the mood to bury the hatchet. That is the British temper. We are bad haters, but we must not, nor shall we ever forget the cause for which we fought.

If you fellow in the 'twenties' wish to understand the war and its cause, read "General Von Sinek." I hope it is in our library. If you want to know what the war was like, read, "Under Fire," or "The Secret Battle," one tells of France, the other of Gallipoli. If you heard Rev. Mr. Bennie read the poem about the man with no face, you will perhaps understand the emotions and feelings of ex-service men and those who were in the homes of ex-service men. There were tears in the eyes of at least one veteran during that reading. He told us after the service that he had seen a man with no legs, no arms, and his eyes had been gouged out by the enemy the Turks. How can he forget that?

And so this question of emotions can be given a clear answer. It is that those who experienced the war, at the front or in the homes of those who were at the front, cannot share their emotions with others. They can only say that the war taught them to try to be better men and women through the memory of those they knew and lost. Then again, these men have learnt that duty is a better thing than selfishness, and that the discipline they went through is as good for the soul as it is for the body and they are enjoying a wonderful happiness (the best) through their unselfishness. Yet some of these men have been walking our streets for years, depending mostly on grass cutting, window cleaning, snow shovelling, etc., helping each other, and yet help comes quite often from many unexpected quarters.

We stood, then, last Thursday, at the gravesides of the glorious dead, hoping to see them again in the heavenly country and we thank God for the lessons they have taught us of duty and devotion.

Erin

We are pleased to report that Canon Weaver, who is a patient at the Private Patients' Pavilion, General Hospital, Toronto, is convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton, of Mimosa, have purchased from D. L. Mundell, the residence which has been occupied by Mrs. Chisholm. They will get possession about December 1st.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hurten honored them with a surprise in the form of a dinner at their home on Saturday evening, it being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding.

War veterans of Erin and Alton paraded to Erin Church of Christ for divine service last Sunday afternoon. Pastor Richardson conducted the service and delivered the message. He also accepted the wreath from the Province of Ontario to the local veterans' organization, which they in turn presented to the church.

As he carried the mail from the north-bound train into the Ingewood Post Office on Wednesday evening, November 3rd, Ernest F. Davidson, 57, collapsed and died. He was unmarried. Engaged as mail carrier for the past eight months, he was noted as a poet, writing under the nom de plume of Dundonald.—Advocate.

PERIAPS

Diner: "Here, waitress, take this chick on away. It's as tough as a paving-stone."

Waitress: "Maybe it's a Plymouth Rock, sir."

ECONOMIC PARADISE

"I hear your country is prosperous. Never better. We've got a shortage of food, clothing, machinery and luxuries."

If your teacher asks you to write an essay, what should it be on?

Paper.

What is the difference between a bird with one wing and a bird with two? A difference of a piston.

Obituary

MRS. J. E. DREDGE
Annie Christina Holmes, beloved wife of the late John E. Dredge, Guelph Road, Nasaagawaya, died at the Guelph General Hospital on Saturday, November 13th.

Her husband predeceased her on May 13th, 1918. She is survived by an only son, Ernest, who resides on the farm; and two sisters, Catherine Inalls, Guelph; and Rebecca Lowrey, of Rockwood.

Except for a brief sojourn in Guelph, she lived in Nasaagawaya all her life. She was a daughter of the late Marshall and Mary Holmes.

An ardent worker in the Nasaagawaya Presbyterian Church; in the Women's Institute; and all community welfare, her place will be difficult to fill. She was a life member of the Women's Missionary Society.

At the funeral, held on Tuesday, at 2:00 p.m., Rev. Mr. Lawson officiated. The pall-bearers were: Dr. Fred Croft, Robert Croft, Douglas Gowdy, John Holmes, Ross Holmes and Robert Lowrey—all nephews of the deceased. Interment was made in the Nasaagawaya Cemetery.

WM. J. DENNIS, stockwood
The death occurred on Sunday, November 7th, of William J. Dennis at his home, Harris Street, Rockwood, after an illness of two months. Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dennis, and was born in Yorkshire, England, seventy-eight years ago, and came to this country at the age of eighteen, with his family. Settling in Pickering, they remained a few years, until their removal to Rockwood, in which district he has resided ever since. Of a large family, three brothers and three sisters survive. Anthony, of West Luthery, Arthur, of Guelph, George, of Puslinch, Mrs. Thos. Watson, Guelph; Mrs. Emma Lang, Brantford, and Mrs. Gilbert Pannabecker, of Hamilton.

He was united in marriage to Emily Lamb, youngest daughter of the late John Lamb, of Nasaagawaya Township, who, with one son and four daughters, remain to mourn the loss and reverse the memory of a kind husband and a devoted father.

They are Mrs. Melvin Burns, Rockwood; John C., on the homestead; Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Moffat, Hazel, Heg N., Guelph; Mrs. Errol Sprowl, Esquimau.

The late Mr. Dennis had enjoyed good health up until two months ago, when he became ill with an ailment from which he failed to rally.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon of last week, with a private service at the residence at two o'clock, followed by a public service at 2:30 o'clock in the Rockwood United Church. Rev. P. H. Lawson conducted the service and interment was made in Rockwood Cemetery. The pallbearers were: H. B. Hosking, Chas. H. Harris, John A. Little, George Graham, William E. Pastore and Frank Day. The flower bearers were Edward Pastore, Alex. McPhedran, Chas. McNabb, Raymond Dean, Arthur Harris and Wayne Howell.

Moral tributes were beautiful and included those from the following: Willow, the family, wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Pannabecker, Nellie and Alice, sprays, from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leishman; Mr. and Mrs. Halton Leishman, Adelle and Junior, the neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. P. Dean and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Dennis, Bessie and Marjory Simpson, Etta Stewart and Mae and Howard Bolton, Newstead and Nichols, Principal and Teachers of Guelph Central School; Guelph Public School Teachers' Association, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rife, Rockwood Women's Institute, Emma Schumann, Cyril Knight and the family, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Hewitt.

Tobacco Queen

More than 3,000 persons voiced their approval when Olive Etzel (above) blonde beauty, was chosen tobacco queen of Canada at the first Canadian tobacco carnival, held at Tillsonburg, Ontario. Miss Etzel, 22-year-old-Tillsonburg bank clerk, is a non-smoker, but apparently her beauty overcame that small difficulty. The throne on which the tobacco queen is shown seated was "constructed" from baled tobacco.

THIS WEEK'S PUZZLE POEM IS TIMELY

My first comes with the Summer, the Winter and the Spring,
My second is it brought, but you can't see it in bring;
My third is all ways beautiful, my fourth "you'll see" in mind,
My fifth, if you look far enough, in every girl and lad,
My sixth is always in the West, but not in North or South,
My seventh on everybody's lips, but never in the mouth;
My eighth, is in a din or noise, my ninth in tower or steeples,
My tenth is not in any folk, yet present with all people.

Eleven and twelve adds much to grief, but only one to grieve,
My last three letters you will find in what most people breathe.

The whole thing happens once a year, and quite a worthy cause,
Don't think of Christmas, for I vow it is not Santa Clause.
