MARKETING BY GRADE

Marketing by grade, as represented by the increasing sale of branded beef over several years, is becoming popular in Canada, proving conclusively that the assertion "Grading takes the hazard out of buying" is true, particularly in the case of beef.

A red ribbon-like mark running along the full length of the carcass denotes the Choice Brand; a similar mark in blue signifies the Good grade, so that when the beef is cut up a section of the brand appears on every important cut.

The following recipes are taken from the 52-page illustrated bulletin, "Beef and How to Choose and Cook It" which may be obtained from the Publicity and Extension Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, free on application.

ROAST BEEF

Wipe off with a damp cloth. Rub well with salt and sprinkle with pepper. Place the fat side up in an open roasting pan. If roast is very lean, place additional layer of suet on top. Place roast in hot oven of 450 degrees F. and roast 15-20 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and continue roasting, allowing 15-18 minutes to the pound, according to how well done the roast is desired.

SIRLOIN STEAK, BROILED

Wipe steak with cloth wrung from cold water. Trim off superfluous fat. Grease broiler with fat, place meat on broiler, and broil until surface and then the other. When both surfaces have been seared, reduce heat and complete cooking. Steak should be cut 1/2 inches thick. Time for broiling 12 to 15 minutes. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, and butter. Remove to hot serving platter and another with salted mushrooms.

FILLET MIGNON, MAITRE D'HOTEL BUTTER

Cut beef tenderloin in slices 1 1/2 inches thick trim in circular shape, surround with a thin slice of bacon, fasten with a small wooden skewer and broil 6 minutes in a hot, well-greased frying pan, turning often. Remove to hot serving platter and spread generously with Maitre d'Hotel butter. Surround with broiled mushrooms.

SEWING A DECLINING ART

More than 27,000,000 American women never have learned to sew, according to a report from the National Retail Dry Goods Association. The merchants, who want to sell their piece goods in something like the quantities they did in Oranama's day, viewed with alarm the reports that 92 per cent of United States homes have sewing machines, but only 10,000,000 out of 42,000,000 women know how to take their own stitches.

The remainder, the association's committee on home sewing promotion said, "Do little or no sewing because they have never been taught, and are consequently unable to use fabrics, patterns and other home sewing supplies."

The report pointed forth to the maids and young matrons of the land, saying: "The retail piece goods business would be much better to-day if the 16,300,000 women between the ages of 14 and 29 had been given adequate and proper sewing instructions."

THEY WOOD

"How many kinds of wood are used in making a match?" asked William. "Two kinds," replied Harriet. "He would and she would."

A TEST FOR INTOXICATED DRIVERS

The Christmas experience of motor accidents appears to have proven the proverbial "last straw." It has released an avalanche of public opinion centering mainly in a strong demand for heavier penalties for drunken drivers.

In the discussion it has been pointed out that through unwillingness to convict heavier penalties may defeat the object sought. To make such a law effective conviction where merited should be certain and penalty uniform.

ORIGINAL SWAIN TELEGRAMS FILED EGG FOR VALENTINE

Love has many languages. There is the language of the sweet nothings, of coos and kisses and baby talk. There is the language of the radio and in the movies murmur for lovers in still another tongue.

Queerer of all love languages is the one which came to light on St. Valentine's Day, when a swain in a New England town wanted to send an affectionate greeting to his sweetheart in Montreal.

It seemed mad to the telegraph people, but they are used to handling strange communications and they were not to be deterred. The egg was bought, a restaurant fried it and the telegraph messenger started out with his precious message.

The law should also fix a standard of concentration at and above which the individual should be definitely deemed under the influence.

The adoption of such a standard in the law is the most effective safeguard available to-day. Accidents are reported to have been reduced in Sweden by 25% and in Germany by 24%.

at us from the road, and in the glare of the headlights I saw two uniformed constables. Even with a clear conscience, it gives one a queer feeling to be waved at by the Arm of the Law.

"Indeed yes, right here." I answered, pointing to the dash board. "Would you like to see it?"

For five years I have driven the Optimist and never once without carrying my license with me, but this was the first time I had been asked to show it—so it just shows it doesn't do to get careless about these things.

A MORNING GLOVE FOR EACH DAY OF THE WEEK

Thursday, March 5th It is foolish to carry to-morrow's burden to-day.

Friday, March 6th The one who has not loved has not lived.

Saturday, March 7th Nature gave us two ears, and yet few of us are able to listen to both sides at once.

Sunday, March 8th Coasting all your care upon Him, for He careth for you.—1 Peter 5: 7.

Monday, March 9th It is better to win a foe than to kill him.

Tuesday, March 10th Contentment has a strange power of bringing out bright spots in the dullest lives.

Wednesday, March 11th God's mysteries are no mysteries to Him.

Thursday, March 12th We are fortunate in having available a Progress Report of a Committee on Tests of Intoxication operating under the National Safety Council of the United States.

HINTS ON FASHIONS BY LISBETH

Tweeds and Checks Are Correct and Pleasing for Outdoor Activities This Spring

To be properly dressed: not just smartly dressed or even becomingly dressed—but dressed for the occasion.

Flannel Dresses and Suits Popular Two-tone flannel dresses with jacket tops are among the most popular of spring costumes to date.

Spectator sports clothes is a term to cover a multitude of occasions. You may be walking in the country and correctly wear this type of dress, just as you may be viewing a horse race, dog race, a football game or tennis match.

Boleto costumes, in wool rayon crepe, are very well liked and usually are shown with printed blouses.
