

AT EVENING SHALL BE LIGHT

All day the sable clouds had cast o'er earth a sable hue—My heart was heavy with its load, and darkened all my view; But as the day waned to its close, lo! in the West there came the glory of a roseate glow and then a burst of flame, Which soon suffused those sable clouds with colors flaming bright—

THE OLD MAN OF THE BIG CLOCK TOWER

GOING BACK

Some day I'll go back to the little town, To the little town not so far away, When the wild bees burden the clover down, And the air is filled with the scent of hay;

SLAT'S DIARY

Monday Yesterday the sport page said that Joe Di Maggio of the Yanks went nine up for less than 40 thousand $ $ . If I was rich I would pay the Yanks more than that to let me play on their team.

The Old Man

One of the things which keeps a small town small, and which makes doing business or practicing a profession so hazardous, is the number of people in that town who earn their income there and spend it in the near-by large city.

A MATTER OF ACCENT

One thriving industrial community in Ontario, like many others, prides itself on its hockey team. For many years local manufacturers have patriotically been ready to give jobs to lively looking boys who could show dexterity in handling a stick and the town turns out in force to root for the team whenever it plays on the home ice.
