AN OLD OFFENDER

"What is the hardest part of your work as a bectiver?" asked the man designated as toastmaster.

"As a rule," replied Mr. Peckins, "the hardest part of my work is waking the audience up after the man who introduces me has concluded his remarks."

Popularizing of Brewers' Wares Is Condemned

Use of Drinking Songs on Radio Drawn to Attention of CBC — Officers of Halton W.C.T.U. Are Elected—Outstanding Speakers Address Two Sessions

Under the presidency of Mrs. R. E. Galbraith, of Milton, the Halton County Women's Christian Temperance Union met in annual convention in the Baptist Church, Georgetown, June 18th, and received a cordial welcome on behalf of his church and community from Rev. E. C. Baxter.

Opening with a devotional period, conducted by Mrs. Dale, of the Milton Union, the business of the afternoon session included reports from the different branches, which showed some valuable work done, mainly along educational lines. In the president's address, reference was made to the loss sustained by our organization through the retirement and removal from our midst of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Denyes, of Milton, whose invaluable aid in all good work of the community will be greatly missed.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. R. E. Galbraith, Milton; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. R. L. Gregory, Oakville; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. H. Caldwell, Acton; Corresponding Secretary, Miss E. Crossley, Oakville; Recording Secretary, Mrs. T. C. Dale, Milton; Treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Bell, Milton; L. T. L. Superintendent, Mrs. W. Peck, Georgetown.

The convention re-affirmed its opposition to the present system of liquor sale, with all its resulting evils, particularly the effect upon the homes of the land through the lowering of moral standards. The necessity of continued prayer and effort toward the encouragement of Christian education in the homes of the community was stressed particularly, as the plan of Mr. Menton was made of the evident increase in radio programs of the use of drinking songs, etc., which aim to popularize the brewers' products, and it was decided to send to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation a protest concerning this and to ask other organizations to do the same.

A much-appreciated variation in the business period was a beautiful message in song contributed by the President of the Georgetown Union, Mrs. Vanatter, and her granddaughter, Miss Betty Speight.

The guest speaker of the afternoon, Miss Jessie Oliver, of Cedarvale School for Girls, Georgetown, in a forceful address, again stressed the truth that the home is the base of all education, and that the cause of our moral problems undoubtedly lies in the failure of the home to teach temperance in all things. Honor, unselfishness, co-operation and, indeed, all virtues, must be the outgrowth of Christian faith if they are to stand the strain of temptation.

Parent training classes, are, in the opinion of one whose work makes her especially well qualified to judge, one of the outstanding needs in society to-day.

A quiet half-hour, in which the devotions were led by Mrs. Carson and Mrs. Harker, preceded adjournment for the White Ribbon tea served by the ladies of the Georgetown Union.

The program of the evening session, opened by devotional exercises, in charge of Rev. F. C. Overend, of the Georgetown United Church, was interesting and varied. Choruses by the girls and boys of the local L.T.L., an amusing but meaningful skit, presented by the Peck brothers, a playlet by children of the United Church Mission Band, and a baritone solo by Mr. Stewart MacLaren, all delighted the audience.

An illustrated temperance story by Mrs. Galbraith demonstrated one use which can be made of the splendid material now available for work in temperance education.

The presentation of prizes to the winners in the County Essay and Poet Contest, and in the Sunday School temperance examinations was a pleasing item of this section of the program.

The outstanding feature, however, of the evening was the address of Mr. Richard Champion, B.A., of Toronto, who spoke in place of Dr. George Little, as the latter was unable to be present owing to an unavoidable change in plans. We regret that space permits not even a brief outline of Mr. Champion's informative and thought-provoking presentation of the ideas of a young man who is endeavoring, as he said, to pay his debt to those who made it possible for him to grow up in prohibition days, free from the conditions which the present system of liquor sale have produced.

In closing this report may we offer congratulations to Milton's Loyals Temperance Legion, which this year carries away the banner for the best L. T. L. work of the County.

RETAINS LEADERSHIP

Adelard Godbout, Above, retained his leadership of the Quebec Liberals at a stormy convention of the party, during which Edouard Lacroix, chief opponent of Godbout for the leadership, stalked from the convention with the suggestion that it had been "fixed" for Godbout.

100 Years of Service at Churchill

visited the anniversary cake, complete with 100 candles.

There was a unique little ceremony in connection with the lighting of the candles. One after another, those about the table arose and lighted a candle, in memory of a pioneer or former member of the congregation.

Then, in the afternoon, a memorial service was held in the cemetery. This is indeed a sacred spot to many. It is recorded that early in the history of the settlement, the north-west corner of Jacob Swackhamer's farm became a public locality for the community, and in 1827, eight years after his coming here, it was used as a burying ground. Shortly after John Swackhamer settled here, one of the children of the home died, and it was decided that the burial should take place among the trees at the corner of the lot. This child was Julia Ann Swackhamer.

Therefore, for over 112 years this has been a burial place for dear ones of the community. It is now tidily kept and is a credit indeed to the descendants of those pioneers and the loved ones who rest there.

The service on Sunday afternoon was in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. Jolliffe, and was quite fitting. Among the speakers were Mr. J. B. MacKenzie, Georgetown; Mr. N. F. Moore, Acton; Mrs. Hamby and Mrs. Daly, of Toronto; Mr. Henry Denny, Acton and several others.

Again those who were spending the day at Churchill were fed and enjoyed the visiting and social time that comes on such occasions.

Service in the evening had another over-flow crowd. Of course the arrangement of amplifiers enabled all to take part in the service and the whole hall was filled with worshippers. Rev. Mr. Elliott read the lesson from the twelfth chapter of Romans. Another splendid message was given by Dr. Moore. It was a plea for a wider life.

We do not live to ourselves, or for ourselves. Life is too big and too valuable for such a limit. The pioneers had pointed the way to larger life by their sacrifices. Religion had played a part in the early days and was just as necessary to-day.

The choir and the Stephenson family contributed to the service of praise. A service of re-union and remembrance, with greetings from ministers and friends was a feature of the evening worship period. It was conducted by the pastor, Mr. Jolliffe. Mrs. Hamby, of Toronto, contributed a solo.

Greetings from Halton Presbytery were brought by Rev. Mr. Purreman. Letters were received and told about from many friends from distant points.

Those who gave brief messages were Miss Forbes, daughter of Rev. Mr. Forbes, a minister of the congregation from 1897 to 1900; Mrs. H. Caldwell; Rev. E. M. Morrow; Rev. G. I. Stephenson; and Mrs. Hamby. Greetings were extended to older members who were unable to be present, Mrs. David Swackhamer and Mrs. Joel Leslie.

The final chapter in this Centennial of Churchill was on Monday evening. It took the form of an old-fashioned garden party. Supper was served from 6:30 until all had had sufficient. It was attended again by a record crowd, who partook of the plenty and good things for which Churchill housewives are famous.

On the program which followed were solos by Miss Lillian Young, of St. Giles Church, Hamilton; Miss Willa Price, Miss Norma Stephenson, violin solos by Miss Muriel Stephenson; cornet solos by Mr. C. W. Landsborough; numbers by the Stephenson family; selections by Knox Sunday School Orchestra; recitationary numbers by Mr. Roy Hindley; and guitar and vocal numbers by Dick Jolliffe.

Rev. Mr. Mathewson of Burlington, brought greetings from Halton Presbytery, and Rev. H. L. Bennie from Knox Church, Acton.

Perhaps a bit tired, but with the satisfaction of a most successful Centennial observance, Churchill folk start on another century of work. To pastor and congregation congratulations go out for the success achieved.

SURELY YOU CAN SOLVE THIS ONE

By W. COLES

My first is in gone, but not in went,
My second in ladies and also in gent;
My third in an orange, but not in a pear,
Take a look at a berry. You'll find my fourth there.

My next is in ginger, but never in pep,
My sixth not in walk, but always in step;
My seventh is in tart, but never in pie,
My eighth in the moon, yet not in the sky.

My ninth is in wet, therefore not in dry,
My last not in close, but always in nigh,
My whole is a party who met a defeat
When they visited Acton in a game to compete.
