CANST THOU BEAT IT

We reprint the following from the Weekly News Bulletin of the Ithaca Rotary Club:

A child is born unto a merchant in the town. The editor writeth a stick and a half telling the multitude that the child weigheth the beam at nine pounds. Yet, he lieth even as a centurion and the proud father giveth him a Cremona.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduath, and the editor giveth a swell notice. Yes, a peach of a notice. Like unto the rose of Sharon is the young woman and her gown is played up to beat the band. The dressmaker getteth two-score and four iron men and the editor a note of thanks.

And so, the youth of the town fall down and worship she picketh one, and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. Flower and long is the notice of the wedding which the editor printeth. The minister getteth ten bones and the editor is stood off for a year's subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forthwith to read proof on the head and the darn thing cometh out "Oons to Her Last Resting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with excoeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subscriptions, and they swing right smartly the hammer unto the third and fourth generations!

A WEDDING OF INTEREST AT EVERTON

Spruce Grove, Everton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, when Miss Marjorie Horlop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Horlop, of Everton, was married to Mr. Robert Lelew Palframan, son of Mrs. Palframan and the late Mr. S. Palframan, of Guelph Township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. McLeod, under an arch of evergreen and before a bank of roses and peonies, against a background of ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a white net gown, hand embroidered. She wore a long veil that was caught to her head with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of Biarcliffe roses. She wore the gift of the groom, a gold and amethyst necklet.

Miss Margaret Reed, of Toronto, in a pink net dress, with large picture hat in the same shade; and carrying a bouquet of Rapture roses, acted as bridesmaid.

Mr. J. Palframan, B.A., of Sudbury, was best man for his brother.

The wedding music and during the signing of the register, "I Love You Truly" were played by Mrs. Jocke Weir, sister of the groom, gowned in navy blue net with white accents.

Four pink candles glowed on the bride's table, which was centred with the wedding cake for the breakfast which followed the ceremony and reception. The bride's mother wore a hand-embroidered navy blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage of Biarcliffe roses, while the groom's mother was in a brown sheer with brown hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of Tallman roses.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Palframan left on their wedding trip through Northern Ontario, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with blue and white accessories.

On their return they will live on Fairview Farm in Guelph Township.

Philippine Volcano Goes on Rampage for Eight Days

For the first time in ten years, Mount Mayon, active volcano on the island Luzon, in the Philippines, went into violent action, with the results depicted above in pictures taken by fliers of the U.S. Army Air Corps. For eight days the mountain rumbled and groaned as dense smoke, steam, flames and ashes were spewed from "the most perfect cone in the world." Thousands of inhabitants of nearby villages and towns fled, fearing a duplication of the catastrophe of 1814, when an eruption brought death to 1,300. Little material damage was done by the latest eruption. One man died of fright, while another went insane.
