Interesting Meeting of the Acton Women's Institute

The January meeting of the Acton Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. G. H. Lantz with Mrs. Wilderspin, the President, in charge.

In place of the regular motto, Miss Grace Lantz read a letter from a New Zealand pen pal. "Have you heard of the Maori race, in our country? They are the most civilized and cultured of all dark races. In parliament there are Maori M.P.'s representing the eastern, western, northern and southern Maoris. These four men rank among the leading orators in the House. One of them was knighted by King George V. His name is Sir Aframa Nigma." She also read, "The language of these people is said to be one of the most beautiful in the world. Of course we English have murdered some of the names of the towns. Some of our towns have English names, and some Maori. I can imagine the difficulty you have in trying to say Ngatea Hauraki Plains." This is the town where the young lady who wrote the letter lives.

Another part of the letter referred to enjoying overseas radio programs. "Morning is the best time for these. At exactly six o'clock in the morning I love to hear Big Ben striking 6 p.m. in London." The letter was very interesting.

Mrs. Francis Wilds reviewed Current Events. "Memories of Grandmother" was the response to the roll call, and some very interesting memories of the grandmothers were given. Community singing was also enjoyed.

Mrs. W. J. Reid gave a very interesting paper on "Silk Stockings, Making and Manufacturing."

It was decided to make a quilt, also to replenish the layette the Women's Institute keeps on hand for needy mothers.

The Meat Cookery Project that the Seniors are taking up will have the first meeting at Mrs. G. H. Lantz's.

Mrs. Wilderspin gave the last half of the report of the Toronto Convention. The Institute will cater to the Beardmore Company Employees Association on Wednesday evening.

After a hearty vote of thanks to the hostess and all who took part, the meeting closed by singing "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and all enjoyed a social time when the committee served a dainty lunch.

KNOX Y. W. A. MONTHLY MEETING INSTALS OFFICERS

The January meeting of Knox Young Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. A. K. Mann on Wednesday evening with a good attendance. The installation of officers for the year was conducted by Mrs. Bennie. The President, Mrs. R. Spielvogel, had charge of the program. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. O'Hara and prayer by Mrs. G. Kucella. A missionary reading was given by Mrs. F. Anderson, and the study hour was conducted by Mrs. Bennie. This took the form of a quiz, with questions relating to the work of the Missionary Society of the church at home and in foreign fields. At the close of the meeting a social half hour was spent over the tea-cups.

KINDNESS

ALL AFFECTED

The wounded Tommy limped up to the M.O.
"And what's wrong with you?" asked the M.O.
"I was on ration fatigue," replied Tommy, "and a sniper hit the rum jar."
"What's the matter with you?"
"As the bloomer's battalion!" replied the wounded one, with feeling.

The Henderson-Cleland Wedding in Toronto

A wedding of interest to many in Acton and to readers of The Free Press was the Henderson-Cleland wedding in Toronto on Saturday. The bridegroom, Mr. Ralph Henderson, is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henderson and was born and spent his boyhood in Acton. He is a grandson of the late Hon. David Henderson, prominent not only in Acton, but in Halton County, as its member of Parliament for many years.

Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto, was the setting on Saturday afternoon for this beautiful candlelight wedding ceremony. Doris Margaret Cleland, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cleland, of Toronto and Troy, Ontario, became the bride of Ralph Gordon Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henderson, of Toronto.

Hundreds of guests, thronged the church, where myriad candles, ribboned, lined the aisles and cast their soft glow in the chancel where the bride and bridegroom took their vows. The marriage was performed by Rev. David A. McLennan, while Thomas J. Crawford, at the organ, provided the music. The bride wore a gown of silver lace, fashioned with heart-shaped neckline, tightly fitted bodice and cartridge, pleated skirt ending in a square train. Its long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her veil of silver net was fastened at the head with a spray of white azaleas. Her cascade bouquet of white azaleas, entwined with white heather, sent to the bride from Scotland, by old friends of the family, repeated the candlelight motif and shed a soft radiance on the face of the bride.

Her jewels included a diamond and emerald wrist watch, the gift of the groom, a square diamond ring which belonged to her mother, and, as a pendant, a tear-drop diamond from the crown of Catherine the Great.

Her maid-of-honor, the gift of the bride, was her maid-of-honor. She wore a cherry red velvet gown, made on princess lines, with a very full skirt, the bodice with heart-shaped neckline, and long pointed sleeves. A silver bow was perched prettily on the back of her head, with streamers descending to the waist. She carried a cascade bouquet of full-blown white roses in which the candlelight effect and white heather of the bride's bouquet were repeated.

Four bridesmaids, Ruth Paul, Mary Law, Susan Watson, of Hamilton, and Monnie Moncur, also of Hamilton, wore gowns of silver net, like the bride's veil, fashioned with tight bodices, long sleeves and bouffant skirts, worn over pale gray taffeta. On their heads were cherry colored bows, with waist-length streamers. Their flowers were cascade bouquets of Chieftain roses, with the Scottish white heather and candlelight effect.

The maid-of-honor and bridesmaids wore crystal drop pendants, the gift of the bride.

Emerson Miller was best man, and Howard Hunter, Melvin Kenny, of Kitchener, Arthur Henderson and Douglas Cleland were the ushers. Mrs. W. B. Cleland sang.

Following the wedding ceremony, the reception was held at the Granite Club, where the rooms were decorated in white and silver. The bride's three-tier cake was decorated with the white heather from Scotland, and lilies of the valley. Receiving with the bridal party, were Mr. and Mrs. Cleland, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, the parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Cleland wore a Chanel gown of black net and sequins, a pink leather hat with pink carnations. Mrs. Henderson wore a handsome black velvet gown, trimmed with gold, a silver fox cape, matching accessories, and orchids.

After the reception, the bride and bridegroom left on their honeymoon trip. The bride wore an Oxford gray tailored suit, with white cashmere sweater, black coachman's hat with white plumes in fuchsia, green and pink black accessories, a mink coat and great orchids. They will spend a few days skiing at the Seigneurie Club, in Quebec, before proceeding to Montreal, and then to New York City. On their return to Toronto they will live in Avenue Road. [In the evening, the rest of the bridal party danced at the Royal York Hotel.

Juniors Hold Second Place in Local Group

Orangeville — Goal, Magill; defence, Jeffers and Woods; centre, Hopkins; wings, Leach and Gillespie; alternates, Walker, Voll, Lang, Pogit, Hammer.

SHOTS FROM ALL ANGLES
One win, a tie and a loss and all in overtime. The Juniors sure believe in giving the fans their money's worth.

A win out of Orangeville would have been nice. The pop boys have yet to be beaten, although Acton has forced them into overtime twice.

Lang was the best for Orangeville, with two goals, and showing plenty of aggressiveness on the forward line. He is over six foot and weighs plenty, but Marzo dumped him plenty.

Orangeville, lacking organized hockey for a number of years, sure are hockey hysteric new Champions last year and plans made for repeating. However, let's hope Acton prove their stumbling block.

Acton's plays inside the opponent's blue line have shown a decided improvement, thanks to the coaching of Jack Kentner.

Acton now have two well balanced forward lines, who know how to check and when, but are inclined to be ragged on some passing plays.

The Orangeville Arena has been improved greatly, along with the hockey team. We believe Father McCabe is greatly responsible for this.

Acton have developed many good hockey players over a period of years. This year looks like a banner year. Juvenile, Junior, Intermediate and Bush League, taking up the rink's time. Not bad for a town of 2,000.

ACTON 8 - OAKVILLE 2

In a game that was ideal to the eye, despite weather conditions, Acton Junior "C" entry whipped Oakville, 8 to 2. Acton were much the better team and were full value of the one-sided victory. Kentner's Kids displayed to the fans one of the finest exhibitions of passing, one that no junior team before has ever displayed. Jack has the boys right under his wing; they know when and where to pass the puck.

The ice was soft on Monday night, but it didn't slow the play too much. Lots of body checks were handed out, but no penalties were given during the whole sixty minutes, a decided change from the Orangeville game.

Acton opened the scoring the first period, when Jack Kemshead scored his first goal of this season. Goy and Jones banged in two more quick Acton goals, while McCrea, notched one for Oakville.

The game was held up for quite a spell while Oakville dressed their regular goalie, who was unable to be here for the opening period.

Acton added three more goals to their total in the second, when Kemshead, Brush and Bayliss, bulged the twine. The latter goal came on a neat pass from "Scruffy" Tyler.

Acton's scoring in the third period resulted from shots by Kemshead, who notched the two. The first was on a pass from Tyler, and the latter goal on a pass from Saunders. Oakville notched a well deserved goal this period, Donaldson scoring on a pass from McCrea. The period and game ended well in Acton's favor. Although the credit for the Acton goals goes to the individual who notched the twine, might we add all goals were scored on passing plays. Each player on the ice assisted in every goal scored, so if any players' names were not mentioned regarding assists, think nothing of it, as it was not overlooked.

The following was the line-up:
Oakville—Goal, J. Bancroft; defence, D. Myers and N. Ryan; centre, W. Brown; wings, C. Vernon and W. Archibald; alternates, E. Clare, J. Milne, W. Donaldson, Macrae.
Acton—Goal, Holmes; defence, Saunders and Bayliss; centre, Kemshead; wings, Goy and Tyler; alternates, Jones, Marzo, Brush, Pillon, Shejok.
Referee—R. Scott, Oakville.

SHOTS FROM ALL ANGLES
Acton shows great improvements as the season goes on, thanks to patient coaching by Jack Kentner.

Two wins, a loss, a tie and last, but not least, no more overtime (we hope). After staying off the score sheet for three games Jack Kemshead notched four on Tuesday night. After Jack notched the first one, he literally ran wild.

The Acton club showed better condition than the Beaver Oakville team. Much credit for this is due to Trainer Anderson.

Oakville's entry is not as strong as last year, and in saying this we don't mean to take any credit away from the local lads.

Frankie Holmes, in the Acton net, had an easy evening, which, really was just as well, as Frank had an injured hand. Why Johnnie Dennis wasn't used, to give Frank a rest, remains one of those things.

The dual managing of the club has its advantages and disadvantages. Let's hope all difficulties are ironed out before serious results occur.

The local lads deserve the support of all loyal hockey fans, and the rink should be packed for the next home game.

Milton—Friday night. A win would assure the locals of second place. The trip will also give some of the sitting forwards (Marzo, Goy, Brush) a real chance to harmonize, with the aid of such old-timers as Ben Bayliss, Sr. and "Cookie," from Rockwood.

The hecklers in the reserved seats were quiet Monday night. Probably too interested in the passing plays of Acton to bother giving them the bird.

FUTURE JUNIOR GAMES

Friday—Acton at Milton; Orangeville at Oakville.
Monday—Milton at Orangeville.

Tuesday—Acton at Oakville.
Thursday—Milton at Acton.

COOKING OF MEAT STUDIED BY DUBLIN INSTITUTE

Dublin Women's Institute held their first meeting on "Meat Cookery" at the home of Mrs. W. D. Barber. After the study of food values and marking of food score cards, the leader, Mrs. Barber, and her assistant, Mrs. vanGoozen, gave three demonstrations on preparing and cooking a crown roast of sausage, broiling a steak and pot roasting. A very dainty lunch was then served by Miss Wilda McLaughlin and Miss Dorothy Barber.

The Puzzle Rhyme for Fans This Week

A little more humor from Chambers' dictionary. "Land of the Leal" is defined by the compiler as follows: "The home of the blessed after death—no, Scotland." We have omitted the word. You can supply it if you solve this puzzle right.

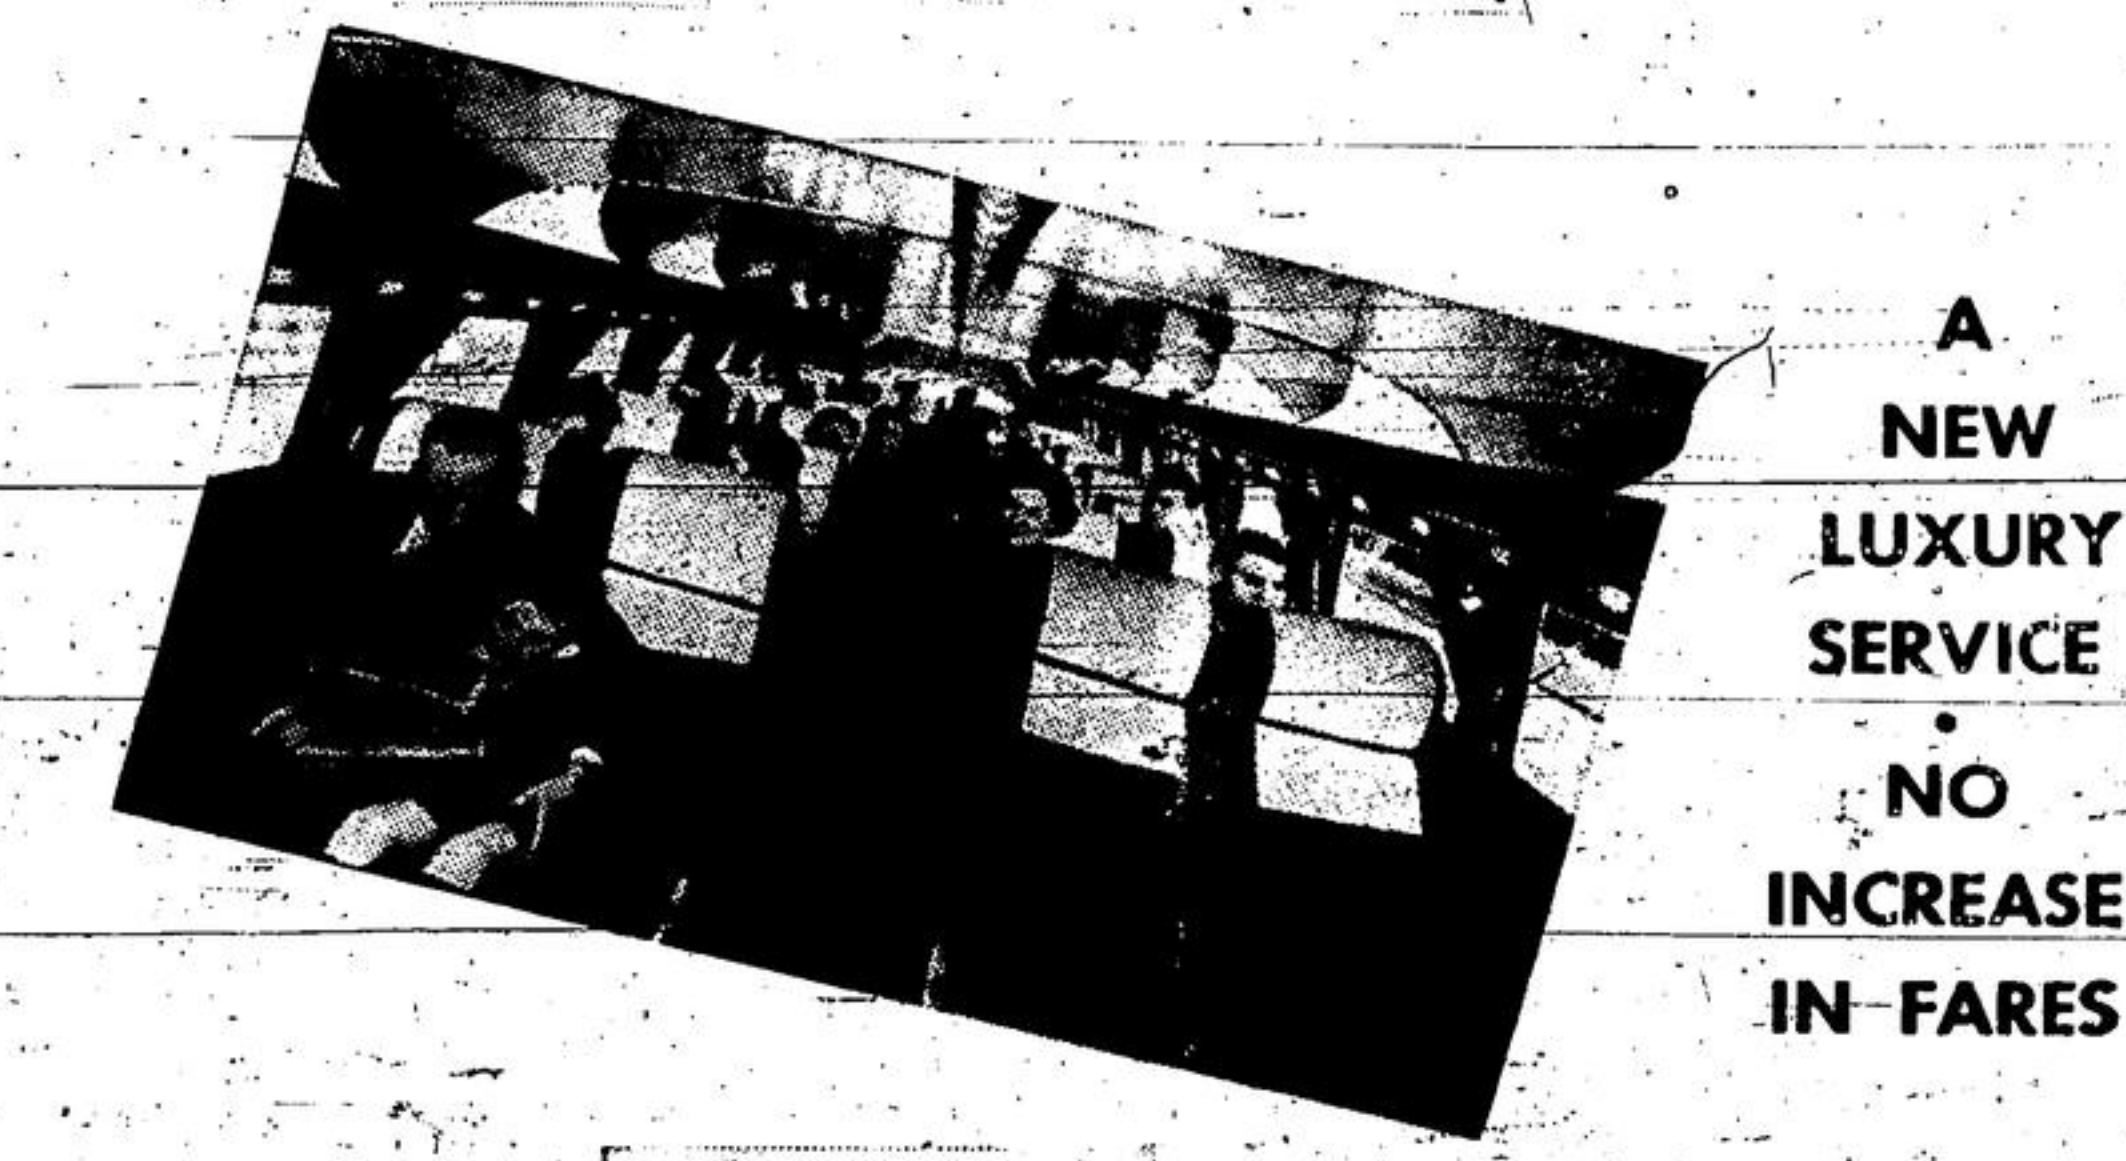

My first is in apple, in pear and in plum.
My second in beat, but not in a drum;
My third and my fourth in draw, not in pull.
My fifth is in dunnity, but never in foot.
My sixth and my seventh is a very short verb.
My last is in weed, and flower and herb.
