Peel and Halton Folk Picnic Out in the West

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the tenth annual basket picnic of the Peel and Halton Outdoors Association at the exhibition grounds, Brandon, Manitoba, on June 21, 1939. Crop conditions in Manitoba being favorable, the members were in a happy mood and enjoyed a visit with old friends and schoolmates of many years ago.

Mr. R. J. Shortill, of Brandon, extended a hearty welcome on behalf of the city and asked the visitors to hold all their picnics in Brandon, the friendly city, every year. Past-president, Rev. J. B. Francis replied for the visitors and thanked Mr. Shortill and the people of Brandon for their kind hospitality. Among the distinguished visitors present were: A. E. Bowles, K.C., Dr. Manly Bowles and son, Richard, T. A. McClure, T. P. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. M. Cobban, Mrs. Cameron, and Mrs. Farnet, of Winnipeg; Mr. Henry McMaster and family, Portage LaPrairie. (Mr. McMaster, who comes from Halton, is eighty-four years old and looks like a man of fifty).

Another Western Wedding of Interest to Folks in East. The following item of a wedding in Vancouver, B.C., will be read with interest by FREE PRESS readers when it is pointed out that the bride is a daughter of "Bob" Agnew, who spent his boyhood days here, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. "Jack" Agnew, all of whom went to the West for new homes some years ago.

A very interesting and pretty wedding took place in St. Mark's Church, Saturday afternoon, when Maybelle Jean Agnew became the bride of Mr. Gordon Arthur Delamont. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Agnew, and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Delamont.

For her duty of receiving the wedding guests, the bride's mother wore petalita silk, featuring a full pin-tucked skirt, Mrs. Delamont chose powder blue with navy accessories for the occasion. The guests were greeted against an embankment of spring flowers at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Archie Johnson.

COMMENTS. Acton collected one more hit than Oakville, but they were hit scattered. The Oakville hits were helped by the bad infield play of Acton.

Just Fishin'

Every trip everyone takes has its incidents. Not always are they told in print. Not all the incidents of this little excursion will be recorded, but perhaps FREE PRESS readers would like another fishing story. The last one was two years ago, and while it had in the same spot, things do change even in a backyard fishing ground.

That evening after supper we listened to the main program presented by Acton school children. Georgetown was represented and we were proud indeed of the program that was given. The kids in that first summer camp in wonderful fish were packed that night and left in the car where Mr. Wood had been lying them all in groups back home.

The end of the road comes rather suddenly at a little ways and further progress would land everyone into the lake. The federal at the park had simply disappeared ahead, and we were met by a grade which helped unload the damage and pack it into a good sized motor launch and then made the back bumper of the car until the machine was parked in a spot by the side of the road. These spots are limited. The man and a kid on the spot was soon completed in the launch and we found a new beachhouse had been erected since our last visit.

AT THE MOVIES. Big Man: Why are you so restless? Can't you see the screen? Small Boy: No, sir; you are hiding my view. Big Man: That's too bad. Here, mind; watch me and laugh when I laugh.
