NATURALLY

Teacher—Do we eat the flesh of the whale?
Scholar—Yes, ma'am.
Teacher—And what do we do with the bones?
Scholar—We leave them on the side of our plate, Miss.

HE JUST FELL

"When I arrived in my home town after my trip abroad, I fell on my face and kissed the pavement."
"Emotion?"
"No. Banana peel."

JUST WHERE?

"You know, my dear," said Mrs. Ayres, "as I was passing under the scaffolding of a new building some paint fell on my fur coat, and my husband had to buy me a new one."
Her friend earnestly: "In what street was that, Mrs. Ayres?"

ALMOST A HINT

Satisfied Ding—Well, waiter, that was a tip-top dinner.
Colored Waiter—Yes, sah. One that you top off with a tip.

poll tax and everyone liable was to be notified. A letter from Beardmore & Co. advised Council that the Company was making a driveway at York House and requested forty feet of the for this purpose.

The Municipal Officer was instructed to enforce collection of all license fees regarding the interview with Miss Cressy of the Victoria Order of Nurses, and the matter was discussed, but further consideration left for the present.

A committee also reported on the painting planned at the school during the summer. Estimates were secured, and a study given the matter.

The Secretary was instructed to advertise for tenders for painting to be done at the High School, which was to be painted throughout in the interior.

MISS L. ORR BRIDE ELECT HONORED BY FRIENDS

A number of friends gathered at the home of Miss Velma Murray last Thursday evening, where Mrs. C. Leishman and Miss Velma Murray had a linen shower for Miss Lizzie Orr, a bride of the month.

After playing a few games, Miss Margaret Brown rendered a piano solo, and Miss Ruth Gibson sang a solo.

Miss Margaret Young then read the following address: Acton, July 6th, 1939

Dear Lizzie: We have met here this evening to spend a social hour with you before your removal from among us.

This added to your willingness to help in song and otherwise. Never did you refuse and we will always remember your kindly assistance so cheerfully given.

Although our best in the way of remembrance must seem trivial and inadequate in measuring our esteem for you, still we would ask you to accept these little tokens of our regard.

May each little gift bring to you the sincere good wishes of the group, and may these remembrances ever keep strong, and firm the link which binds you to us—your friends.

We therefore join in wishing that your future life may bring you much joy and happiness in your new sphere as you are now leaving behind you.

Signed on behalf of your friends, MISS M. Z. BENNETT, MRS. E. ZENNIE, MISS GARVIN, MRS. C. LEISHMAN, MISS VELMA MURRAY.

At the appropriate time a beautifully decorated wagon, in pink and white, laden with gifts, was drawn in by two little girls, Christine Winfield and Joan Terry.

Bettie Winfield followed, carrying more gifts.

In a few chosen words Miss Orr thanked all for the lovely gifts she received.

A very dainty lunch was served by the hostesses, including the bride's cake, decorated in white and silver. Miss Orr cut the cake which, served with ice cream, made a fitting climax to a pleasant evening.

NOT IN THEIR LINE Wilson Barrett, the actor, thinking to give a number of workmen who were decorating his house a treat, asked if they would like to have complimentary seats one evening to see him play in "The Lights of London."

At the end of the week Barrett's eye caught sight of this item against each workman's name on the pay sheet: "Saturday night, Four hours overtime at Princess Theatre, eight shillings."

A NASTY ONE "I was outspoken at the meeting of the Women's Club to-day," remarked Mrs. Sayt.

"Hm-m!" hm-m'd her husband. "Who outspoke you?"

WHAT'S THE USE? Aunt Martha went to a sports meeting for the first time. The pistol went off, and the men sprinted.

Aunt Martha turned to her nephew: "And do these men really think they can catch up with that bullet?"

MARRIAGE RITES FOR WRONG-WAY CORRIGAN

Douglas Corrigan, the young man who gained fame as the "wrong way" flier last year when he "accidentally" flew across the Atlantic, will take unto himself a bride come July 17th.

Miss Elizabeth Martin, of San Antonio, Texas, will be married to Corrigan and his bride-to-be, described as "childhood sweethearts," are shown above.

THE BATTYE-SKELTON WEDDING IN TORONTO THIS MONTH

Two well known English families were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon, July 1st, in St. Simon's Church, Toronto, when Sybil Elizabeth (Pat) Skelton, daughter of Engineer Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Skelton, K.C.B., C.B., D.S.O., and Lady Skelton, of Aldingbourne, Wexham, Surrey, became the bride of Arthur Richmond (Bobby) Battye, Acton, Ontario, son of the late Col. P. C. Battye, D.S.O., A.M., Royal Engineers and Mrs. Battye, of Salisbury, England.

The bride has been living in Toronto for a time, attached to the staff of Upper Canada College. Sir Reginald and Lady Battye came to Canada for the wedding and ate at the Alexandra Palace.

Rev. P. H. Brown officiated, and E. S. Lewis was at the organ. Pale blue and pale pink summer flowers, delphinium, larkspur, peonies and sweetpeas, were used in the church, in keeping with the pale pink and white color scheme of the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pale pink and pale blue net lace, with fitted waistline, full skirt extending in a short train and bodice made with short shirred sleeves. She had a Juliet cap of pale blue shirred Brussels net, from which fell a finger-tip veil of pale blue net, and carried a bouquet of roses. Her only ornament was an antique locket of pale blue and pale pink enamel in flower design. She was unattended. Andrew Brewin was best man, and the ushers were Ian Dowie and Phillip Loosemore.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lash, Admiral Road, Toronto. Lady Skelton wore a modish navy and white crepe dress with navy straw-hat and corsage of pale pink roses. Mrs. Lash was in fuchsia and blue shot chiffon, with corsage-of-blue cornflowers.

The couple left on a motor trip north, the bride travelling in smart wine and white figured sheer, with white hat and accessories. They will live in Acton.

The bride has been in Canada for considerable time and was for a short period on the staff of The Daily Star library. Two years ago she made an adventurous trip from England to New York in a sailing vessel, signing on as a member of the crew, with the well known English amateur sailor, Ahto Walter.

SEEMS LIKELY "It is odd how one's clothes react on one's mentality. Now, when I'm wearing a business suit I'm all business; when I'm in evening dress social matters occupy my attention, and when I'm in golf togs, I don't think of anything but the game."

Yes. And I suppose when you take a bath your mind is an utter blank."

SMART LAD! "Have you any cream for restoring the complexion?" asked the faded spinster.

"Restoring, miss? You mean preserving!" said the assistant, heartily. He sold her ten shillings' worth of complexion cream.

Presentation by the Board to Miss M. Z. Bennett

Savage & Co. 3.05 Reid Electric Service 1.50 Mrs. M. A. Gowdy 21.00 $28.60

The report was adopted. outstanding, and issue summons where necessary. The Clerk was asked to attend court in behalf of the Municipality, to see that the full license fee is paid the Corporation, and the Clerk was asked to attend court in the same capacity in regard to poll tax.

As requested by Council at a previous meeting, the Clerk gave a report regarding the authority of the Municipality in issuing licenses for various purposes. It was the opinion of the Clerk that the purpose of a license was for regulation and not as a source of revenue. The Clerk gave a list of places that could be made to secure a license under the Municipal Act.

Council gave definite instructions to the Division Court Clerk regarding those cases where he had made seizures of chattel.

The Clerk was instructed, to give a detailed report of tax arrears for the next meeting and the amounts paid.

The Women's Institute asked permission to operate their booth in the Park on Saturdays and Sundays to cater to those using the park. It was pointed out that the fairest method was to advertise for tenders for such privileges in the park. The Clerk was instructed to advertise for tenders for these concessions.

The Clerk was requested to make inquiry if the ladies' organizations were again going to assist in the expenses for supervision at the park.

The Municipal Officer of Health was requested to make available to Council tests made pursuant to the Public Health Act of drinking water and at the beach.

Another motion stipulated that the Council advertise for tenders for taking up a petition from residents in the neighborhood of Acton who have telephones not connected to Acton exchange, who would prefer to be connected to Acton, and from those who have no phone, and Acton exchange.

The Clerk reported that a representative of the Bell Telephone Co. had called in connection with the removal of poles from Mill Street. He intimated that the wires would be placed underground if changed but would call a meeting of Hydro and Telephone Co. engineers to meet representatives of the Council.

MISUNDERSTOOD A pretty girl was speeding through traffic. She soon found herself stopped by a policeman.

"Look here!" growled the officer. "Where's the fire?"

"Why should you care?" she countered. "You're no fireman. And you ought to be able to keep busy at your own job!" After which she drove off.

Lightning Bolt Did This

While 500 people were watching motion pictures in the opera house at Ouellet, Ontario, a bolt of lightning struck the tower of the building and ripped the 20-foot crack shown in the picture in the steeple. Other than damaging the steeple no harm was done and no one was injured.
