DIED

WILSON—By accidental drowning, at Lake Wabigoon, on Saturday, October 22nd, 1938, the body being recovered on July 31st, 1939, Erwin B. Wilson, beloved son of George T. and the late Edna Wilson, in his 25th year.

IN MEMORIAM

SAGASKIE—In loving memory of my dear mother, Annie Sagaskie, who passed away August 6th, 1937. We little thought, when leaving home, that she in death so soon would leave us here to mourn. We do not know the pain she bore. We did not see her die. We only know she passed away. And never said good-bye.

Sadly missed by her daughter and son-in-law, MARY and BILL.

Obituary

CARLTON HUGHES BANKS

Friends in Acton and district were grieved to learn last week of the passing of Carlton H. Banks, at his home at 328 Oxford Street West, in Moose Jaw, following a lengthy illness, on July 26th. The deceased was born in London, England, 57 years ago. Mr. Banks began service in various capacities with the C. P.R. on November 1st, 1911, and was promoted in December, 1914, to the position of superintendent's accountant. In that office he was transferred to Saskatoon in 1920, but returned to Moose Jaw on February 1st, 1933, as chief time keeper in the district accountant's office, a position from which he was retired on pension, owing to ill health, at the beginning of this year.

In 1933 also he became a member of the board of management of St. Andrew's United Church and continued efficiently as recorder of contributions until forced to resign due to failing health in 1938. A member of the Masonic Order, Lodge No. 3, and a Past Master of the Lodge. Mr. Banks was well known in social and business circles.

He leaves to mourn his widow, formerly Miss Jessie Harvey, of Acton, and one daughter, Dorothy, in Moose Jaw; four sisters, all in England, and one brother, in South Africa. Funeral services in Moose Jaw were conducted Thursday afternoon at three o'clock in Broadfoot's funeral parlors, by Rev. A. P. Silcox, and Rev. T. H. Sendall. Masonic services were also observed.

The remains were brought to Acton and on Sunday afternoon a funeral service was held at the Johnsons & Bannister funeral home, conducted by Rev. E. C. Baxter. Interment was made in Parkview Cemetery, Acton, where the brethren of Walker Lodge conducted the graveside service. The pallbearers were Masonic brethren, Messrs. F. S. B. Row, George Murray, A. T. Brown, W. R. E. Blair, D. N. McTavish and W. Cooper.

Floral tributes included offerings from the following: The Board of Managers, St. Andrew's United Church, Moose Jaw; Canadian Pacific Railway, District Accountant and Staff, Moose Jaw; Mr. H. J. Main, General Superintendent C.P.R., Moose Jaw; Blue Lodge, Moose Jaw; Royal Arch Masons, Moose Jaw; Moose Jaw Lodge No. 3, Moose Jaw; Imperial Lodge No. 60, Saskatoon; Walker Lodge, Acton; Miss Pearl Archibald; Mr. and Mrs. P. Pinder and family, of Saskatoon, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. McWalter; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rowe and David; Mr. and Mrs. McCully and family; Mr. and Mrs. F. Bacon and family; Mr. and Mrs. H. Hewson, all of Moose Jaw, Sask.; Mrs. John Harvey and daughters; Wife and Daughter.

Members of Mrs. Banks' family all attended the funeral on Sunday, Mrs. John Harvey, and Mr. and Mrs. Colin McNie, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reid, of Buffalo, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Moore, Speyside; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Erin; Mrs. Annie Somerville, Toronto; and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hussard, Acton.

TEN IN CASH

Our favorite parson, who long ago told us of the remittance, but appreciative bridegroom who, in lieu of cash for the ceremony, offered to fix the rectory gas meter so it wouldn't register, has a new story of the same ilk, the experience of a fellow minister to the souls of a fashionable congregation.

A bright young parishioner, who had been christened and confirmed by this rector, was married and after the ceremony the best man, with customary delicacy, handed the clergyman an envelope. The envelope was found to contain a cheque for $10. This was deposited in the course of a day or so and in the course of another day or so it bounced right back.

"Look here!" said the rector on the first occasion after the honeymoon when it was feasible to buttonhole the bridegroom. "That's not the way to start out in life. You shouldn't get into the habit of issuing cheques if you haven't the money in the bank."

"A cheque?" asked the groom, wide-eyed. "Let me see it." "Hey, Canon, look at that signature! That's the best man's signature. I gave him ten bucks in cash to pay you."—The Printed Word.

—The Utopia or universal freedom and peace seems to be far distant but such an ideal is still in the heart of man. This is borne out by the pageant, "Utopia," at the Canadian National Exhibition this year, graphically setting forth the struggle of Great Britain throughout the centuries toward this grand goal.

—It looks as though the Midway is gone for ever from the Canadian National Exhibition. "Patty" Conklin, ace Canadian showman and carnival operator, has made such a success of the new freeland—the Exhibition's own amusement area—that it is going to be continued this year and of course it will be bigger and better than ever.

—Six speeders on Acton streets were summoned for the weekly court in Acton this week and pleaded guilty to the charges, and paid fines of $5 and costs each. The informations were laid by Chief McPherson and a majority of the cases were for speeding on Mill Street. Motorists must observe the regulations if they are to use Acton streets.

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR WILL?

There is no use dodging the issue. You are going to die one of these days. Everyone does so eventually. We are hoping that it is not only the last thing which happens to you, but that it is a long time before it does happen.

But after all, you have worked pretty hard for what you have accumulated, and if you are willing to look facts in the face, you know that you have a pretty definite idea of what you would like to have done with those accumulations of yours.

It is a satisfaction to know that your assets will be disposed of according to your desires, rather than according to the decision of the courts. The courts are just, but they show no favoritism, and that particularly relative you don't like too well may horn in and get a big slice of your estate, and how do you like thinking about what that may mean, losing no-good will do with the money you worked so hard to get? Better leave a little more to the hospital or the church you attend.

Wouldn't it save you and your family a lot of trouble if you went to your lawyer and had him draw up a will so that things would be settled the way you want them to be? It isn't very smart to try to make out a will by yourself. Maybe you don't even know how to begin a will, and if you leave out any of the fine trimmings the lawyers put on them, your family may get trimmed as a result. Making a will does not hasten your death by a single second, but it does guarantee that your family will love your memory more because you have saved them a couple of lawsuits.

HORSESHOES

Two thousand years ago a Roman slave tossed a horse shoe in emulation of the aristocratic discus thrower, and thus the ancient and honorable game of horseshoes or quoits was born. After all, quoits are horseshoes gone expensive.

Never in the twenty centuries that have since elapsed has the pastime been out of favor, although it has had its lapses from universal popularity. For its present revival two things are chiefly responsible. The need for inexpensive amusements, and expanding wastelands. In fields, backyards, parks, summer resorts, playgrounds and vacant lots summer evenings find men of all ages tossing horseshoes or upshot quoits to get out of doing something that costs money or to keep the wasteland under control.

The health value of this homely pastime is not generally understood. In an evening of quoits one will walk several miles, do bending exercises equivalent to a week's calisthenics and work most of the muscles of the arm, shoulders and back. It is effective but not strenuous exercise. Strange as it seems, man's gambling instinct has never shown itself in this game. Nor has it ever been commercialized. These facts may help to explain the long popularity of the game.

SOOTHING WORDS

LURED COW AWAY

A despondent cow apparently attempted to commit suicide at Millers Falls, Mass., recently, by lying down on the main line of the Central Vermont Railway a few minutes before the fast freight train, "Rocket," was due. Four sectionmen vainly attempted to move the animal with shovels, ropes, halters and words, kind and harsh. Finally the owner, an unidentified woman, arrived and addressed the cow in soothing Italian. The animal sighed, rose and was led away.

WHEAT ACREAGE RECORD

World acreage planted with wheat has been increasing since 1935-36, and in 1938-39 reached a total of about 280,019,000 acres, establishing an all-time record and exceeding the previous season's total of 266,459,000 acres by about 6 per cent. These figures do not include the wheat acreage of China, Soviet Union, Iraq, and Iran, which is provisionally estimated at 149,891,000 (assumed mainly from the 1937-38 totals) and making a grand world total for 1938-39 of 429,890,000 acres.

JULY MEETING OF THE DUBLIN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Dublin Women's Institute held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Atkins, with the President, Mrs. Somerville, in the chair. Roll call was answered by hints on summer cooking. The report of the District Annual, which was held at Norval, was given by Mrs. W. McLaughlin, and current events were given by Mrs. Tuck.

A trio of Doreen Atkins, Margaret and Jean Robertson was also given. Mrs. Watson tendered a hearty vote of thanks to those who took part in the meeting and also to the hostess for the use of her home.

A demonstration of three salads was also a feature. Lunch was served and a social time spent in conclusion.

AUNT MILLY'S IN LOVE!

Mickey Rooney's Nephew Has Her Fling at Last in "The Hardy Ride High"

Love found Andy Hardy, but in the latest picture of the popular Hardy Family series the great emotion comes to Aunt Milly and, in all places, Detroit.

As a result of the script requirements for "The Hardy Ride High," which is the feature on Friday at the Gregory Theatre in Acton, Sara Haden goes glamorous for the first time in her screen career. She received special attention from Adrian, the dress designer, and Jack Dawn, the make-up ace, devised beauty treatments and hairdressing.

The Hardy Family goes to Detroit in the new film and there Aunt Milly meets a typical business man of middle age, with more than a spark of romantic fire. Their affair begins as a mild case of mutual admiration but it develops with interesting complications in the colorful atmosphere of metropolitan Detroit. Minor Watson has the role of the business man.

Incidentally, Mickey Rooney goes off the deep end with a blonde chorus girl in the picture, Virginia Grey playing the blonde siren. "Aunt Milly and I certainly had fun in this one," declared Mickey.

AWAY AT LAST

A patient teacher was trying to show a small boy how to read with expression. "Where are you going?" read Johnny, laboriously, with no accent whatever. "Try that again," said the teacher. "Read as if you were talking. Notice that mark at the end?"

Johnny studied the interrogation mark a moment, and an idea seemed to dawn upon him. Then he read triumphantly: "Where are you going—little outionhook?"

The lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davidson, third line, was the scene of a pleasant gathering on July 26th, when the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Nasasagawya, to the number of nearly one hundred held their annual re-union.

The afternoon was spent in ball games, in which the married ladies defeated the single ones and the single men won against the married ones. These were followed by races by young and old. Davidson and Wilmer, who also celebrated their birthdays that day.

In the evening Mr. Thos. Campbell, of Erin, President of the gathering, called order and they were favored by a solo from Delbert Henderson, of Brookville; reading, Mr. Lloyd Campbell, of Moffat; solo, Miss Erna Jenkins, of Hamilton; and a duet by Messrs. Jim Henderson and Wilmer Davidson.

FINDS RARE BIRD

A new species was added to Saskatchewan's regional list of birds, when J. Dewey Soper, District Migratory Bird Officer of the Department of Mines and Resources, while making a recent patrol through the southern part of the province, discovered a mountain plover. This rare bird was noticed about two miles north of Bracken, where the altitude is about 2,900 feet. Bracken is located about fourteen miles north of the International Boundary. So far as known, this is the first record of a mountain plover in Canada.

The mountain plover is a plain, pale bird, somewhat smaller than the killdeer. Its plumage above is light, grayish brown, while the underparts are spotless white. In adults there is a blackish patch on the front of the crown and a conspicuous black line running from the base of the bill to the eye. It lacks the dark breast band, or neck ring which characterizes several species of plover and stands in a class by itself for easy identification.

The summer home of the mountain plover is on the treeless, semi-arid plains and mesas of the western interior of the continent in association with short grasses, sagebrush, greasewood and the prickly pear cactus.
