Friends Honor Miss Ruth Gibson Prior to Marriage

A very delightful time was spent last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Vincent, when friends gathered to present a miscellaneous shower to Miss Ruth Gibson, a bride-to-be. Games and contests were enjoyed, and Mrs. J. B. Adamson read the following address to Miss Gibson:

Dear Ruth:
It is with mixed feelings that we, your friends, have gathered to-night to spend this hour with you. On the one hand we are overjoyed for you in your greatest hour of happiness when you have found your life's partner and are standing on the threshold of a new world wherein you will find new interests, joys and sorrows that come only to those whose lives become as one bound together with the golden chain of love.

But even as you step into this new life, full of joy and expectancy you will remain behind, missing you and your cheery smile, for we have had many happy times together, and in the after years we hope that you will look among your "souvenirs" and that "these tokens will rest among your treasure chest," and that as you read the names inscribed hereon you will recall some happy memory of each of us.

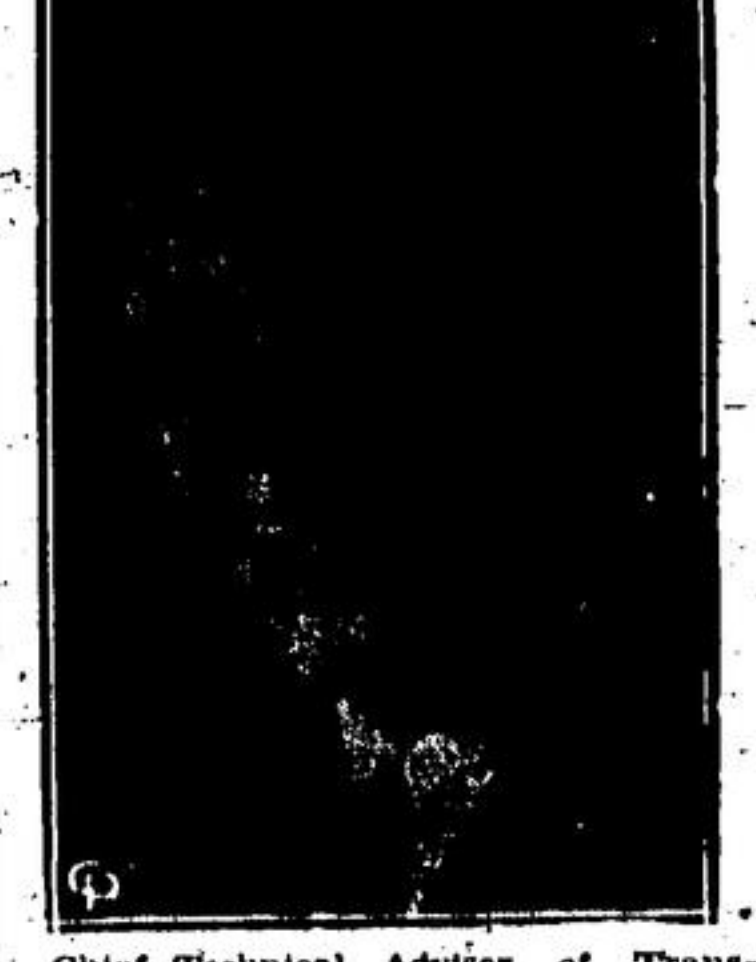

As the years go by, may our wishes of to-night be realized and may you have that complete joy that comes to every real homemaker, which we know you will be.

May these little gifts be an expression of our sincere good wishes
YOUR FRIENDS,

At the proper time Barbara Vincent and Betty Gibson drew in a prettily decorated wagon, overflowing with presents. Although taken by surprise, Miss Gibson made a very fitting reply, thanking all for the gifts.

After the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and assistants, and a jolly half hour was spent over the tea coupe. Out of town guests included Mrs. J. C. Campbell, Chatham; Mrs. Charlotie MacDonald, Miss Corinne Macdonald and Mrs. Gordon Johnston, of Hamilton.

TURNING OVER
Chester was more familiar with automobiles than with cats. A kitten was given to him, and his joy knew no bounds. He stroked and caressed and fondled it. Much pleased with such treatment, kitty began to purr contentedly. Chester looked at it in wonder, listened, then called to his mother: "O Mamma! The kitty's engine is going!"

A SPICE OF DANGER

Jones was talking to some friend of a fishing trip he was contemplating on his holiday.

"Are there any trout up there?" questioned one of the friends.

"Trout? Thousands of 'em," replied the other, enthusiastically.

"Will they bite easily?"

"Will they?" reiterated Jones. "Why, they're absolutely vicious! A man has to hide behind a tree to bait his hook."

THE CHURCH-TODD WEDDING AT SUNDRIDGE SATURDAY

A wedding of interest to many of our readers was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Anglican Church, in Sundridge, when Miss Evelyn Rosalind Church, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Church, Sundridge, became the bride of Mr. William H. Todd, of Amos, P.Q., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Todd, of Burks Falls. Captain the Rev. Edward Pinnington, of Gravenhurst, assisted by the rector, Rev. W. Whiteley, conducted the ceremony, and Miss Florence Beala played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Miss Barbara Plank, Acton, aunt of the bride, and at the reception Mr. Bruce McCubbin, North Bay, was soloist. Miss Patricia Lang, Sundridge, and Miss Velma Murray, Acton, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids, and little Margaret Gallagher, the flower girl. Mr. Ray Gregory, Toronto, was his nephew's groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Marvin Church, brother of the bride, and Mr. Jack Quilty.

Orchids, white and yellow gladiolus and ferns in baskets and tall standards decorated the quaint old church, which, in honor of the occasion, had been renovated by old friends of the family and parish. Given in marriage by her father, the fair young bride wore a classic print-robe of white tulle, with shirred bodice, made of square sweetheart neckling, the skirt falling into a graceful train. Her tulle veil was held with white orchids, and she carried a white prayer book with streamers tied with lily-of-the-valley. Her only ornament was a carved ivory cross. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in charming tulle with overdress of white tulle made in bouffant style, with shirred waist and small little jackets of corded ribbon in the same tone as the tulle. Their green floral halo hats were made on a net foundation, with net streamers tied at the back. They carried bouquets of yellow gladiolus. The pretty little flower girl was in a Kale Greenway ensemble of orchid tulle, with overdress of pink and mauve point d'esprit, and bonnet of tulle, with wreath of dark purple panicles across the front. Purple velvet streamers from her bonnet—and at her waist completed the costume. She carried a basket of orchid yellow and white flowers.

A garden reception at the residence of the bride's parents followed. Mrs. Church receiving her guests in a Suzer brocade crepe costume with matching felt hat and corsage of orchid and deep rose sweet peas. Mrs. Todd, mother of the bridegroom, received with Mrs. Church, smartly gowned in black satin, with white hat and accessories and gardenia corsage.

Later the bride and bridegroom left for the Maritimes, the bride travelling in a dusky pink dress with king's blue coat, hat and accessories. After their return, they will reside in Amos.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Murray and Miss Velma Murray and Mrs. Barbara Plank, of Acton and Mr. Lloyd Miller, of Burlington.

REINDEER ROUND-UP COMPLETED

Another annual round-up of the reindeer herd at the government reindeer station, near the Mackenzie Delta, N.W. T., has been completed, and according to wireless advice received by the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa. A total of 4,126 reindeer, comprising 1,184 fawns, 1,069 yearling and adult females, 626 yearling and adult bulls, and 347 steers, were put through the corral. The annual round-up is staged on Richard's Island, a short distance off the Arctic mainland.

This year's round-up was attended by Dr. Seymour Hadwen, eminent wild life authority, who is making a survey of the reindeer on behalf of the government. Dr. Hadwen, who has studied reindeer in Alaska and in northern Europe, stated that the Canadian herd was one of the best he had seen, and expressed satisfaction with the condition of the animals and the methods of handling them.

The smaller herd of reindeer established under native management in the Anderson River area, some 150 miles eastward from the Mackenzie Delta, is reported to be progressing favorably. This herd numbered about 900 head when separated from the main herd in December, 1938, and a substantial fawn-crop in 1939 was reported. The question of corraling and counting the deer in the native herd will depend largely on conditions which may be encountered in regard to a suitable location for a round-up and material available for corral fences.

Truth About Gasoline Prices!
Why pay for extravagant overhead when you buy gasoline? For over-expansion by oil companies that operate unnecessary — and consequently unprofitable — stations? Overhead doesn't improve the quality of gasoline. It merely makes it cost more, and you — the motorist — must pay this extra cost.
GOOD RICH OIL Company stations are selected to give motorists efficient service without unnecessary duplication. We operate a most modern refinery, with every device for economical production. We sell direct from refinery to consumer, and we give motorists the full benefit of the savings effected — as much as 50¢ a gallon.
Test "Blue Star" Gasoline. Prove its quality for yourself. Have up to 50¢ on every gallon you buy.
