Standard Improved in Halton Music Festival

Acton Pupils Won Many Awards in Various Classes - Crowds Turned Away on Second Evening at Event Held in Georgetown-Adjudicator Says Halton Compares Favorably with Any District in This Province.

The Halton Music Festival for 1940 was held in the United Church, Georgetown on Wednesday. Thursday and Priday of last week. Every session was well attended and on Thursday evening it was estimated that over 150 people were turned away from the church, which was filled to the doors by the time the program started.

Mr. Roy Fenwick, Provincial Supervisor of Music for Ontario, was adjudicator for the entire Festival and repeatedly expressed his pleasure and satisfaction at the very high standard which Halton County had attained in its musical education. When asked for a brief expression of opinion for the press, Mr. Fenvick said: "I can safely say that Halton County compares favorably with any district in this Province. and that the standard here has improved noticeably since my last visit two years ago."

The Festival this year was completed in six sessions, as against eight in 1939. This reduction was made possible by holding preliminary elimination tests in the rural areas.

Exceptional talent was evident in several cases at the Festival this yea Little Glonnie Taylor, from Burlington Central, was referred to by Mr. Fenwick as "Lily Pons," on account of her truly remarkable voice. In the vocal solo for girls 11 years and over. Glonnie's song was set in a far higher key than that of the other contestants, but still she had no trouble at all in reaching the

The double trio, comprised of Donald Evans, Jack Stewart. Annetta Evans Joyce Desserault, Jean Harris and Betty Gibson, won second place and the shield The Boys' 25-voice Choir, which was the only choir entered from Actor School this year, was placed third, and had no award. The marks of the successful contestants are given in the various classes.

At the conclusion of the Festival, the President, Mr. W. L Smith of Burlington, on behalf of the Music Festival Board, thanked the Board of Managers of the Georgetown United Church, for the use of their church. Mr. Smith also expressed thanks to all those who had contributed towards the success of the Festival.

Mr. J. A. Partridge, M.A., B.Paed. Public School Inspector for the County of Halton, also expressed his gratification at the splendid work shown by the contestants at the Festival-which he referred to as-"A Feast of Good Music" -work which the Inspector regarded as evidence of good teaching by the super- particularly the lower end of the County. visors in the schools.
