The Trelles have three children, Merle 18; Kay, 17 and Ronald, 7. Kay is a boy, and anxious to join the army. Merle is the winner of an Albert art scholarship.

Army life for Trelle, who celebrated his 45th birthday early this month, is no new experience. During the First Great War he was a member of the first Officers Training Corps, formed at the University of Alberta. Later he became a reinforcement in the 66th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Born in Idaho, he came to Canada with his parents at the age of four and has never thought of living anywhere else. He is a member of the "Old Timers' Association" of Alberta, and thinks Wembley, and particularly his prolific 700-acre farm, is the greatest spot on earth.

From Peace River to Soldier's Life

Former Wheat King, Veteran of First Great War, Now in Ottawa

Ottawa, December 10th (CP)—Herman Trelle, Canada's world wheat king for five years, whose farming achievements set a new mark for Canadian agriculture, is leaving his country in a different way to-day.

Trelle, the farmer, left his rolling acres in the Peace River district of Alberta, to become Sapper Herman Trelle, of the Royal Canadian Engineers. He is stationed at Ottawa at present.

"When I set out to demonstrate that any form of cereal could be grown in the Peace River area," he explained, "I did it for patriotic feeling for the country. Now I am one of the many in the army who are under arms to defend the Dominion for the same reason."

When Trelle "set out to demonstrate" the Peace River area's potentialities, he made his demonstration a practical one.

Not only was he awarded the world wheat title at Chicago in 1926, 1930, 1931, 1932, and 1936, but 17 other world championships came his way. He won these with wheat, oats, rye, flax, barley, peas and timothy seed, grown on his farm near Wembley, Alta.

Winning these agricultural honors was no simple task, but Trelle makes it known that it was an enjoyable one. His eyes light up enthusiastically when he tells of the uphill work entailed over a long period of time in putting the Peace River area on the map.

"I always believed the country would become one of the greatest wheat producing areas in the world," he says, "but I had to prove it to the skeptics."

Distinguished Visitors

With the world wheat crown came new honors. During the past 16 years, three governors-general, Lord Willingdon, the Earl of Bessborough and the late Lord Tweedmouth, visited the "Trelle" farm along with many other distinguished visitors. Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, arranged on behalf of the company a 37,000-mile round-the-world voyage for Mr. and Mrs. Trelle.

Army life for Trelle, who celebrated his 45th birthday early this month, is no new experience. During the First Great War he was a member of the first Officers Training Corps, formed at the University of Alberta. Later he became a reinforcement in the 66th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force.
