IN THE ODOUR OF SANCTITY

Scientist Fourn and Baker of the Portland, (Maine), factories in Sussex, England, have won a contest with an old-fashioned way of doing away with the disagreeable smells which infest air-raid shelters, the proposed remedy is more than a small destroyer, it helps to get rid of germs.

Ordinary pungent incense smoke, said they, kills many kinds of nose and throat germs. To this the famous old-time London Medical Journal said, "It is a strange turn of the wheel which has revealed antiseptic properties in the odour of sanctity." The next best disinfectant is smouldering cardboard, damped with a two-per cent. solution of potassium nitrate (saltpetre) and dried.

FRIENDS HONOR BRIDE OF MONTH IN GIFT SHOWERS

Last Friday evening two groups of friends of Mrs. Florio Tournour (now Miss Dorothy Lazenby) met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ian McDonald to honor her on her recent marriage.

A group of friends and fellow employees of the Storey Glove Co. presented a clock. Mrs. W. McEachern read the following address and Mrs. L. Marshall on behalf of this group made the presentation.

Dear Dolly: It is with great pleasure to-night that we gather here to present you with this gift and to wish you every success in your marriage.

We all feel that we know you so well, Dolly, for there isn't one of us that isn't acquainted with your pleasant smile. To laugh and have fun and create happiness for others is the greatest thing in the world.

So we ask you to accept this clock as a token of our esteem for a happy future or you and Florio.

YOUR FRIENDS IN STORES

Another group of friends chose to express their appreciation of Mrs. Tournour's friendship in a miscellaneous shower of gifts. Miss Nellie Hall read the address and on this group, Mrs. W. McEachern and Mrs. I. MacDonald presented the gifts.

Acton, Ontario, May 9, 1941.

Dear Dolly: This evening it is our pleasure to share a good time with you, and extend to you our best wishes for the future.

As these gifts find their places in your home, we know they will remind you of your friends.

There is nothing more important than a friendly word or smile. Though men may boast of their achievements.

To be loved is more worthwhile. For the pomp of places is hollow. When the noise and clamor ends. And men find their victory worthless if they haven't kept their friends.

Reserve for us always a place in your affections on behalf of your friends.

Mrs. Tournour thanked the groups for their thoughtful expressions and a social evening with a delightful lunch served was enjoyed by the groups.

Growing Toll of Britain's Churches

While Bible Sales Go Leaping Up in Germany

Official figures of the damage done by Nazi bombers to Church property in England and Wales come on the wheels of the affirmation of the Hitler creed in a home broadcast to German youth.

"This," the announcer declared, "is the Creed of our time: We believe in Hitler. And what of the Old Creeds? The scriptures are dead. We need no fairy-tales to-day. Believing, we entrust our destiny to our Fuhrer."

As a practical contribution to the Nazi point of view, their bombers have now destroyed or damaged 2,659 churches of all denominations in England and Wales, apart from vicarages, convents, church halls and mansees. Among the 15 which have been completely destroyed or seriously damaged are the cathedrals of Coventry, Llandaff and St. Paul's (although the main fabric of the latter remains untouched). Westminster Abbey, Westminster Cathedral, and the Deanery of Canterbury have all scars to show the meaning of "kultur."

No fewer than 108 vicarages, 304 churches, 236 church schools, and 36 convents have all been wrecked.

The fact that this Nazi attitude to Christianity is not shared by all who live within the Reich may be inferred from much bigger attendances reported at Catholic and Protestant churches and the increasing sale of the Bible to Germans, other than Nazis. It has gone up from 50,000 in 1930 to 1,520,000 last year.

Seventy Thousand Aeroplane Models

Now On Their Way From Britain To Argentina

The biggest swarm of model aeroplanes which have ever gone out to South America are now on their way from Britain to Argentina. There are 73,264 of them.

They include flying models, made up accurately to scale, with powerful motors enabling them to fly 500 feet. There are representative models of the Spitfire, Avenger, Imp, Vickers-Wellesley, Pass Moth, a raider, mail plane and interceptor fighters, one of the latter having Argentine markings.

Included in the consignment are flying-contruction kits, with which the aircraft enthusiast can assemble for himself realistic flying models of such aircraft as the Heaton Phoenix, Hawker Hurricane, Spitfire and Swallow. Full-scale working drawings and all accessories make the kits complete.

strong posts in the mountainous territory.

Offensive Grows

The Royal Air Force, bolstered by airplanes from the United States, showed its teeth May 8 in Hamburg and Bremen with the strongest force that has crossed the Channel to date.

The following night a "concentrated and destructive" attack on Mannheim and Ludwigshafen in southwestern Germany was reported. On both of these nights other attacks were made on Berlin and other points in Germany as well as "invasion bases" on the English Channel.

The German Air Force, continued heavy attacks on various British cities but met with increasing opposition. During the first nine days of May—121 German planes, including eight bombers brought down over Northern France, were bagged by British fighters.

By Sunday night, May 11, this total had soared to 161. The Germans lost 33 as the result of a furious attack on London Saturday and the rest were brought down the following day when a comparatively light raid on the British capital climaxed a day of scattered attacks. In the Saturday night assault the Houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey and Westminster Hall all suffered severe damage.

British bombers swept the North Sea May 10 in search of targets and the following night appeared over Hamburg for the second destructive raid within a week. Smaller units attacked Berlin and other places in northwest Germany and Nazi-held territory. On Monday night, Mannheim, Ludwigshafen and Cologne were again raided.

Hess Deserts Nazis

A wave of speculation followed the announcement, May 12, that Rudolf Hess, Germany's No. 3 Nazi, had parachuted to earth in Scotland two days earlier after a flight from Augsburg in a Messerschmitt 110 fighter.

British authorities declared that, contrary to a report put out by German authorities, Hess was sane. Hitler's deputy, British authorities stated, did a fine job of flying for one said to be suffering from hallucinations. He reached Scotland from the Bavarian city under cover of darkness, landed a plane to land and when this was found impossible, bailed out before the machine crashed.

While Hitler and his party leaders hurriedly conferred, Hess lay in a Glasgow hospital with an injured foot and British leaders pondered over the strange incident pending reports from those detailed to question him.

On the surface Hess's flight appears to indicate the first breach in the Nazi party since 1933. A German report had it that one of the Nazi leader's hallucinations was an indy-ing hope for restoration of friendship and unity between Britain and Germany and that he might have hoped to bring this about by personal sacrifices. In any case the matter is one in which the British propaganda and intelligence services will play a big part.

Economic and political collaboration between Germany and France is believed to be provided for in decisions reached by Adolf Hitler and Vice-Premier Jean Darlan at a meeting held at an undisclosed place in the presence of German Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop.

The terms were approved by the Petain government May 14. There was still no official indication of what the terms involved but a communique issued at Vichy after a cabinet meeting said "the effects of these negotiations will be felt soon". The communique was considered in some quarters to be a warning to the United States that France is committed to collaboration.

Indian Hospitals Boost Equipment

Sardis and Fisher River Units to Give More Accommodation

OTTAWA, (CP) The Indian Affairs branch of the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys announced a new Indian hospital at Sardis in the Fraser Valley of British Columbia, and enlargement of the hospital at Fisher River Indian Reserve in Manitoba.

At Sardis a building formerly used as a residential school has been remodelled and equipped as a modern, 175-bed sanatorium with X-ray equipment, quarts lamps and facilities for the most advanced type of tuberculosis surgery. The institution's staff now is being selected.

Enlargement of the Fisher River Reserve hospital from 20 to 36 beds has just been completed. The hospital is about 140 miles north of Winnipeg, in a community of about 1,600 Indians. It was opened in July last year, having been built almost entirely by Indian labor.

Routine Business Tuesday's Meeting of Commission

Demand for Wiring of Houses Cannot Be Met by Utilities Employees

The Acton Public Utilities Commission met in regular session Tuesday evening. Commissioner M. Symon was present, with Chairman C. M. Hansen presiding.

A new power contract was presented to be approved for the Ceranale plant.

A ruling was made that in order to get water and light service, without paying the usual deposit, the one applying for these services must produce deed to property.

The secretary was, upon motion of M. Symon and C. M. Hansen, instructed to pay the following accounts:

Hydro Department
Syman Hardware, supplies	$ 9.89
Acton Park Press, printing and advertising	7.17
Northern Electric Co., supplies	3.54
MacDonald Electric Ltd., supplies	15.28
Dept. of National Revenue, Sales Tax	72.49
F. L. Wright, burglary insurance	23.50
	$131.97
Waterworks Department
Hydro Department, power at spring	34.91
Canadian Brass Co., supplies	13.16
Hydro Dept., April operations	141.50
	$189.60

The Commission discussed at some length the advisability of wiring houses etc. It was decided that the regular line and maintenance work could not be neglected to do work for private citizens.

Superintendent Wilson reported that the new gate valve had been installed at the water tank.

Pneumonia Belts

The little does not indicate a new remedy for pneumonia. It is pointed out that pneumonia in North America is confined chiefly to two clear-cut areas which are called pneumonia belts.

One of these belts is in the east, beginning with the Canadian province of Quebec and extending to Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, and along the Atlantic coast. In this area all but four states have pneumonia death-rates above the average.

The second pneumonia belt consists of four states in the mountain region, namely, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada.

Contrary to usual public opinion, neither latitude nor a cold climate conduce to the onset of pneumonia. The provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta and the state of South Dakota are safer from pneumonia than are South Carolina, Georgia and Arizona, which have warmer climates.

It appears that a combination of cold climate and low average humidity as is found in Saskatchewan, Alberta and a number of the United States, operating in favor of a low pneumonia incidence.

About 30,000 Canadians annually become ill of pneumonia and until recently one out of every four attacked, died of it. Now, thanks to the discovery of drugs of the sulphamide class the lives of nine out of ten victims can be saved. Last year in hospital practice pneumonia deaths were reduced by two-thirds. But there remains the problem of prevention.

The chief items in the prevention of pneumonia are:

- 1. Clearing up foci of infection
- 2. The use of the protective foods, meat, milk, eggs, fish, fresh vegetables and fruit
- 3. Plenty of rest and relaxation
- 4. Immediate bed when a cold or an attack of flu comes on

Turkey And China

Get Big Electrical Equipment From Britain

In twelve months no fewer than thirteen complete generating units have been built for overseas by one British firm alone.

In new territory an outstanding order was a complete power station of 60,000 kw. for Turkey, and China received a 20,000 kw. 10,000 rpm turbine plant.

Apart from these large orders, the construction of transformers set up an export record, a considerable part of which was for high-voltage transformers.

New Zealand took seven big vertical-shaft water-wheel alternators, Madras a horizontal-shaft alternator, and South Africa a number of smaller alternators of similar type.

The year's achievement is striking when it is remembered the amount of Government work done at the same time, and, despite the calls of war work upon technicians, a steady improvement in design has also been accomplished over the period, especially of transformers for efficiency and economy.

South Republics Feel War Pinch.

With Export Markets Limited Canada's Potato Trade Curbed

OTTAWA, (CP) J. A. Strong, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Buenos Aires, says it appears unlikely the demand for Canadian certified seed potatoes in Argentina and Uruguay this year will be above that of last autumn unless some unforeseen factor enters the situation.

"The general business situation in Argentina has been seriously affected as a result of the loss of export markets due to the war," he said in a report published in the Commercial Intelligence Journal.

"There is unemployment in industry and commerce and, consequently, consumers will have to reduce their expenditures for essentials. Food prices generally now are very low and agriculture producers are suffering more than producers in other industries. The outlook for sales of Canadian certified seed in Argentina and Uruguay next fall may not differ greatly from the position that existed last year."

LUMBER MARKETS

LIMA, Peru (CP) Imports of Canadian lumber to the west coast of South America have fallen off sharply on account of more profitable markets elsewhere and U.S. lumber is replacing the Canadian product here.

DOCTORS FOR SERVICES

GLASGOW, (CP) Hospitals of England and Scotland have been asked to review their medical services so as to spare all possible doctors for the navy, army and air services.
