This and that

—Mr. Thos. Ware has the exterior of his house on Crescent Street completed.

—The frame work of Mr. C. Holwig's new house on Arthur Street is now up.

—Some one has reminded us that Christmas is just two months from Saturday.

—Poppy Day for Acton and district is being arranged this year for November 8th.

—Fogs have been rather regular these nights and driving has been rather difficult.

—The Fax Pass approves of the new credit ruling. Does your label show your approval?

—The apple crop is not as heavy as usual, but some fine winter apples are now being gathered.

—Help Acton make its regular monthly purchase of a naval gun. Be a regular saver of War Saving Certificates.

—The framed certificate awarded to Pte. Orville Brown by the Royal Canadian Humane Association is on view in Tax Fax Pass window for a few days.

—A fine stock of books for the Armed Forces was left at the Acton Post Office the first week the appeal was made but since then the volume has fallen greatly. If you have any books for the armed forces won't you donate them now. No wrapping, no trouble, just take them to Acton or your nearest Post Office.

AGE LIMITS EXTENDED FOR RECRUITS RESERVE ARMY

In order to assist Reserve Army units to carry on with reinforcing Active Army formations, men of 18 years of age may now enlist in the Reserve with the object of obtaining preliminary training prior to reaching the age which will enable them to enlist for Active Service.

In future the Reserve Army will have three equally important tasks. Their duties will be namely: to act in defence of Canada when required; to aid civil power in case of subversive or other disturbances, and to provide reinforcements for the Active Army.

The tasks assigned to the Reserve Army under its Aid to the Civil Power duty includes: alertness of areas of unit responsibility and reconnaissance of these areas; preparations for quick assembly on short notice; plans for rapid movement within areas, and administration arrangements required should units be called for duty. In order to provide adequately for recruits the age limit for Reserve will be increased to 50 years, and the medical category required for enlistment lowered to category "C".

While at present extensive additional mobilization of Reserve units is not contemplated, plans are being laid so that should the need arise, Reserve units will be maintained that will permit mobilization for home or overseas service. Special attention will be paid to training. Increased distribution of training equipment is being carried out, taking into account the needs of Active units and especially overseas requirements.

DOES BETTER IN COURT

BATH, Me., (C.P.)—Judge G. J. Deering got three ducks on his hunting trip but his substitute in court Harold J. Rubin got seven—confiscated from a pair of hunters who were summoned for shooting them "in sanctuary."

Obituary

WILLIAM CAMERON RAMSHAW.

No better known or more generally respected and appreciated citizen of Nassagaweya, Cameron Ramshaw died very suddenly on Thursday of last week in his fifty-seventh year. To outward appearance in the best of health and doing his regular farm work until the day before his death his passing was indeed a shock not only to his wife but the whole community. He passed away in his sleep. Born on the homestead at lot 28 in the fifth concession of Nassagaweya, Cameron Ramshaw spent his entire life on this farm. He was a member of the late Franklin Ramshaw and Mary Ann Kitching. Thirty years ago he married Mable Charlotte Whitley who survives him and in her sudden bereavement she has the sympathy of many friends.

Cameron Ramshaw in his life seemed a part of his native township. He was in church work and a member of the Board of Stewards of Ebenezer, and treasurer of the M. & M. fund. He took an active and helpful interest in the community and there was no worthwhile enterprise that did not receive his help. As neighbor as friend, as counsellor, Cameron Ramshaw helped all who sought his help. He played the violin and here too he gave of his time and talent in community functions. There is indeed real community sorrow in the passing at this early age of a man who apparently had before him many more years of service to his fellowman.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon with a brief service at the Johnstone & Runley Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. H. L. Bennie, followed by service at Ebenezer church in charge of his pastor, Rev. Mr. Pickersgill. Both services were largely attended by those who desired to pay final tribute to Mr. Ramshaw. He was a member of Walker Lodge A.F. & A.M. and the brethren of this order attended and conducted the Masonic service at the graveside. Interment was made in Rockwood cemetery. Pallbearers were Mable Whitley, Wm. M. Cooper, Wm. Near, Chas. Darby, Geo. Gordon, C. W. Wilson, Roy Findlay and David Hartley. The flower bearers were his neighbors.

Among the floral tributes which also bore testimony to the esteem in which Cameron Ramshaw was held were those from the following: Wife, Mrs. Hannah Jenson, Charlie Ryder and Elgin Whitley; George, Neil and Ross Gordon; Uncle Colin Kitching, Cameron and Viola; Norrie, Violet and Margaret Wilson; John McGregor and family; Mary E. Anderson and family; Aunt Ada Kitching, Mervyn and Gerlie; Walker Lodge, A.F. & A.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Near and family; Henry Moore and family; Mr. and Mrs. McHardy and family; Miss Jennie Whitley; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Little, Rockwood; the Neighbors; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Anderson; Associates of the Orchestra; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Agnew and June; Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Whitham; George and Ethel Agnew; Mrs. McMillan and Margaret; Bloomsbury Literary; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Synott; Nora and Tom, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston and family; the Lowrie family.

ANGUS KENNEDY

Ogden Utah
Angus Kennedy, 76, prominent early day restaurant operator, residing at Ogden for more than 40 years, died September 9th, in Ogden.

He was born July 14, 1865, in Acton, Province of Ontario, Canada, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Kennedy; was schooled in his home town, and as a young man spent some time in Buffalo, New York, before going to Ogden in the 1890's. He operated his own restaurants going there more than 35 years ago, retiring from such ownership in 1931. Since that time he had managed Dick Gunn's Cafe in Salt Lake City, also the coffee shop at the Temple Square Hotel Salt Lake City, and more recently the Kay's Blue Bird cafe in Jackson, until taken ill. He was married in Ogden by the Rev. John Edward Carver on Sept. 25, 1907, to Miss Lillian Crane.

Mr. Kennedy took a great interest in sports, especially baseball. At one time he was president of the Ogden club of the old Northern Utah league and was president of the State league a year later. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church; Weber Lodge No. 6 A.F. & A.M.; Ogden chapter No. 2, Royal Arch Masons; past commander of El Monte commandery No. 2, Knights Templar; past treasurer of the grand commandery of Utah; a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason; a member of El Kalah temple; Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and the Ogden Shrine club and was the first worthy patron of Miriam chapter No. 14, Order of the Eastern Star and a life member of that chapter.

Surviving him are his widow, one son, J. Angus Kennedy, one daughter, Mrs. L. D. Ruckham, and one grandchild, all of Ogden.

West's Wet Spell Means Reduction In Wheat Excess

Much Grain Still To Be Threshed—Lower Grades Bring Better Returns for Livestock

BY CHARLES GUNNING
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Despite numerous delays occasioned by wet weather in many sections of Western Canada's vast grain belt, harvest operations are drawing steadily to a close and reports which indicate that the Dominion's huge surplus may lose its record proportions before another crop year rolls around.

When the 1940-41 crop year ended July 31, there were almost 464,000,000 bushels of wheat in store throughout Canada—largest total in Canada's grain history. Loss of export markets due to the war and successive bumper crops were responsible for the huge supplies on hand.

First indication that stores of wheat would be reduced came when a check-up of 1941 wheat acreage showed that Western farmers were co-operating wholeheartedly with the government in its efforts to decrease yields by acreage reduction.

In its first estimate the Dominion Bureau of Statistics placed the new prairie wheat crop at 256,000,000 bushels compared with 325,000,000 bushels harvested last fall. Private estimates place the western yield as low as 275,000,000 bushels.

Weather conditions since the Bureau's report have been unfavorable for harvesting. Rains have occurred in many sections of the west where harvesting is not yet finished, causing sprouting and other damage.

That good weather is needed is evident from a reliable private crop report which estimated threshing is only 40 per cent completed in Alberta, 57 per cent done in Saskatchewan and 68 per cent finished in Manitoba.

Great for Hogs
Climbing livestock prices have induced many producers to feed wheat of lower grades to hogs and cattle. The continuing low market price of wheat and the rise of oats and barley values also are regarded as factors in the swing toward livestock-feeding.

Because of the unfavorable harvesting conditions it is predicted there will be increased quantities of low grade wheat and grain trade observers said this will result in even greater amounts being used for livestock fodder.

The more wheat that is fed on farms, the less will be available for marketing and some experts forecast that because of the larger farm disposal appearance the Prairie Provinces may be barely able to market the quota of 223,000,000 bushels allotted to them by the government for the 1941-42 crop year.

During the 1940-41 crop annual 16,000,000 bushels of feed wheat were used to sustain livestock in Canada. This is equal to the amount of wheat and flour which Canada exported to Belgium and Holland in the year immediately preceding the outbreak of war.

Wheat For Russia
The increased use of wheat for feeding anticipated during the current crop year is expected to make up for even a greater amount of lost export business. Another angle offered by grain experts is that continued Russian resistance to the German armistice would present a reasonable possibility of Canadian wheat shipments to the Soviet Union via Vladivostok to replenish stocks of wheat destroyed by warfare.

Royal Household Budgets Reduced

No Banquets These Days for Guests, and Personal Expenses Kept Down

LONDON, (CP)—Wartime economies applied in the Royal Household reduced expenses during last year by the equivalent of $100,000. Staffs have been reduced at Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle and ration allowances are observed just as in the homes of all Britons. The simplest meals are observed. Even when the Royal family entertains important guests, there are no banquets nor elaborate food displays.

The King and Queen have bought few new clothes since the start of the war either for themselves or the Princesses. During the First Great War, the late King George V. was characterized, at least $150,000 to war charities from savings on his privy purse. The present King receives no great expense allowance for his privy purse and the Queen has no separate State allowance.

Princess Elizabeth, whose income represents the equivalent of about $27,000 a year gets only $1.25 weekly for pocket money and contributes from it regularly to War Savings.

War Now Brings "Messengerettes"

One thing to be said about the "messengerettes" or "messengerettes" is that they do not whistle. Otherwise they possess the speed and efficiency of the boys they are replacing. The army and war services have recently depleted the delivery forces of Canadian National Telegraphs and girls, such as the Vancouver lassie here pictured, have proven satisfactory for the day time distribution of cables, telegrams and social messages.

Miss Canada's Compact

Carries the Crest of Her Sweetheart's Regiment

Special arrangements have been made to allow Canadians on service in Britain to send home to their wives and sweethearts silverware bearing the insignia of their regiments.

Most of these souvenirs are enamel and silver cigarette cases and compact carrying regimental crests, with the unit's colors running across diagonally. The authorities have helped by waiving for these gifts the usual requirements of an export licence and exchange control forms.

The London silversmiths who make the souvenirs have done similar work for many years past, long before the present war, and specially make the badges for all the principal Canadian regiments. Among the crests are those of the Royal Regiment of Canada, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, Toronto Scottish, Essex Scottish, Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadian), Calgary Highlanders, The Royal Canadian Regiment, Saskatoon Light Infantry (M.G.), Carleton and York Regiments, west Nova Scotia Regiment, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada, Canadian Armored Fighting Vehicle Training Centre, Fusiliers de Mont Royal, Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Canada, 4th Princess Louise Dragoon Guards.

Gateway to Middle East

About to Be Opened Out by London Engineers

The Turkish Government have given London engineers a contract, worth some £200,000, to reconstruct harbor works at Aleksandretta, consisting of a jetty with screw-down foundation, sheds, railway-line and cranes.

It is understood that a similar contract is pending for the port of Mersin across the gulf, the base of a Turkish army corps. Both Aleksandretta and Mersin are connected by rail with Aleppo. The fact that they are so near this vital railway link between Persia and the Middle East, gives both ports considerable military importance, apart from their value at the moment for trade between Turkey and this country.

Aleksandretta has 8,000 sq. metres of covered warehouses, but there are no quays or dry docks. The harbor is not protected by breakwaters, although it is sheltered and gives the safest anchorage all the year round in that part of the world. Ships anchored here drift into the shore and discharge their cargoes into lighters and other small craft for which there is a basin 80 feet long.

ERIN

May Smith, of Guelph, a former student of E. C. S. reported at Halifax last week with the I.C.N., he is connected with the submarine detection and electrical work of the navy.

Large congregations, with a number of visitors, attended the special Home Coming Services at the Church of Christ (Disciples), last Sunday, when a former pastor, Rev. H. L. Richardson, of Acton, conducted the services in the morning and evening.

Good fortune smiled on the officers and directors of Erin Agricultural Society on Monday, when the most delightful day of the fall season was Erin Fair day. That the weather conditions makes or breaks a fair is unquestionable—and in this instance it most certainly had much to do with making the ninety-second anniversary one of the best fairs in the history of the society. The crowd was record; the exhibit in all classes of the live stock and poultry departments were extraordinary, with all classes well filled. Never in the history of the fair was there a display of horses to equal that of Monday, many of which had competed at the C.N.E.—Advocate.

Teachers Ages Pegged At 29?

Virginia Schoolmams Have New Rules of Arithmetic

ROANOKE, Va., (CP)—Some of Roanoke's school teachers seem to have mathematical problems outside the classroom. In filling routine forms, one has given five different birth dates since—and has become two years younger each time. Another filed her birth date, later filed another that made her a year younger, then gave a still third date before filing a "corrected" birth date that made her younger than the others.
