Skipper Tied To His Deck

Atlantic Storms Battled British Destroyer Worse Than Enemy

A BRITISH PORT, (CP)—The 24-year-old destroyer Skikard, veteran of many battles on the high seas, has arrived back at this base for repairs, not as a result of enemy action but victim of an Atlantic gale, described as the worst in a half-century.

For five days and nights mountainous seas pounded and buffeted the old warship, tearing away her funnel, ripping a gaping hole in the boiler room and even denting a gun on the deck.

The skipper, Lt. Cmdr. G. E. Dorek Williams of the Royal Navy, was washed to the deck to keep from being washed overboard. His beard was frozen for four days and icicles formed on his chin. He had nothing to eat except an occasional roasted potato sandwich.

"I never expected to reach port again," said the officer as he thawed out in the wardroom while workmen scurried about outside. "The storm was a corker."

"These old destroyers no longer ride the sea. They just plow into them and the waves were high as the bridge. Depth charges had to be jettisoned. It was dangerous and ratings engaged in the job had to be under water most of the time. The seas aft were terrific."

How to Drive A Beau Crazy

NEW YORK, (CP)—When your beau takes you to the theatre or a concert, does he leave a happier or a "crazier" man? asks Gray Martin, writing on Common Courtesy.

You can tell—even if he never says a word—by checking up on these things:

Do you drop gloves, powder box and handkerchiefs on the floor so that he is constantly forced to stop to retrieve them?

Do you keep up a running fire of whispered comment about the program, so that he misses his favorite passage in the symphony or the second act's best dialogue.

If you behave like this, you need not be surprised to meet John attending the movies or the concert with another girl.

Wool Production Higher in 1942

Total wool production in Canada in 1942 is estimated at 17,536,000 pounds, a substantial increase over the 1941 estimate of 16,311,000 pounds. The production of shorn wool in 1942 amounted to 12,967,000 pounds, an increase of 1,237,000 pounds over the 1941 clip. An increase in the total number of sheep shorn, as well as a similar increase in the average yield per fleece (7.7 pounds in 1942; 7.5 in 1941), are responsible for the increased output. Greater slaughterings of sheep and lambs resulted in a minor increase in the production of greiled wool.

Cash income from the sale of wool in 1942 amounted to $2,977,000, an increase of almost 30 per cent. over the 1941 figure. The average price received at the farm for wool in 1942 was 25.5 cents per pound for all Canada.

Insurance and Real Estate

Now is the time to review your Fire and other lines of Insurance. Are you sufficiently covered? Though rates have dropped considerably, values have increased. Many benefits have been added by the Underwriters, on general and specific lines. Let us advise you.

AUTO INSURANCE

Due to wartime conditions and anticipated further improvement in claims experience as a result in certain driving and reduced speeds, the insurance companies have voluntarily reduced auto insurance rates up to 25 per cent., according to gasoline ration categories. Do not drive unless you are insured. These new low rates make it possible.

Save ALL WASTE fats & bones

Canada needs and must have every spoonful of fat dripping, every piece of scrap fat and every bone from every kitchen in Canada. Fat makes glycerine and glycerine makes high explosives. Bones produce fat. Also plus for war industry.

Don't throw away a single drop of used fat—beef, mutton, mutton, mutton, frying fat—every kind you use. They are urgently needed to win this war.

Strain all drippings through an ordinary strainer into a clean wide-mouthed can. Save your scrap fat (cooked or uncooked) and all types of bones—cooked, uncooked or dry.

When you have collected a pound or more of fat dripping, take it to your nearest dealer who will pay you the established price for the dripping and the scrap fat. Or you can dispose of them through any household or retail store. Complete collection system IN EFFECT in your community.

Be a millionaires number right in your own kitchen. For instance, there is enough explosive power hidden in ten pounds of fat to be 40 anti-aircraft shells. So—every day, this easy way, keep working for Victory for the duration of the war.
