TORONTO, (CP)—Now that the diverting Ontario election campaign is over farmers throughout the province are putting their full weight into harvesting crops which in most categories are much better than had been anticipated two months ago.

Generally speaking, the recovery after the severe winter and wet late spring has been satisfactory.

This is not to say that the election campaign, although thought it was with three parties contesting virtually every riding in the province, affected farm work to any great extent. In most agricultural areas fewer political meetings were held and attendances were smaller,farmers worked doubly hard to offset the manpower shortage.

The provincial farm service force has reported a commendable response to appeals for farm help. More than 500 experienced farm workers from the prairie provinces formed the backbone of additional forces working on Ontario farms and backing them are thousands of high school boys and girls and farm communites. The latter assist in farm work during holidays and spare time.

Reduced acreage and the date-spring will cut down the grain yield, although the measure of recovery was greater than expected. Many farmers have cut their fall wheat.

Root crops are good, but again the shortage of farm help resulted in smaller plantings than usual. It is expected the potato crop will be about 20 per cent. below average.

Considerable feed grain will be shipped in from Western Canada to tide the province over the coming winter. The government is paying a bonus of $1.30 a ton on feed grain brought from the West up to Aug. 31 as part of a program to increase hog production in Ontario. These shipments are freight-free from Fort William. After Aug. 31 the subsidy will be reduced slightly.

Agricultural Minister Dewar stated recently that the subsidy would assist farmers in meeting carrying charges such as storage, interest on outlay and insurance on grain ordered.

The government's subsidy is expected to run into a substantial amount.
