A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT OTTAWA

With speciality for the weekly newspaper of Canada BY JIM GREENLAW

It would make excess reading for me to enlarge at length on the things weekly readers have already heard or read of President Roosevelt's visit to Ottawa. A few personal impressions might be more appropriate even at this date. After a close-up view during his address under the Peace Tower I am willing to "string along with Roosevelt" as I am with Churchill. He is the typical Happy Warrior; he simply radiates greatness, leadership, inspires confidence. You can see his face for hours afterwards. Here is a man in whom one feels one can trust our destiny, that of our children.

You should have seen his face when making that statement about being "everlastingly angry" at those who think the Four Freedoms of the Atlantic Charter are unattainable. And his broad shoulders seemed to reach up into his tanned, healthy face and jutting jaw line when he said, "we are going to get rid of these outlaws this time."

You felt ready to kick off the national sidewalk any selfish political individuals or interests when he declared the good old days were not that in every sense and he rather believed "we can achieve new and better days." After seeing him I believe the saying that men make history, not history makes men. The imprint of his visit to the capital will be profoundly embedded in the minds of things to come.

The great crowd on Parliament Hill was a sight to be remembered. The picture, the reaction was best summed up by that famous internationally known writer, Paul Ludwig, who was present. "What impressed me most was the gaiety without hysteria, the friendliness, the serenity and the hearty welcome without noise. The picture was like a folk festival—completely peaceful as if there could be no war in the world."

I thought it a fine gesture that at the luncheon at Government House invited to meet Mr. Roosevelt were Gordon Graydon, Opposition Leader in the House, Mr. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. leader and J. H. Blackmore, Social Credit leader, among others prominent in our political life.

Because statistics show increased butter production in Canada, there are some who complain about the ration allowance. Quite appropriately this week one of the local papers dealt editorially with this matter pointing out "overseas needs" is the answer. One item, for instance, the food parcels going to our prisoners of war—100,000 of them weekly—each includes a pound of butter, pound of dried whole milk, quarter pound of cheese. That's only a part of the overseas requirements from Canada.

In the office of J. W. G. Clark, director in chief of information for the armed services, the other day I was shown something which your boys in the forces at home and overseas will really enjoy—a series of paintings depicting scenes in various parts of Canada. These were done in oils voluntarily through a committee of Canadian artists and then reproduced in silk screen, framed 30 by 40 inches, with the cost being borne by well-known Canadian business and industrial firms. There are 25 subjects, ranging from a fishing scene in the Maritimes to a winter, Panoram on the Prairies, and there will be 300 reproductions of each, 7500 in all. Every "men's" mess (not officers') will get a set or portion to suit space available. A swell idea, and while it will create nostalgia on the part of the boys, will they ever enjoy the homespun scenes. The artistry in each is superb.

Summer holidays are on the wane and 'twon't be long before the Ladies Aid, Church Associations, etc., get down to the serious business of organizing autumn and winter programs. Is your organization represented on the women's regional advisory committee to the Consumers Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board? Ladies' groups should have a definite period for discussion of wartime civilian regulations and your liaison officer, who represents you on the advisory committee will have up-to-the-minute information on new regulations. Make sure your local corresponding member knows the name of your officer. At present there are 12,000 active officers giving leadership to the women of Canada in the fight against inflation.

Snappiest parade (of many) seen in

Naval Service Headquarters today announced the appointment of Captain V. S. Godfrey, R.C.N., as Naval Member of the Canadian Joint Staff in Washington. Captain Godfrey succeeds Rear Admiral Brodeur who has been appointed Commanding Officer Pacific Coast.

Ottawa was on a past Sunday when the girls of the C.W.A.C. put on a parade on the main thoroughfare. Oddly, but really good, was the girls' own pipe band, with the pipers wearing Tam o' Shaners. The girls can sure make those bags bulge with music.

Here's a 64 dollar question. Is there any place in the British Empire where the flag is never lowered, flies constantly? Only one, at Lucknow in India. Has flown ever since the Siege of Lucknow by royal decree. I am told.

After 40 years of experience in growing trees on the Prairies, Norman Ross, former superintendent of the Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head, Sask., gives out that in his opinion grass growing in shelter-belts has killed more trees than drought itself. He sees the time come to make greater use of longer lived trees than poplar and Manitoba maple.

The modern age of transporting. Looking out of my window in the New Supreme Court Building at the Peace Tower I see in one glance a big transport plane overhead; on the Ottawa River below a tug pulling a big boom of logs to the pulp mill on the Hull, Quebec, side; a speedboat and a rowboat; on the bridge crossing to Hull can be seen at one and the same time a passenger train, a street car, a load of hay, cars and trucks passing to and fro, as well as boys on bicycles.

Announcement here of the new Joint War Aid Committee, United States-Canada, is important. Its decisions will probably have much to do in directing the course of action of Canadian and American cabinet directing bodies in the disposition among United Nations of vast quantities of war supplies, running into many billions of dollars. If any of the United Nations asks for tanks, planes, guns or wheat, the question of where that supply is to come from is, of course, most important. It is a possibility that the committee might be expanded and continued into the post-war era when hungry nations of Europe will seek sustenance from the two greatest food storehouses of the world—Canada and the U.S.A.

The 6th Compulsory Employment Transfer Order issued by National Selective Service embraces men who have reached their 16th birthday, and have not passed their 41st. Ex-service men must register but are not compelled to accept other jobs. After Sept. 8 employers in the named list of occupations who retain men in the categories without N.S.S. permit are breaking the law. Among the exempt occupations in the wholesale line are included farm products, food products, fuel, ice, gas, oil, grease, lumber, building materials, machinery and allied equipment. Employers would do well to see that they familiarize themselves with the order, which goes into detail.

Farmers of Eastern Canada are again urged to buy oats from the west now and take advantage of existing transportation facilities and subsidy which is on for buying feed grains for storage. There may have been a little difficulty lately in getting western barley because offerings to date have not always been equal to the demand. What is desired is a continuous flow of feed grains to eastern Canada. Talking of barley the 1943 carry-over is an all time record, placed at 69,253,707 bushels compared with 10,908, 001 in 1942.

Not a fish story. Despite the drag of war, production of the Nova Scotia fisheries reached the highest point in history of the province in 1942, the marketed value being $15,297,446, a 21 per cent. increase over previous years.

After eighteen months of anxious waiting, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ferrey, Havelock, received the glad tidings telling them of the safety of their son, Lieut. James Ferrey, who had previously been reported as wounded and a prisoner of war.

In Magistrate's court at Milton last Wednesday, Magistrate Y. E. Fritsch and sentenced Wilfred Swick to three and one-half years in the penitentiary when he was convicted on eight charges of breaking and entering and theft. Joseph Shearer was sentenced to six years on nine similar charges. Together the two men had broken into the garage owned by R. J. Early, Campbellville, and a refreshment booth run in connection with the garage.

On Monday afternoon a peculiar robbery took place at Hallermann's Service Station, Locust and Water Streets, when a stranger entered the garage and removed $5.00 from the till while the proprietor worked on a car at the side of the garage. Mr. Hallermann noticed the man enter the office and then as he walked towards the office the stranger noticed him coming and slid out the side. Mr. Hallermann discovered the till had been pried open and immediately took after the stranger. He was captured and the Chief of Police called. The man admitted taking $5.00, but said he had not eaten since Friday, and wanted it for food and his fare to return to his home in Toronto. Upon investigation, after placing the man in Milton jail, Chief Smith discovered the man had a good business in Toronto and a large sum of money in the bank.—Gazette.

CARPETS FOR GLASS

ZURICH, (CP)—In Germany the government has confiscated all stocks of carpets from wholesalers and retailers. The official reason is that supplies of glass are insufficient to replace windows smashed in R.A.F. raids and carpets are used as draught preventers.
