DEED

SOMERVILLE—At the Toronto General Hospital, on Thursday, January 26th, 1944, James Russell Somerville, son of the late Fyfe and Margaret Somerville, in his 61st year.

CARDS OF THANKS

Mr. George Brown and Family wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to their many friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy and floral tributes extended during their recent sad bereavement.

The Brothers and Sisters of the late Wm. Murray appreciate deeply the kindness that was shown Mrs. Murray by many friends during her lengthy illness. The sympathy expressed in so many ways at the time of her passing away is gratefully remembered.

The Brothers and Sisters of the late Russell Somerville wish to express their sincere thanks for the many kind acts extending by neighbors and friends during his illness. The Christian greetings and gifts helped to brighten his days while in the hospital and the many kind acts and expressions of sympathy have been a wonderful comfort and greatly appreciated.

—A group of four deer were seen the other evening in the neighborhood of Speyside.

—Mid-January and the temperature over fifty out-of-doors yesterday. It's a lovely winter season.

—Many cisterns in town are dry owing to the long period of dry weather and lack of snow.

—Items of social news are always welcomed for our columns. Just phone or drop them into the office.

—The January thaw has extended pretty well through the month, and with nothing much to thaw either.

—Recollections of last winter have stifled any sighs that might have been made this year for a real old-fashioned winter.

—Summer weather! Moths were seen in front of the headlights of a car coming along No. 25 Highway on Tuesday evening.

—Motor licenses went on sale on Monday. The nice little sticker goes on the driver's side of the vehicle this time. It's certainly convenient to get them locally.

—At a recent meeting of the Acton Progressive Conservative Association, A. Claude Grey was elected President succeeding Mrs. D. H. Lindsay who recently resigned.

—To keep within our allowance of newspaper for 1944 your paper this week is a little smaller. This may occur from time to time during the year to meet the requirements under which we are working at present.

YOUTH'S HOME TASKS

A newspaper joker has one about the boy who wants to know what there is in it for him if he runs an errand for the home folks. It may be legitimate to pay boys and girls for some little services they render to the home. Yet it would seem that they owe something to the home that gives them food and clothing and comforts and care. They should be glad to give some co-operation of their own in maintaining their homes. The boys and girls can well be asked to perform certain regular tasks as their contribution to the family effort, and without expecting to be paid for these efforts. Running errands for Mother and Father is a traditional youth activity, and it should be done with cheerfulness and alacrity.

Obituary

MRS. WM. MURRAY

Another of those members of pioneer families who have made Acton and district their home all through their lifetime, Mrs. Wm. Murray, passed away on January 19th at her home on Mill Street. She had been in failing health for some time and the last few years was partly invalid.

Mrs. Murray was before marriage Emily Jane Williamson, a daughter of the late David Williamson. She was born in Acton when her father was the blacksmith in the shop on Main Street. Later the family moved to Nassagaweya Township. Following her marriage in 1890 to Wm. Murray, the couple resided on farms in Esqueving Township. For many years they owned the property now The Blue Springs Scout Reserve. In fact this property was developed by Mr. and Mrs. Murray as the Blue Springs Park and sold by them to the Boy Scouts Association. It had many happy associations for her and she was, when health permitted, a frequent visitor to that old home.

Seven years ago her husband passed away. One sister, Mrs. Albert Young, Acton and two brother, Fred of Streetsville and John of Acton, and the surviving members of the family and to them the sympathy of many friends goes at this time.

Mrs. Murray was a member of the United Church and when health permitted enjoyed and attended its services, regularly. The funeral service last Friday afternoon was in charge of her pastor, Rev. A. W. Fosbury. Interment was made at Fairview Cemetery, Acton.

The pallbearers were Messrs. A. T. Brown, Thos. Watson, Fred Cleaves, E. Cripps, W. Lashy and R. W. Lowrie.

JAMES RUSSELL SOMERVILLE

James Russell Somerville passed away rather suddenly on Thursday, January 26th, at Toronto General Hospital, where he had been undergoing treatment for a heart condition for ten weeks.

He was born near Eden Mills, on the farm now occupied by Mr. Charles Lee. In 1886 he came with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe Somerville, to the farm on the Town Line, Nassagaweya, where he resided the rest of his life with the exception of a few years spent in Western Canada.

Two brothers and three sisters remain, Dr. W. R. Somerville, of Halleybury, George at Acton, Mrs. W. W. Matheson, of Georgetown, Mrs. Kennedy, and Miss Minnie at home.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon. The service was held at the home in charge of Rev. Mr. McNell, of Campbellville, who acted for Rev. Forbes Thomson, who was ill. Here a large number of friends, neighbors and relatives gathered to pay tribute to the late Mr. Somerville. Interment was in the family plot at Limehouse.

The pallbearers were Messrs. J. Black, D. Barber, C. vanCozen, J. McGregor, T. Storey and Wm. McLaughlin, all old and respected neighbors of the deceased. The flower bearers were Donald and Reid Matheson, Fyfe and Billy Somerville, nephews.

MRS. GEO. BROWN

In failing health for some years and an invalid the past year, Mrs. Geo. Brown passed away on January 15th at the Western Hospital in Toronto. She was in her sixtieth year.

Born in London, Ontario, a daughter of Banon and the late Mrs. Lipsitt, she married Geo. Brown thirty-eight years ago. Before coming to Acton in 1927, Mr. and Mrs. Brown had resided in Guelph.

Besides the sorrowing husband a family of ten children remain to revere the memory of a beloved mother. They are Clarence, near Burlington; Howard in California; Orville, with the Canadian Army overseas; Marjorie (Mrs. Fred Hull) Stony Lake; Clifford, at Moffat; Leslie in Nevada Sound; Lloyd and Helen at home and Donald in Acton. Her father and one brother, Ernest Lipsitt of Coleman, Alta., also remain. Friends at this time extend sympathy to this family in their bereavement.

The funeral was held on Tuesday with her pastor, Rev. A. W. Fosbury of the United Church conducting the service here at the home on Main Street. At the funeral home in Mount Bridges, Rev. C. E. Beacom had charge of the service. Interment was made in Mount Bridges Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Harry Lipsitt, Edward Longfield, Clare Brown, Ray Northcott, Leonard Coates and Asa Lipsitt.

The Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, JANUARY 22nd, 1944

JESUS USES HIS POWER TO HELP Golden Text.—Why are ye fearful, have ye not yet faith? Mk. 4: 40 Lesson Text.—Mk. 4: 35-41; 5: 35-43.

Time.—A. D. 28. Places.—Capernaum and Sea of Galilee. Exposition.—I. Jesus Encouraging the Fearful, 35, 36.

Jesus had been delayed on the way in ministering to the woman who touched the hem of His garment and was made whole. Meantime the little girl died. It seemed as if Jesus was now too late. It often seems so (Jno. 11: 21), but He never is. When these awful words, "Thy daughter is dead," fell on the ears of Jairus, his faith wavered, his heart sank and fear seized him. But Jesus buoyed his sinking faith with the glorious words, "Fear not, only believe." Jesus proposes but one cure for fear, i. e., faith (Jno. 14: 1). Fear comes from unbelief; fearlessness comes from faith (Jas. 2: 3; 50; 10; 12; 2). Faith and fear cannot coexist in the same heart. When faith comes in, fear goes out. Jesus put this promise underneath Jairus' sinking faith, "She shall be made whole" (Luke 8: 50). There was but one condition, "only believe." It is the condition to the enjoyment of all God's promises (Mk. 9: 23; Jno. 11: 40).

II. Jesus Rebuking the Unduly Sorrowful and the Scornful, 37-40. Jesus made no parade of His miracles: He rather concealed them (v. 43). He suffered no one to follow Him save Peter and James and John the inner circle of the apostolic company (Luke 9: 28; Mk. 14: 33). Jesus found an unseemly tumult at the home (Matt. 9: 23). Jesus, in hearty disgust at the uproar, asks, "Why make ye a tumult and weep? Jesus is always displeased with undue lamentations over departed friends (1 Thes. 4: 13). He gives a good reason why the lamentation should cease at once, "The child is not dead but sleepeth." The reason holds for all our friends who have fallen asleep in Jesus (1 Thes. 4: 14; Ac. 7: 60; 1 Tim. 4: 16, 17). The sleep which they have entered is not a state of unconsciousness, but of blessed fellowship with Christ (Phil. 1: 23; 2 Cor. 5: 8). Jesus' statement was received with derisive laughter. So far as sense could see, the maiden was dead indeed. The scorners had reason and common sense on their side, but they were wrong. On the other side was nothing but the word of the Son of God; that was the only ground for faith and hope that Jairus had, but it was enough. When reason and common sense are on one side and the word of the Son of God on the other, the truly wise man will not hesitate which to accept. The "superstitious, ignorant people" who accepted the word of Jesus against the testimony of their own senses came out better at the end than the "reasonable" people who scorned them. Jesus entered into an argument with the scorners; He simply "put them all out." That will be His final treatment of all scorners (Rev. 21: 8).

III. Jesus Raising the Dead, 41-43. Now comes the wondrous story. The scorners and the formal mourners' all gone, Jesus works. He approaches the bed. He takes the dead child by the hand. He utters two words, "Damsel, arise." It is done, she arises, walks. O glorious Christ! Some sweet day He will speak the word to our sleeping loved ones and they too shall arise to sleep no more (Jno. 5: 28, 29). Note the taking by the hand. It was a frequent practice of our Lord (Mk. 3: 31; 8: 23; 9: 27; Matt. 14: 31). He is ready to take all by the hand to-day (Isa. 41: 13).

IV. The Son of Man Aleep, 35-38. It had been a very busy day for Jesus (vs. 1-34). Much of it had been spent in teaching the vast multitudes that thronged down to the seaside to hear Him. We see Jesus in this lesson as a mighty worker, but we glimpse of Him in His weakness as real man. "Jehovah, God, he that keepeth Israel, neither slumbers nor sleeps" (Ps. 121: 4), but Jesus was as truly man as He was God; the Word became flesh (Jno. 1: 14). It was a terrific storm that swept down on the little boat. The waves dashed over the sides of the boat, so that it was filled and apparently in danger of sinking, but there was no real danger. Matthew tells us a prayer they offered which is not recorded in Mark: "Save, Lord, we perish" (Matt. 8: 25).

V. The Son of God Exercising Authority over Wind and Sea, 39-43. Jesus first rebuked the disciples and then the storm (Matt. 8: 26). His rebuke of the disciples should be deeply pondered. "Why are ye fearful? True faith in Him banishes all fear (Jno. 14: 1; 27). The whole trouble was "little faith," and whenever we are afraid under any circumstances, the trouble is always "little faith." Now Jesus rises in His majesty as Son of God. He can sympathize with us because He is truly man and He can always deliver because He is truly God.

THIS WEEK

BY JOHN C. SCOTT

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario was honoured this week by a visit from Britain's distinguished ambassador to the United States—Lord Halifax—who delivered an address which Premier Drew termed "a very great speech which may well mark the turning point in the thinking of our people."

In an address at the Toronto Board of Trade's centennial dinner, Lord Halifax suggested that the British Commonwealth of Nations and not Britain alone—must be the fourth power to stand with Russia, China and the United States in the determination of future world policies.

Unity of the Commonwealth in peace as well as war, was advanced by the speaker as a condition necessary to the future peace of the world. If Britain, in the future, were to play her part without assuming burdens greater than she could support, she must have with her in peace the same strength that had sustained her in war.

Lord Halifax said the Statute of Westminster, which conferred independence upon the British nations, necessitated also an interdependence which requires unity on such problems as foreign policy, defence, economic affairs, colonial questions and communications.

In some aspects the ambassador's address was similar in tone to one delivered in London last November by Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa. Smuts also remarked that Britain alone would be unequal in a partnership with Russia, China and the United States, and urged intimate relations with the small democracies in Western Europe as well as closer empire links.

Dr. T. W. Hogg, chairman and chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, thinks rural Ontario will provide an annual post-war market for electrical appliances and equipment and accessory materials valued at $4,000,000.

In a statement here, Dr. Hogg said that the commission already had made representations to the federal metals controller for the release of materials needed to extend hydro service in many of Ontario's rural areas. The commission hoped in the coming months to extend service on existing rural lines and to add new extensions making power available to an additional 5,000 farms.

Dr. Hogg said such extension of hydro service would serve to increase food production.

Discussing the commission's new rural rate structure, the chairman said 97 per cent of the province's rural power consumers had received a reduction in the cost of their electricity. He added that existing consumers particularly on farms, used only about 12 1/2 per cent of the power they could consume.

The Ontario legislature is to have a new seating plan for its members.

GEORGETOWN

At court held last Wednesday morning by Magistrate Woodliffe in the Municipal Building, four cases of having liquor illegally were dealt with and fines of $10.00 each and costs, were imposed.

The sudden death in Toronto, on Thursday, January 13th, of William H. Long, a lifelong resident of Georgetown, and for the past fourteen years the proprietor of Long's Confectionery Store and Gray Coach Depot, came as a great shock to the citizens of this community. He was in his 51st year.

An enthusiastic gathering was present at the McGibbon House on Saturday afternoon, January 15th, when Esqueving Agricultural Society (probably better known as the Georgetown Fair Board) held their annual meeting. President Craig Reid was in the chair. Treasurer P. W. Cleave, who has held this position for the past 21 years, gave a very encouraging report. The Society had started 1943 with a $300.00 deficit, and this had been entirely wiped off, and a balance of $843 still in the treasury. Gate receipts this year totalled $435.69, compared with $308.50 in 1942; cash donations were also much higher, $445.75 being collected, compared with the previous year's amount of $337.50. The Society paid out over $150.00 more in prize money in 1943 ($29.50) showing a decided increase in exhibits in some classes.—Herald.

NOTICE

Henceforth, to facilitate the Collection of Garbage, it is requested, in so far as possible, that ashes and garbage be put out in separate containers. By doing this it will be possible to use the ashes inside the corporation as fill and shorten the trip to the present dump, while the cans and garbage will be disposed of as hitherto in the municipal dump.

Proper type covered metal containers must be used. Covers are very necessary as after a rain storm in the winter garbage freezes and makes it impossible to empty container.

No containers with contents should at any time weigh more than 60 lbs., nor should water be thrown upon the ashes because of freezing.

The Reeve and Councillors will appreciate the co-operation of All Citizens in this matter.
