Industry Testing New Insecticide To Determine Use

WASH DC (CP)—DDT the wonder insecticide of this war is not yet ready for civilian use...

There are two good reasons why military use of DDT is not yet ready for civilian use...

Industry is testing a lot of insecticides with it, too, for use as a...

DDT had been in use for months before its development was announced...

But in those cases it is used by men who know how to handle it...

The War Production Board says its members agree that it should not be used for commercial use...

How extensively can it be used in agriculture? DDT will be the best...

But there are quite a few varieties, apparently which it won't kill...

Suppose two different kinds of insects destroy apples. Suppose DDT kills only one of those insects...

And experiments have found just these problems. And they have found just this: Some trees treated...

He also said that other tests—with dusting powders and mists containing DDT—on mice, rats, guinea pigs...
