ation had not passed the Curlew Bill for storage as it was under the jurisdiction of the Military Authorities. Mr. Tolson had agreed to give permission if Council sanctioned. It was pointed out this permission must come from the Department of National Defense and Council could issue no instructions or give no sanction, but it must be secured from the Department of National Defense.

Mr. Harrop gave prices on new posts for use in raising Stop Street signs and suggested these be used as now in use on the highway. He also was arranging to have signs repaired. Council approved of this work.

Council discussed the collection of garbage. It has been found difficult to maintain collection and get repair work done that was necessary and other municipal maintenance. The following motion was passed: "That we advertise for tenders for collection of garbage for one year from August 30th, 1945. Tenders to be addressed to the Clerk and received not later than August 7th, 1945. Lowest tender not necessarily accepted. Provisions to be same as previous contract."

It was decided to furnish tile for a driveway for Geo. Holmes at Main and Brock Streets provided it be built and maintained by Mr. Holmes.

Mr. Harrop drew to attention of Council that the present map of Acton was old and it was difficult to be accurate on the measurement of lots in making the assessment. Mr. Harrop also gave information to Council he had secured at the Assessor's Convention.

SAHLORS APPRECIATE RECEIVING MAGAZINES AND PASS AROUND

Lots of folks who have contributed magazines to the collection for servicemen have often wondered where they went. Not many found out, but here is a letter received by Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Acton, which tells how they are appreciated. The letter tells the story best so here it is.

Dear Mrs. McDonald:

I hope you will not mind my writing to you, but I thought you might like to know where your copy of the "National" dated April 1944, has ended up. We called into Halifax a few days ago, while we were there, in hours, a parcel of magazines was put on board. We were certainly pleased to receive them. I have just finished reading the National so I thought I would like to write and thank you for contributing it. When we reach our next port, on the West African coast, I will send it ashore with some other mags, to a friend of mine, who is stationed there and I am sure he will be as pleased to receive them as my shipmates and I were.

I must close now, as I have the 3-4 lookout, so I hope this letter finds you in the best of health, as it leaves me at present.

Yours sincerely
RAYMOND WOLFENDER

Tiny Village Slated For Invasion Centre

French Hamlet Prepared For Nazi Headquarters But Never Used

VIRENGY, France (CP) - This quiet farming village, a tiny speck on the map, was destined for an important place in the world history the Axis was making Supreme Headquarters for Germany's invasion of Britain.

Millions of marks and the work of thousands of slave laborers were poured into the construction of one of the most elaborate, heavily fortified and admirably camouflaged areas - 35 by 45 miles in all of Hitler's conquered territory. But it never was used. Abandoned before the advancing U.S. armies last year, the German crew had time only to burst the bushes of the guns, and rip out the power installations.

An old chateau was set up as Heinrich Himmler's headquarters, and the Germans utilized the surrounding pastoral scene, which they left untouched but they reinforced the chateau, modernized the interior, and built and camouflaged a huge air-raid shelter nearby.

Barracks, shelters, pillboxes, fox holes, ear posts and gun positions are covered with chicken-wire hung with plastic leaves and plastic flowers. Some of the leaves also were made from squares of French newspapers, compressed, cut and then painted the color of natural scenery.

POTATO BEETLE MENACE

LONDON (CP) - Reports that the Colorado potato beetle is prevalent in the recently-liberated Channel Islands are causing concern to farmers in Britain as the constant traffic with the Channel Islands may introduce the beetle into Britain. The beetle can also be blown here by the wind.

THIS WEEK

By JEAN THOMPSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, July 25 (CP) - The special four-day session of the 22nd Ontario Legislature, elected at the general election in June, was prorogued by Lieutenant-Governor Albert Matthews last Friday.

Just before the close of the session members approved a government motion to appoint a select House committee to study labor legislation. Before the next session of the legislature which the premier announced for this fall, the Dominion provincial conference will be held in Ottawa.

Premier Drew said he hoped the conference would approve the principle of a national labor code, but if such a motion were not taken, Ontario would be in a position to go ahead with her own committee. Composition of the committee will comprise eight government members and four opposition members, of whom two will be Liberals, one C. C. F. and one Labor-Progressive.

A report from the Health Department showed heart disease to be the most common cause of death in Ontario, with cancer second. A "noted" increase in mental illness among older people was reported from Ontario hospitals' statistics. During 1944, 2,297 new patients were admitted and 1,874 patients discharged.

The royal commission inquiring into C. C. F. Leader E. B. Joffe's charge that the Ontario Government of Premier Drew maintained "a paid political police" - "Gestapo" - last week concluded hearings which began more than a month ago. The report of the commission, Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel, is expected to be handed down in September.

Since the inquiry opened June 29, evidence was heard in 17 days and more than 1,000 words of testimony entered. Thirty-six witnesses were heard and 247 exhibits filed. The final three days of the inquiry consisted of argument by counsel.

Mr. Joffe, the first witness before the commission, was also the last. He reaffirmed his charges after the commission counsel Joseph Sedgewick, K.C., had wound up rough-edged argument by declaring the charges must be found "completely baseless."

Others to present argument were E. A. Brown, counsel for E. B. Joffe; H. E. Cartwright, for constable John Alvin Rowe; C. R. Mazine, for the Ontario Provincial Police; J. L. Cohen for several union locals and officials; and D. J. Walker, and J. J. Robinson for M. A. Sanderson and F. L. E. Wismer respectively.

BANTAM WYANDOTTES NEW POULTRY BREED

VANCOUVER (CP) - A new race of bantam poultry is being born in Vancouver where William Stibbards, retired building contractor is experimenting with new breeds of pouter poultry. At his four-thousand poultry farm here Mr. Stibbards is working with 300 birds embracing 20 standard varieties of pint-sized fowl.

In the Stibbards pens are prize full-size Wyandotte cockerels some of which average more than eight pounds. Nearly are they reflex of the same birds weighing little more than 20 ounces.

The big Wyandottes were crossed with bantams and the smallest progeny picked out and bred in smaller type until the true bantam Wyandotte became a breed.

Mr. Stibbards said he believes that he has on his farm some of the finest silver variety of Sibirights in the west. They are tiny silver birds with markings which make it appear they have been covered with a shawl of black lace.

In other pens are champions of all the best known bantam breeds including Silkies, Black and Buff Cochins, Dark Cornish, Black Rosecombs, White and Golden Wyandottes.

LITTLE BUTTERCUP HAS POISON PUNCH

NEW YORK (CP) - Buttercups have been found to yield a juice which activates the germs of typhoid, cholera and some other microbes, but which is too poisonous for use as medicine.

The discovery was made by Ben Oler, C. Seegal and Margaret Holden of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University.

Scientists are not overlooking the flowers in their search for antibiotics or drugs from living sources which combat disease. Penicillin is an antibiotic which comes from green mold.

HEAVY RAINFALL

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) - South-western Alberta is one of the brightest spots on the prairie agricultural map, favored by nearly a foot of rain in many areas in April and May - more than double the long-time average. Livestock are showing benefits from improved grass growth.

FROM-LEG FAMINE LOOMS

SARNA, Ont. (CP) - Lambton County's long leg harvest was unprofitable this year. District Indians who catch and sell the delicacy to large hotels throughout the continent report cool weather drove frogs into the grass where they were difficult to locate.

RETURNS TO BOYHOOD TOWN AFTER ABSENCE OF OVER 50 YEARS

Mr. C. N. Moorehead of Pittsburg, Pa., a resident of Acton over fifty years ago was in town this week visiting the scenes of his boyhood. He found some of the residences and places of those days that were familiar to him and met some friends who remembered him. His father came to Acton from the United States and was the expert tanner at the Beardwood plant for several years. Mr. Moorehead failed to recognize any of the tannery of to-day, as recalling the building of half a century ago.

STILL HAS HIS ISLAND

VANCOUVER (CP) - Paul Lambert of nearby Lasquet Island offered to bet one of his private islands in the Gulf of Georgia, with nine acres of forest land, harbor and beaches, against $1,500 that President Roosevelt would be re-elected. There were no takers - much to Lambert's disgust.
