Obituary

Mrs. Marie Middleton

Hamilton. Many friends here will sympathize with Customs Officer Wm. Middleton in the passing last week of his mother Mrs. Marie Middleton at her home in Hamilton, aged 84 years.

A native of Belfast, Ireland, she had lived in Hamilton 25 years, and was a member of the United Church. Her husband died in 1913.

Surviving are three sons, James and Cecil, both of Toronto; William, of Acton; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Penrose, Hamilton; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Holmes, Clinton; two brothers, John Hawthorn, Brantford, and James Hawthorne, California; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at Westmount Memorial Park Cemetery.

Miss Nettie Bryers

Napanee. Miss Mary Antoinette (Nettie) Bryers, who had been ill for about two weeks, died on Monday afternoon, August 20th, at the Campbell Nursing Home, where she had been moved a few days before from her home on Centre Street, in Napanee.

Miss Bryers had been a resident of Napanee for over forty years. She was a daughter of the late Rev. William Bryers and his wife Sarah Eliza Priest. She was born in 1867 at Hullettsville, near Hagersville, in Weston Ontario, where her father was stationed as a Methodist minister. In the years following she lived with the parents at Norwich, Port Dover, Welland, Wingham, Fergus, Acton, Leamington, Kingsville and Sheddin. Following her father's retirement from the active ministry, the family home was at Acton for ten years, after which residence was taken up at Napanee, where her parents died.

Throughout her long life, Miss Bryers was actively engaged in church work and during her residence in Napanee, was a faithful attendant of Trinity United Church. She was noted for her kindness to a large circle of friends and acquaintances, both young and old, and for her ready wit. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Fred Bryers, Toronto, and was predeceased by two sisters, Mrs. C. A. Robinson and Mrs. J. C. Bartel and by one brother, Morley. Her funeral was held Wednesday at the Warriman Funeral Home, by Rev. P. D. Cameron and interment was at Riverside Cemetery, Napanee. Burial.

The Letter Box

Dear Mr. Dills: Just a few lines to thank you people of Acton and district for the many gifts received from you in the past. I am sure that all the boys look forward to the day especially, I was down to one package of twenty-five just a few days ago, when in came three hundred from the A. & V. League which were sure welcome. The most of you may be surprised to hear I volunteered for occupation. My new address is 2 203 Inf. Ord. Sub. Park, R.C.O.C., C.O.F. I met Jim Marshall and Bob Louttit in Utrecht, Holland a few weeks ago and they haven't changed much, except they have grown a lot since I last saw them. I haven't met many boys from home overseas, for some unknown reason. I am just inside of Oldenburg about half a mile and it is a nice town, but very dead. Not very many people speak to you so far, they haven't forgotten how we used to ignore them on the street. They have a marvelous country and the homes, etc. are very clean and modern. It's a shame it had to be war-torn so over a good reason as it was, just over a few men that craved military might. Leaves have started again and I have hopes of mine in September or early October. For a long time our leaves have been frozen but were started this week for the first. I have hopes of having a leave to Berlin before I go home. I intend to go on all tours etc. I can as it is worth seeing while you have the chance. For now I will have to close once again. Thanking you and all at once with the children of Woodside School for the gifts received in the past. I will only be too pleased to hear from any of you who care to drop a few lines this way and will answer them all. Wishing you all the best. I sign off and go back to work. Yours sincerely, CHARLES BURGESS

Char-Man Sextet of Millionaires

British Tycoons Spend Holidays Cleaning Club

LONDON (CP)—Six London businessmen who control between them more than £10,000,000 (£45,000,000) of capital, armed themselves with five shillings worth of cleaning materials and spent the Bank Holiday week-end cleaning the exclusive Conservative Club.

The club secretary had told them there was not enough labor to do the job while the club was closed down, so the six volunteered to do the work. Sir Norman Vernon, managing director of a £5,000,000 flour company (Spillers) turned up first, wearing blue overalls. He ran a vacuum cleaner and even took the spider webs from behind the huge "Battle of Trafalgar" painting which hasn't been moved for 100 years.

Maj. Henry Lemontou, who was to have been the "boss," turned up an hour late. Maj. Thomson McIntock, just out of the army, set to work with a blunt chisel and hammer to take up some linoleum which through the war had protected the rich-red and blue carpet upon which a dozen prime ministers have walked. Col. Max Heald, Magnus Geddes, son of Lord Geddes, and another volunteer completed the "char-man" sextet.

C. N. R. Carried Mighty Load of War Traffic

In a message to the Canadian public, R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, this week expressed the System's thanks for the co-operation given it during the war by the millions of train and steamship passengers, shippers of freight and express, hotel guests and patrons of the telegraph and other services. The Canadian National's ability to fulfill its gigantic war duty "to the credit and satisfaction of the Nation," he said, "is due not only to the skill, devotion and zeal of those who are our workers but in large measure also to the Canadian public who by their generous responses to appeals for help and their uncomplaining acceptance of restrictions and controls, lightened our burden. He made particular mention of "the unnumbered citizens who refrained from travelling needlessly as their contribution to the common cause."

From the outbreak of the war in September, 1939, to V-J Day, Canadian National passenger train miles amounted to more than 133 million, according to the bureau of statistics. Passenger car miles totalled more than one billion, 217 million. It is estimated that more than 153 million passengers were carried. Up to the end of last year, more than four million troops had been transported in 6,540 special trains. The movement of troops returning home from overseas is still continuing and figures are not yet available concerning its size but two thirds of all troop trains required for these movements are being provided by the Canadian National. Special workmen's trains operated to and from war plants carried over 41 million passengers. Nearly 266 million meals were served to military and civilian passengers on Canadian National diners during the war period.

The Canadian National hauled more than 491 million tons of freight during the war. Freight train miles aggregated more than 216 million; freight car miles, nearly 11 billion; net ton miles, more than 176 million.
