

Of Interest to Women

HELLO Homemakers! One way of reducing the quantity of sugar used daily by your family is the combination of salads and dessert courses.

Combine some of the features of both salad and dessert. Use several fruits with a not too sweet dressing, crisp lettuce and a garnish of water-cress.

Twelve cooked prunes, 6 raw peaches skinned and quartered, 1 package of cream cheese, bunch of grapes separated into sprigs of 6 or 7 to a stem.

QUICK JELLIED FRUIT SALAD: 1 tsp gelatin, 2 cup cold water, 2 cups left-over fruit juice or orange juice, 1 cup diced fruit.

MERINGUE PEACH CAKE: 1 1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour, 2 tbsps of baking powder, 1/2 tsp of salt, 3/4 cup of shortening, 1/2 cup of milk, 1 tsp of vanilla.

TAKE A TIP: 1. If corn on the cob is tender and sweet with that fresh from-the-garden flavour, you will not require butter.

THE QUESTION BOX: Mrs. C. A. asks: How do you cook a tongue nicely? Answer: Soak salted tongues overnight. Fresh pickled tongues need only a thorough scrubbing with a brush and cold water.

Chronicles of . . . Ginger Farm

Written Specially for The Acton Free Press by GWENIDOLINE P. CLARKE

Ginger Farm doesn't seem the same place at all. It just couldn't be, because you see Partner isn't here. For the first time in twenty-two years he has left the farm to the tender mercy of hands other than his own.

Naturally you will not be surprised at our anxiety when I tell you that today we went to Toronto and before we came home we saw Partner safely anchored in a hospital bed.

It has been quite a week. First of all son Bob was in Toronto, going through all the rigmarole incidental to a military farewell. In that he was lucky. The O.C., realizing that he was urgently needed at home, put him through in a matter of hours.

The week-end we had the house full again, and believe it or not, all the dish-washing I did was in the early morning. Strange thing about those early morning chores, how seldom there is anyone around to help with them!

Sunday afternoon our week-enders travelled the "mountain" roads and brought me home three baskets of elderberries. Not only did they pick them but they cleaned them too!

May I take this opportunity to thank "Anonymous" for the magazines that were sent to me. Apparently you knew what would interest me.

Well, to-day is Tuesday; the hour is 3.30 P.M. and this column must be typed and on the early morning train so that the Chronicles of Ginger Farm may be yours to read when you get that good old friend of yours—the local paper.

Glory be! I hear the coffee perking that should help things along a little, don't you think? Will you have a cup with me? But I forgot—you might not appreciate it not at five-thirty in the morning!

Answer:—A bright red chili sauce is the result of using whole mixed spices and careful simmering, while ground spices tend to darken the relish.

JOSEPH'S TESTIMONY TO GOD'S PROVIDENCE

Golden Text: Oh that men would praise the Lord for his loving kindness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.

Exposition: 1. Joseph Reveals Himself to His Brethren, 1-13. There is no doubt that in this story of Joseph and his brethren we have not only beautiful picture of forgiving and saving love, but also a foreshadowing of Jesus dealing with His brethren, the Jews, when He shall come again.

Apparently Joseph's first plan had been to keep Benjamin with him and sent the rest back to their homes (ch. 44: 17). There had been some secret in Joseph's treatment of his brethren, but that severity was itself the truest kindness, as it brought them to a recognition of their guilt and so prepared them to receive pardon.

Joseph did not wait for them to fall at his feet and sue for mercy. On the contrary, he seeks to allay their fears. His words are most tender: "Come near, I pray you," (ch. 45: 2).

sweetest word was "Thou shalt be near unto me" (Phil. 1: 23; Jno. 14: 3; 1 Thes. 4: 17). Joseph was to be their nourisher (v. 11; Ps. 23: 1; Rev. 7: 17). Communion follows reconciliation.

PEACETIME GREETINGS

LONDON (CP)—Christmas cards this year will return to the traditional peace-time scenes of coaches, country lanes, snow, berries and ribbons.

"All war scenes are definitely 'out' this year," said Desmond Luck, principal of one of the largest card publishing firms.

"Card designs will be as far removed from the atomic bomb and the war as possible."

MEN FROM THE ARMED FORCES FOR FARMING

Any personnel in the Armed Services, wishing to be released for farm work at any period of the year, should now be advised to:

- (a) Apply to their Commanding Officer for release for farm work, stating past farm experience, giving reasons for request. (b) Give location, type and size of farm, wherever possible. (c) If possible, submit a letter from a parent or former farm employer and a letter from municipal or other official in home locality, indicating need for services.

Agricultural Labour Survey Committees have been set up by the Federal Department of Labour, to co-operate with the Armed Services in the release of men for farm work.

These Committees represent the Provincial Department of Agriculture, the Armed Services and the National Employment Service. They are prepared to advise farmers or Service personnel on any problems concerning such releases. For further information write your Agricultural Labour Survey Committee, care of Mobilization Registrar, at Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, London, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton, or Vancouver.

Be boss of your farm

FOR many a farmer the farm is his boss... it runs him, instead of him running it. Too many farmers underestimate the worth of their time; too few know what they are being paid for their work. Maybe we can help you here, for our manager will gladly supply you with a simple farm account book which will show you exactly what your farm is paying you from year to year—whether you are going forward or backward. Call or write for your copy. It is yours for the asking. Your B of M manager is ready to help you if you need money for the improvement of your farm, barn repairs, fixing fencing, drainage, road building, buying new breeding stock, implements or equipment. If you want to speed up ploughing; cultivating, seeding and harvesting, he is the man to see. You will find him friendly, a good listener, and very much interested in your plans and problems. Give him your full confidence. It will pay you.
