The reception was held at the Station Hotel where Mrs. Charles Rushmore, aunt of the bride, received wearing mauve printed jersey with black accessories. THE PRECISION FISHING REEL

A dual purpose fishing reel which represents a considerable advance on previous types is now being manufactured by a London firm. One outstanding feature of this reel (known as the "Lancast") is that it is a precision article, modern in conception and using experience gained in the production of precision parts during the war. It is made from duralumin and has an anodic finish which renders it corrosion-proof against fresh and salt water. Its other advantages are: a well-designed slipping clutch which permits the use of fine lines without fear of breakage; a large diameter spool which gives a rapid recovery of line without the complication of gearing. The spool is so designed as to prevent the line "piling" and being badly laid on. Added to this is the simple design, which permits all components to be readily dismantled and adjusted with no more tools than a screwdriver or coin.

home two windows in the summer kitchen on the farm were blown out complete with frames but only one glass damaged. Articles sitting on the window sills were not moved. The loss of the building is a serious one and friends and neighbors regret the loss suffered, particularly at harvest time.

Lightning struck the barn of Col. Will-Hewitt: Everton about 5:30 Friday afternoon. All farm implements were lost, two cows and a calf, 180 chickens. It is believed that the farm property was well covered by insurance.

About the same time, a hail struck the barn of Norman McLean, 10th concession, Erin Township. The barn was burned to the foundation. Loss of this farm included 9 pigs, 30 loads of hay, 100 chickens and several implements and tools. The house was saved by the rain.

From all over the district come reports of damage to trees, grain, hydro and telephone lines. The Norval district had lengthy telephone and hydro interruption where between 30 and 40 poles were reported down. Additional reports of damage will be found in the correspondence from centres near Acton.

THIS WEEK

BY VIRGINIA FOX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Rain and lightning storms which disrupted communication and power lines in many sections of Ontario and Quebec late last week were blamed for four deaths in Ontario.

The storms struck along a wide front early Friday evening, extending from Windsor in the west to Ottawa in the east and for a considerable distance northward. Telegraph communications were thrown out of kilter for some time until services were restored.

The rains accompanying the lightning brought an end to the four-week drought in most sections of the province. At Malton airport near Toronto the weather observatory recorded a peak wind velocity of 75 miles an hour at one time a wind of hurricane strength.

At Acton in Halton County, 21 valuable Jersey cows were killed when struck by lightning as they huddled beneath a tree. Other points in the province reported fires were started by the storm burning down barns in which hay crops were stored.

In some areas hay crops were damaged extensively although, on the other hand, potatoes benefited by the downpour.

Radio stations in the Toronto area went off the air from seven minutes to two hours, due to static charges and power failures, but there was no general power interruption.

The Hydro Electric Power Commission, telegraph and railway officials said the brunt of the storm was from Kitchener to Georgetown. However, a church steeple at St. Mary's was struck. A Campbellford family was forced to seek refuge in a chicken coop when lightning struck their home.

New regulations governing the sale of beer in hotel and club beverage rooms in Ontario have been announced by the Liquor Authority Control Board.

What one board spokesman termed "peddling of beer" in beverage rooms is to be discouraged by a regulation requiring the beer be ordered before it is served. Other regulations limit to one bottle or one glass the amount of beer which may be served to a customer at one time.

The new regulations, which went into effect early this week, reduce the hours beverage rooms stay open by 1 1/2 hours a day. New hours are 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.; 4 to 6:30 p.m. and 8 to 10 p.m.

While only a few beverage rooms have been open in the evenings due to problems of supply, the order provides that each authority holder must open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and arrange his beer supply to remain open for at least an hour.

On Saturdays and public holidays beverage rooms are not required to close in the afternoon.

The Labor Progressive Party in a recent statement said the party "takes no political orders from either Ottawa, Washington, London or Moscow" but "its program, policies and political decisions are hammered out in democratic conventions by LPP leaders and members."

The statement said that the Royal Commission in its report on espionage "has undertaken to judge out of hand and to 'convict' the Labor Progressive party of complicity in espionage activity."

BURLINGTON

Work on the new school on Glenwood Avenue in Nelson Township is progressing very slowly and the Gazette learns that the main hold up is steel.

On Monday evening last at the home of Fleet Captain N. R. Vinton, a corps of supervisors and life savers was formed by the Burlington Yacht Club.

Grant Peart, B.S.A., of Ottawa, a former Burlington boy, was among those awarded the O.B.E. in the King's honors on July 1st. Mr. Peart is the administrator of fertilizers and pesticides with the W.P.T.B.

Montmorency cherries in this district are at their best right now, and growers are reporting a good crop and prices. Outdoor tomatoes made their appearance last week and commanded a price of $1.00 for an eleven-quart basket.

Building permits in Burlington for the first six months of 1946 have reached an all time high. Building Inspector Wm. Metcalfe stated to the Gazette this week. Figures for the first six months show a total slightly in excess of $260,000 and this is not only a record for any six months period but is almost as great as the total of all permits issued last year.—Gazette.

SPARE THE KNIFE

"Pare less and spare more," say nutrition experts at Ottawa, where the Department of National Health and Welfare reminds Canadians that it is wasteful to peel vegetables. Not only does it mean loss of food, but of actual food value. When millions are reported to be starving abroad, health authorities feel the time opportune to point out that vegetables give better food values if cooked unpeeled.

GEORGETOWN

St. George's Tennis Club has opened its first season of play since war-time days. Membership totals about 25 at present including both seniors and juniors.

Mr. Jim Goodlet has started erection of an addition to his Main Street hardware store.

The death of Mrs. John R. Campbell, which occurred at her home on Edith Street, Georgetown on Sunday, July 7th has caused widespread sorrow among her many friends in the district.

The skirt of the pipe is not heard in the park district these evenings with the Girls Pipe Band off to the Lions Convention at Philadelphia.

Crossing from the Old Country on the Aquilana, Mrs. Charles Boyle arrived in Georgetown on Dominion Day in time to celebrate her wedding anniversary with her husband here last Sunday.

Mayor Harold Cleave was chosen president of an organization to make plans for a welcome home and presentation for Georgetown servicemen at a public meeting held in the Municipal Building on Monday evening. The meeting was attended by some 30 interested citizens, many of them representing organizations in town.—Herald.
