Council Confers With Engineer On Sewage Plans

done it would take much of the guess work out of the contractor's estimate and result in an ultimate savings. Mr. Anderson gave complete details of the procedure necessary and answered all questions. Fees paid for the plans needed now would be part of the ultimate cost when the work was proceeded with.

Council decided to hold a special session to deal only with this question when a review could be made of the financial position of the municipality and all the facts weighed and a decision made whether to proceed with these plans and call for tenders in the fall. No definite cost can be arrived at until a call for tenders is made. If these bids received are considered unsatisfactory, the work can be held until satisfactory bids are received. Council agreed to give Mr. Anderson definite word after this special meeting.

Mr. Anderson suggested that Council visit Clinton where sewer construction is now being made. He also suggested that if consideration were being given to construction of a swimming pool, that Council first view the one at Kitchener, Stratford, Fergus and Brantford. Council adjourned at 11:50 p.m.

CHANGING HUMAN NATURE

Science makes wonderful discoveries in the material world, but the way to direct human thought and ideals into helpful directions is still harder to find. The human mind is more difficult to handle than any inanimate matter.

The British Empire and its allies face this problem in trying to change the aims and nature of the German and Japanese peoples. So long as they or many of their leaders think and dream of war, the danger of a new war will exist. Truth and facts continually presented. If the boys and girls of Germany and Japan can be given education that will open their eyes to the horror and folly of war, there is hope that in time the aims and mentality of those warlike nations can be changed.

USE LESS — GET MORE

Nutrition experts assure housewives that they can co-operate wholeheartedly in the current food conservation program without fear of depriving their families of necessary food elements. Canada's Food Rules, which are available on application to the provincial health department, or to the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, indicate ways of getting more and better food values by actually cutting down and using less.

PENICILLIN ELIMINATES MASTOID OPERATION

LONDON ENG.—The successful use of penicillin by the United Kingdom doctors in the treatment of mastoid is reported in the London Press. Applications during the early stages of the illness is stated to have very good results eliminating a difficult and dangerous operation which was formerly the only remedy. Penicillin is given for mastoid in normal injections into the bloodstream. Recently a nine-months old baby was cured with sixty-six penicillin injections. She was treated for only three weeks. Dressings of the wound after the operation formerly lasted from six to nine months. Mastoid is an infection of the bone behind the ear which contains many cells. The bone is very close to the brain.

ELECTRICAL DEVICE MAINTAINS PURE AIR

NEW YORK (CP)—Hay fever victims and people who just don't like smoky, dusty rooms now can use a new device of the electronic age to purify living room air.

The device draws dust into a compartment where the dust or pollen is given a slight positive charge of electricity. Then the air passes between plates that have been given a negative charge of electricity and the result is that all electrified particles settle on the plates.

"Gospel Singer" Revisits Canada

Veteran Radio Star Returns to Former Home in Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Edmond MacHugh, former resident of Montreal and well-known radio personality throughout Canada and the United States as "The Gospel Singer" visited Canada and his home town recently for the first time in 11 years.

The veteran radio star, whose harmonium hymn-singing brings him as many as 12,000 fan letters a week, takes his work seriously.

"A lot of people think that hymn-singing is 'corny' and something to be laughed at," he said in an interview. "That's okay with me. I get my satisfaction in giving real pleasure to a great number of people and perhaps in being some small help in times of trouble and affliction."

He believed there was a swing in popular taste to-day away from the "false sophistication" of pre-war days and toward the type of sentimental and religious singing which brought him from his early employment as a "wiper" with the Canadian National Railways here to his present position.

Mr. MacHugh said he had not realized how well known he was in Canada until told he was on the air in this country 21 times a day.

SPRAY THOROUGHLY

In the control of plant diseases, one very important fact relating to spraying is the necessity of thorough coverage. As pointed out by G. H. Herkley, officer in charge of the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, St. Catharines, Ont., spores are extremely minute entities. It requires 100 of the smallest spores and to end to equal the thickness of an ordinary piece of paper. Therefore, if the entire leaf surface of the plant is not protected, infection may take place in unprotected areas. Hence, the necessity of spraying thoroughly.
