SPORTS CAMERA

If any doubts are expressed as to the status of Acton being the hockey centre of Halton then reference should be made to pre-war years. Acton first entered a team for O.H.A. hockey in the 1929-30 season and from that start they won the group and advanced deep into the semifinals for eight consecutive years with the exception of the year 32-33 when they suffered the loss of group honors to Oakville who that year won the championship.

The O.H.A. realizing the superior type of play which Actonians used, ousted them to the Intermediate "A" group in 37-38. Local hockeyists played second for the season and went into play downs with Preston. Although they were eliminated in a best-of-five series they proved themselves capable of A rating.

The following annum back in "38" hockey we took the coveted cup which symbolizes the Ontario Championship. Now if there is still any doubt, Georgetown played opposition to the locals until the 2d season when they asked for a grouping which would not include another of Acton's hockey squads.

Can anyone in Halton sport a better record?

Daily dabbling into prospective sports we often wondered why soccer wasn't given an all-star rating when it resembles so much the pattern of hockey. High schoolers are engaged in a tri-team soccer squabble at present and each team comes under a color category Red, White and Blue, being the shades. Representatives from each team duly questioned about which eleven were the classiest confused everyone including the writer. Each squad claims to top position and who are we to sort it out and come out with the right one we'll leave it to them.

Parents Go To Beverage Room and Neglect Children

In Milton Magistrate's Court last Wednesday, Robert Newell and his wife Gladys, jointly charged with neglecting their three children, pleaded guilty and were fined $20 and costs of 15 days. According to Chief G. W. Canning the pair left their children in a car without lunch, during a thunderstorm while they were in a local beverage room.

"I received two calls from citizens about the children left in a car in front of a hotel," the chief testified. "The children told me their mother and father were in the hotel, and they were cold and hungry."

Both parents admitted being in the beverage room but denied the children were hungry. "They were fed at 12 o'clock," Mrs. Newell said.

"There will be a conviction" ruled the court, "people don't make complaints to police unless there is a reason for it. If you continue to neglect the children the court can take the children away, and place them where they will be properly cared for," Magistrate Langton added.

THIS WEEK

BY EDGAR SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Good news came to Ontario and Quebec householders with an indication from Reconstruction Minister Howse last week-end that the threat of a fuel famine had apparently ended. Mr. Howse announced the end of fuel restrictions imposed in 1943. Only remaining restriction is that 20 per cent. of requirements must be accepted in inferior or Class "C" fuel.

The change in regulations was accompanied by a warning that there is no guarantee that the fuel will be available. Fuel estimates to date give a more definite assurance that no one will go short as far as quantity is concerned, though there may be some deterioration in quality.

Mr. Howse warned last August that stocks in the central provinces were 17 per cent. below requirements and that shipments of bituminous coal were 300,000 tons below normal. However, the backlog has since been made up by increased imports of anthracite coal from the United States and an effort by the railways to offset shortages caused by the Great Lakes shipping strike.

Mr. Howse's announcement said a decrease of low-volatile coal supplies is expected and there will be a shortage of coals such as Pocahontas. But the overall picture was considered somewhat better than last November.

Recommendations which may lead to a big step forward in the preservation of Northern Ontario's forests are being heard by the Royal Commission on Forest Resources which is holding hearings at a number of northern cities.

CAMPBELLVILLE

The annual Halton County Masonic meeting was held in the hall here last Wednesday evening. After the usual order of service, 140 members from Oakville, Burlington, Milton, Georgetown, Acton, Campbellville adjourned to St. David's Presbyterian Church where the Ladies' Aid served a delicious dinner, after which Wor. Bro. C. F. Norrish was chairman for a program which opened with "The King" followed by several selections from the quartet, Jack, Neil and Murray McPhail, Robert Laking, Marvin and George Coulson, Maurice Redhead and Vernon McArthur. A toast was proposed by Wor. Bro. H. H. Macdonald, responded to by Rt. Wor. Bro. T. H. Simpson, Deputy Grand Master, to the Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario. A toast to the visitors was proposed by Wor. Bro. J. E. Filinton and responded to by the ruling masters of the County Lodges. Wor. Bro. G. F. Thompson from St. Clair Lodge, Milton, No. 126, Wor. Bro. W. J. B. Kay from Burlington Lodge No. 156, Wor. Bro. D. Charles from Credit Lodge, No. 219 of Georgetown, Wor. Bro. H. Helwig from Walker Lodge, No. 321 of Acton and Wor. Bro. S. Porth from Oakville Lodge No. 400.

The Campbellville Quartette rendered selections on Sunday at Appleton United Church and Brampton Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mahon and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crawford spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Hart Crawford of Gravenhurst and they also visited Miss Wilma Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hood, Marina and Bruce spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hood of Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Markle of Millgrove were week-end guests with Mr. and Mrs. George Ingh.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hill of Greenville were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mitchell.

Miss Betty Webb spent the week-end at her home in Freeport.

A surprise presentation was held for Miss Verle vanSickle, bride elect this Saturday, last, Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. vanSickle. Miss Olive Mahon read the address and Mrs. Nell McPhail, Mrs. James Bradley and Miss Eleanor McLaren on behalf of those present, presented Miss vanSickle with a bridge set (table and four chairs) in red and black, also a dozen water glasses. After games were enjoyed a delectable lunch was served to 30 of her girl friends.

Last Wednesday afternoon a quilting was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Stokes. At lunch hour an elderly lady, Mrs. Joseph Stokes, was honored as it was her birthday. She received many good wishes and congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace have moved into Mr. John Wheelahan's house.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bayley moved into their new home last Saturday which they built recently on a lot which they purchased from Mr. G. McPhail.

The late Mrs. Board of Windsor formerly Mary Mason, of this district was buried in St. John's Anglican Cemetery last Wednesday afternoon. She had been visiting a daughter in California and was en route home to Windsor with a son-in-law when the plane crashed, killing all 13 passengers. The service was conducted by Rev. Canon Smith of Oakville and the pallbearers were James John and Harvey Blacklock, Earl Blacklock, George Twiss and a relative from Montreal. Left to mourn are three daughters one of California and one son of Windsor.

Mrs. Ernest Walton and Dorcen were guests at the Knechtel and Blake wedding in St. James Anglican Church, Guelph last Saturday.

In the division's job-printing competition the Claresholm Local Press was awarded first prize, while the Wetaskiwin Times received second place and the Wainwright Star third.

WARNS SUBSCRIBERS

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—One newspaper here is ensuring that its delivery boys will no longer be menaced by angry dogs. The Patriot carried this note in its columns: "If certain subscribers of ours wish to keep unmanly dogs of watch dogs on their doorsteps, the Patriot will not be delivered to them further."

Cub Pack News

(Intended for Last Week)

After a moody morning, Saturday turned golden and crisp for the hours of the Wolf Cub hike. En route, we saw scenery and colors that made even the most prosaic cub realize why people bother to write poems about Canadian autumn. There were innumerable reasons for chortling and many small adventures and alarms. Like Jerry White's sudden discovery of a severed serpent, with which he gingerly peered for the benefit of Bagner's Kodak. And the temporary disappearance of John Lambert, discovered blissfully exploring the summit of a nearby cliff.

Ted Footitt won plaudits for his culinary masterpiece—Hamburg with onions. And how that Wolf Cub can cook! He assisted by McCutcheon of the Scouts, Bob and Bill Coon, Bill Somerville and Ron Emerson built a campfire hot and lively, enough to have cooked food for the whole pack. Without any help, Jerry White and Bill Skilling did an excellent job of fire building.

A little boy's favorite uncle was to be married and he was questioning his mother about the wedding. Mother, the lad asked, the last three days they give them anything they want to eat, don't they?

B. C. Daffodils Rival Holland

Toronto Floral Expert Predicts Big Future for Bulb Industry

REGINA (CP)—A forecast that British Columbia would one day be the world's greatest bulb producing region surpassing even the Netherlands was made here recently by Max Shirley, a Toronto floral artist. Attending a one-day school of floral design of the Allied Florists and Growers of Canada, Mr. Shirley said B.C. bulb growing made tremendous strides during the war when no bulbs were imported from Europe. He said B.C. daffodil bulbs were as fine as those from Holland.

The Toronto man thinks there is nothing to compare with the flower industry.

"Each season brings a new change of flowers with which to work. A florist meets interesting people and becomes involved in their joys and sorrows."

He said that great advances have been made in the growth and variety of flowers in the past few years. Science is increasing the number of varieties available and lengthening the period in which blossoms can be grown.

Florists would like to see women wear fewer flowers at a time but wear them more often.

"A corsage should be a part of a woman's outfit and should not stand out either in color or size. She should wear just a touch of flowers and they should harmonize with the gown."

When flowers are arranged in a bowl all stems should point towards an imaginary spot below the bowl.

Mr. Shirley said the rose is still Canada's No. 1 flower.

"It has depth and richness of color possessed by no other flower."

NEWFOUNDLAND WANTS SHOES

A good demand now exists in Newfoundland for men's and women's lower priced leather footwear. J. C. Britton, Canadian Trade Commissioner, reports from St. John's. This demand, however, is largely confined to the urban areas.

Newfoundland's larger manufacturers believe that the quality of Canadian leather footwear has improved considerably during recent years, he said. Present prospects, consequently indicate that Canadian firms can obtain a good percentage of the export business.
