

BEETLE MENACE
UNDER CONTROL

HALIFAX (CP) — The annual "Baltic of the Beetle" in this province has been confined this year to territory immediately surrounding a Halifax hotel, an official of the Department of Agriculture announced.

In former years Japanese beetles, arriving in Halifax as undetected stowaways on various ships, hastened to set about hitch-hiking ride to every part of Nova Scotia in diligent pursuit of their nefarious activities.

This year, however, agriculturists with the aid of DDT seem to have exterminated the pests before any damage could be done.

OTTAWA (CP) — Results of three by-elections in Canada have raised political thinking in the capital.

The first election was in the constituency of Pontiac, Quebec, just north of Ottawa. There Real Coquelin, candidate of the Union des Electeurs who had Social Credit tacking, won out.

The next two elections were much more of a shock to Liberal circles at Toronto Parkdale and Portage la Prairie, both to the Progressive Conservative candidates.

In Parkdale where Hon. Dr. H. A. Bruce resigned his seat to make way for a younger man, Harold Timmins, with 8,194 votes, won the traditionally Conservative seat over Lt. Col. John W. G. Hunter, Liberal, who had 7,644 votes. The CCF member, Ford Brand, had 6,457.

Out in Portage, seat made vacant by the death of Harry Leader, Liberal member, the Conservatives also made yards, with the election of C.C. Miller with 4,500 votes against the 1,046 of Jaffry Wood, Liberal, and the 2,591 of Sidney Coulthard, CCF. This left the Commons standing at Liberals 125; Progressive Conservatives 67; CCF 28; Social Credit 13; Independent four; Bloc Populaire, two; Independent Liberal one; Independent Progressive Conservative, one; Independent CCF, one; Union des Electeurs de Pontiac, one; Labor Progressive, one; vacant one; total 245.

The vacancy was caused by the death of P. J. A. Cardin, minister in three Liberal governments, who became estranged from Liberal policies during the conscription crisis.

Mr. Cardin had argued against the government's stand and resigned from the cabinet on the ground that the government had not kept its promises on the conscription question.

can happen between now and the next general election, for the government is good at keeping its ear to the ground.

The week featured a Canadian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly at New York, was tinged with Canadian political developments. In the face of world discussions, Canadian political leaders kept quiet. However, a sharp exchange between Premier Drew of Ontario and Prime Minister Mackenzie King did take place.

This was about the Dominion provincial Conference, which has held the spotlight since it was adjourned last spring. An exchange of letters between Premier Drew of Ontario and the prime minister seemed to leave the matter open as far as those parties were concerned. Meanwhile the Dominion was closing agreements with the three provinces which have accepted Mr. Tilley's budget stipulations: Manitoba, Saskatchewan and New Brunswick.

Eric George Adams, 39 year old government financial official became the second man within a week to be acquitted of charges arising out of the report of the Royal Commission on Espionage.

Freed on a charge of conspiring to communicate information to Russia, Adams still faces charges of communicating information to Russia and of tampering with government documents, but it is considered doubtful that these will be pressed.

His acquittal follows that of William McLean Pappin, an official of the external affairs department, who had been charged with conspiring to get a false passport for a Russian agent operating in the United States. Five other defendants have been convicted or have pleaded guilty in Canada and a sixth was found guilty in England.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — Timbermen and trappers of the Queen Charlotte Islands are urging propagation of the busy and thrifty little squirrel, which they regard as one of the greatest reforesters. Squirrels open tree cones and leave the seed on the ground to germinate.

The government's majority is the smallest any government has had since 1926, but there was little chance of its being defeated unless some issue should arise on which all parties might unite. The opposition parties have not seen any unanimity during the test session, and it is doubtful if they will see any in the coming one. One veteran observer said he could not see the government proposing anything that would obtain the united opposition of all the other parties in the House."

Progressive Conservatives viewed the development as a censure of the government's failure to get production of needed goods to hasten the achievement of industrial peace, to satisfactorily meet the housing needs of returned veterans, to lessen the burden of taxation, and to prevent taxation and waste in public administration.

Liberals said that if the by-elections did represent a swing against the government, "it is better to come now than in a general election year when there would not be time enough to correct the situation. A lot of things
