

KEEP AT IT

If your trade looks kinder gloomy... An' your business kinder slim...

"Yes But He Has The Money!"

How often has that comment come to your mind when you have admired a handsome new barn or other evidence of prosperity on a neighbor's farm?

But have you considered that you yourself, need no longer postpone necessary improvements to your farm and home?

The money to put up a new barn, to buy new machinery, to install labor-saving appliances, inside plumbing, hot running water to make your farm a better farm to make your home more comfortable to make your family the happier...

It is William Clayton's business—his favorite business to help farmers smooth out their financial problems. Mr. Clayton, local manager of the B. of M. has helped many go-ahead farmers to better farming, better living and better profits. His attitude is: "When you ask for a loan at the B. of M. you do not ask a favor."

Lt. Col. Sharpe Takes Command of The Lorne Scots

Lt. Col. C. T. Sharpe E.D., Streetsville, has been appointed to command the Lorne Scots Pool, Dufferin and Halton Regiment, according to orders published by Headquarters Military District No. 2.

The change of command was effected in conformity with a new policy adopted by the Army which requires that all commanding officers shall have served overseas in World War II.

Lt. Col. Powell turned over his command on Thursday, 14 November at a meeting held at Brampton Armories attended by officers of the Regiment. In recognition of his service to the Regiment, Lt. Col. Powell was presented with a silver cased sword and silver tray. The presentation was made by Major H. G. H. Stratton, second in command of the Regiment.

In his brief address to the officers of the Unit, Lt. Col. Sharpe asked the co-operation of all during the present period of re-organization. He advised the regimental officers that no intensive recruiting campaign would be embarked upon until next spring, by which time it was expected that the Unit would be up to strength in officers, warrant officers and non-commissioned officers that had served overseas during the recent conflict. The benefit of their war experience would be invaluable in the training of the Regiment, he said.

Lt. Col. Sharpe began his military career as a member of the Lorne Scots in 1939. At the outbreak of the war in 1939 he was commanding "B" company of the Regiment. He proceeded overseas with No. 1 Canadian Infantry Base Depot (Lorne Scots) in 1940. Since that time he has held a great many important staff appointments, including positions at Headquarters 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade, Headquarters 1st Canadian Division and Headquarters 9th C.I.B. Following completion of the Canadian Junior War Staff course in 1941 he served as Brigade Major at 9th C.I.B. and later at 5th C.I.B. After a tour of duty on the staff at Headquarters C.R.U. he was appointed to the Directional Staff of the War Staff Course at Kingston. He terminated his war service September 8th, 1945, at which time he was holding the appointment of G.S.O.I. as Director of Staff Duties at National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa.

BURIED ALIVE!

In his tales of mystery and marvellous, Edgar Allan Poe keeps talking back to the horror of being buried alive. But most of the turtles and frogs look forward to it. Some have been doing it for years.

At the Royal Ontario Museum you may see the painted turtle and his big cousin, the snapper, prowling around in the glass cases up on the third floor. But those in the swamps and ponds crave their activities when the cold weather sets in.

The turtles feed well in the summer and are in a nice comfortable condition when it's time for their long winter nap. Down they sink into the soft mud at the bottom of the pond, there to remain buried alive until the warmth of spring calls them forth again. Many of the species of frogs stiff without suffering harm.

WOULD-CURE ARCHERS

HALIFAX (CP)—Rev. T. Roe, manager and field secretary of the Nova Scotia Society for the prevention of Cruelty to animals, has issued an appeal to hunters to refrain from using a bow and arrow in hunting deer. The practice is permissible under provincial game laws if the hunter has a licence for big game.

The Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 5th

PAUL ADMONISHES THE CHURCHES

Golden Text—Let us walk becomingly, as in the day. Rom. 13: 13. Lesson Text—1 Cor. 11: 20-27; Rom. 13: 13-14; Eph. 5: 18-21.

Exposition.—I. Christian Communion, 1 Cor. 11: 20-27.

The Apostle Paul received directly from the Lord, by special revelation, the truth about the Lord's Supper (1 Cor. 11: 23; Gal. 1: 12; Ac. 22: 17, 18; 2 Cor. 12: 1-4). How important the Lord must regard the Lord's Supper to make it the subject of special revelation, when the fact of its institution was already known by the apostles who were present. The time in which Jesus instituted the supper "the same night in which he was betrayed," gives it a tender interest. There is something remarkably touching in his "giving thanks" over that bread and wine that spoke of His own death. He was giving thanks for His own atoning agony and death. The bread represented His body that was the next day to be given on the cross for them. As in the Old Testament sacrifices, those who offered them ate of them to set forth in a figure their appropriation to themselves of the death of the animal, so we eat the bread to set forth our appropriation to ourselves by faith of the atoning benefits of the death of Christ. The Lord's Supper brings Jesus to remembrance and the perfect atonement He has made for sinners for all. Always examine yourself, ask yourself "Do I realize that this sets forth my Lord's death in my place" and so partake eat of the bread and drink of the cup. "If we would judge ourselves," examining carefully into our moral and spiritual state before God, it would not be necessary for the Lord to judge us and send sickness and death (1 Cor. 11: 31).

II. Christian Living, Rom. 13: 13, 14. We must walk "in a seemly manner (this is the exact force of the word translated "honestly") as in the day." The word "honestly" is a total misleading translation. The word so translated means "in good form." Society people are greatly concerned about what is "good form" by the standards of the "best society," citizens of heaven (Phil. 3: 21; R. V.) should be concerned as to what is "good form" according to the court etiquette of that country to which we are going home, to heaven. What is "good form" according to heavenly standards appears from the words that follow: "Reverencing" is sexual purity; "chambering" is sexual sin and "santonness" is licentiousness. "Strife and jealousy" cannot be tolerated. Drunkenness and licentiousness are commonly associated together, experience shows that they are rarely, if ever, separated. The use of alcoholic liquors, even in what is called moderation, stirs up all that is base in men and women. We do not usually put "jealousy" in the same catalogue with drunkenness and licentiousness, but God does (1 Cor. 13: R. V.). The whole secret of "good form" or walking becomingly is to "put on the Lord Jesus Christ," to have our lives clothed in Him (Gal. 3: 27; Eph. 4: 24). The figure that Paul uses here—that of putting on a garment; the clothes that we wear should be Jesus Himself. When we meet a man pretty much all we see is his clothes, and when people meet us, all that they should see should be the Lord Jesus Christ (1 Pet. 3: 3-5). If we would "walk becomingly" we must not "make provision (take no forethought) for the flesh, to fulfill the lust thereof," i.e. we should direct none of our care and attention to the cravings of our lower nature, as to how we may provide for their gratification (Gal. 5: 24; R. V.).

III. Filled with the Spirit, Eph. 5: 18-21. Paul here takes up one essential form of folly, a fruit of darkness that has cursed every age since the days of Noah, drunkenness (Gen. 9: 20-29). Perhaps Paul warns against it because it is the root of almost every other kind of folly. But by God's wondrous grace one who has been a drunkard may be "washed," "sanctified," "justified," and may then inherit the kingdom of God (1 Cor. 6: 11). In drunkenness there is "excess" or "out of proportion," abandoned profligacy. Anyone who has had any experience of life, knows how true this is. The drunkard becomes lost to every noble ambition and holy desire. Paul warns against and proposes as the cure for drunkenness the only sure cure, being "filled with the Spirit."

To be filled with the Spirit means to have the Holy Spirit take possession of the whole being (Luke 1: 41, 42; Ac. 2: 4; 4: 8; 13: 9, 10). It is nearly synonymous with being "baptized with the Holy Ghost" excepting that the expression being baptized with the Spirit is never used as a second experience, while being filled with the Spirit (Ac. 1: 5; cf. 2: 1-4; 10: 44-46; cf. 11: 15, 16). When one is "drunk with wine," wine takes possession of every faculty and when one is "filled with the Spirit" the Spirit takes possession of every faculty. Intoxication is the devil's counterfeit of being filled with the Spirit. The effect of being filled with the Spirit is that one is lifted on to a supernatural plane of life and activity. (1 Cor. 12: 4, 8-11; 13: Gal. 5: 22, 23). The best way to keep a man from having recourse to the devil's stimulation is to have him filled with God's.

Canada Assured Big Tomato Crop

10,000-Acre Increase Over Last Year's Planting

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—With Canadian food processors under contract to purchase nearly 40 per cent. more tomatoes from growers than they did last year, the housewives may expect to find improved supplies of both canned tomatoes and tomato juice on their grocers' shelves this fall.

Continuance of favorable growing weather and the expectation that necessary labor will be available for the pack may result in production of 56,000,000 more cans of tomatoes and tomato juice this year than in 1945, it was estimated by E. H. Coulson, sales division manager of the American Can Company in Canada.

Packers across Canada have contracted for 53,740 acres of tomatoes in 1946, enough to fill nearly 199,000,000 cans as compared to the 1945 total of 38,610 acres.

Mr. Coulson recalled that thousands of tomato plants were destroyed in Western Ontario this year by a tornado and other storms, but said most of the affected land has been replanted and growers are confident they will be able to harvest the crop before the arrival of cold weather. Last year, growers in Ontario and Quebec suffered considerable losses due to early frost.

The Canadian tomato growing industry is centred chiefly in three provinces. The contracted acreage in each of those this year are: Ontario, 41,200; Quebec, 3,920; and British Columbia, 3,070.

KEEP-CHOO!

Minute particles sneezed or coughed out by people with colds cause trouble. The Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa has issued a warning against spread of such ailments as the common cold, coughs, influenza and some of the fevers, through so called "droplet infection."

"It is a matter of sheer hygiene, as well as of common decency to confine your sneezing and coughing within a handkerchief or sanitary tissue," declared a medical officer. "This is particularly important when the afflicted person is among others, and endless troubles may arise from one careless sneezer in a crowd."

POLISH VETERANS WELCOMED TO CANADA

Approximately 1,700 Polish war veterans, members of the famous British 8th Army, landed at Halifax, Tuesday, November 12, and were transported across Canada by Canadian Pacific Railway for immediate placement at farm work. Top, J. S. W. Grocholski, Toronto lawyer and president of the Canadian Polish Congress, extends a welcome to group of the beribboned vets, many of whom were wearing the 8th Army crusade patch and all who were still in uniform. They were discharged before sailing from Naples, Italy and will soon don civilian clothes. In the lower picture the new arrivals received part of their last army pay in the embarkation area through the Canadian Pacific offices before being dispatched to various Canadian army depots for disposal to Canadian farms.
