A Synopsis of Various Sport

and Athletic Activities

Our Canadian winter is grimt gives us, L-don't suppose we would want to be without it from year to year. Just imagine no hockey... or skating or skiing or sleighing. When it comes to hockey and skating,

Bunk_Holmes_suro_has_his_problems trying to give all the teams we have in this area time on the ice, and at the same time keep the skaters happy. But busy as it is down in the Arena a big Skating Carnival is being put on by the Acton Branch of the Legion, the date is to be. Friday, very good program has been planned with some very talented outside skaters taking part along with a lot of night of fun and entertainment, so

Although there was lots of snow over the week-end, most ski enthusinsts stayed on the inside, looking on

We see all kinds of hockey in Ac-the Bush Leagues, but if you are and you will see four Pec-Wee hockey teams playing hard for first place in their own four team league.

These boys are all of age group. The captains, Don Anderson, Bob Rumley, Ron Cripps and Jackie Davidson are sure working hard to get their team on top of the league. Through the week these teams play the odd day after school. Saturday afternoon there is another four team league of school boys, mostly High School, who have their own four team league. The juvenile team was the outside. It was just too cold.

local people. This is going to be keep the date open.

February 21st and I understand times but with all the trouble

Hi-Lites of the Week of Sport

nns and Riddell.

Referee Gives Mercantiles One Goal Margin to Win Game in Georgetown Last Thurs- of Beaumont and Co. to keep , pace

day had Packed Arena as Tanners Made Visit - Russ Brush "Last week's Georgetown Herald has Collar Bone Broken as Love carried a column by "Sideliner" who Token - Georgelown Given 11 exclaims that the Acton Tanners are taking on a Georgetown flavor with Penalties — E. Marzo Drew Masome of the players that sport the jor for Airing Opinion that Tanher uniform. The players "Side-Might Not Have Been in Erliner" mentioned were Lindsny, Ev-

-Everyone-knows-that-Lindsay-played and lived in Acton years before he was enlisted for a season with Georgetown and then he was residing in Toronto and travelling like the present day Morcantile players to aid the fumbling Papermakers at that time. Evans is a native of Milton and migration to the neighboring town of Georgetown was temperary. This year he came to Acton to play hockey for the Tanners, realizing the futlleness of further time with the bungling Papertowners. Riddall was a of Georgetown and Acton fans. resident of our nearest neighbor but he fancled Acton (as who doesn't) to his return from oversens. But where is the Georgetown flavor on their own home team? Not Rhodes, Shropshire, Chriss, Storey, Scott, Exentd, etc. who play Mercantile hockey in Toronto. 4 Perhaps it's Ern Thompson, the genial and smiling manager, for he halls from the Papertown. By the way, whatever happened to Kempshead?

Georgetown and has played here since

Fans entering the edifice at John St. on Thursday last were surprised to receive programs handed out by custodians at the nearest exit. Glancing inside and surveying the content of said program, we were amazed to discover that the summaries and introductions of the different Georgetown players didn't correspond.correctly with the inside line-up. We surmised that the inside pages had been printed at an earlier date and therefore the almost complete reversal in the line-up was due to the inability of some Georgetown talent to appear.

Glancing around the arena our fears were dispelled for there were Murdock and Ferri, two well-known stars, easting reproachful looks at the players' bench. On further investigation, we gleaned from spectators that the two men were ready and willing to play but they flashed us conversation. Beaumont, Patterson and Bradbury had better watch out. Their hockey days are drawing to a of selection. ore didn't recognise their klols. If of Ilio Marro, who by the way so they still won't for five of the the fastest man on skates, the Tanintroduced players never appeared on ners showered Rhodes with pucks, the ice and probably never will.

An Jiem on the front cover of the program caught our eye "the best team may not always win, but you opposition. We hope to see him back can't lose, etc." How true this is. It next year, as well and a valuable as as proved on Thursday night over ever blue line and the terror of foraging hands and left

Acton Tanners suffered n. 3-3 settown, last Thursday from the Toron- away and scored to make it 4-0. to Mercantile Loops, if you believe the The Torontonians tried every unyours truly and the non-prejudiced fense.

As the Tanners skated to their practice session and the usual catcalls greeted their first appearance (calls) that later turned to cries of admiration for Acton's 1947 squad), two white awentered officials hit the ice and inspected the premises. Cat-calls faded into silence when recognition iit anxious faces-for one of the duet was none other than referee Patterson, beloved and renowned in the Georgetown district- as the champion playmaker of the Mercantile players who exhibit their wares in O.H.A. groupings. Playmaker, meaning he endeavors and in this case succeeded in handing the, tilt to. Georgetown with the aid of lady luck. Patterson proved his loyalty to the "Papermakers" cause by taking matters "into his own hands" and claiming without justification that a goal was scored by one of his charges even when an irate goal judge and the majority of fans who saw the play insisted that the puck had ricochetted off the goal post. No red light flickered bey for the season. After playing a as the goal judge refused to sanction bang-up defensive game, this was Patterson's judgment. Evans protested to the ref. but to no avail -- Tanners and it was only her intrusion Patterson was imaginative enough to | that saved Georgetown from defeat: see it (giggle now!) and this was

With a decision like this confronting them, the Tanners were momentarily stunned and during these complaining moments, Scott and Gibson the "we would much rather use Tor- were instrumental in plercing the Aconto players" smile and broke off ton bastion to bring to three the Papertown goals.

proof enough.

This first episode was Georgetown and Patterson period but from there close if Georgetown uses this method on in the game belonged to Acton. Ask even the Georgetown fans and By the way, what was the pro- they'll tell you the same, all that is, gram for anyway? The Acton fans except the ones that froth at the knew the local players. Could it mouth (or do they all?) Zooming Beaumont, Ezeard, wings; alternates, have been that Georgetown support- down the ice to follow the example Gibson, Scott, Bertwhistle, Patterson, pausing only to laugh at the attempts Observed and heard in the George-. The loss of "Russ" Brush, who suf- town arena after the Thursday fered a fractured collar bone; in the game. Georgetown father: "What Georgetown-Acton fracas will indeed did you think of the game, son?" A be a blow to the local defense. Al- youthful fan scratched his ear and though now residing in Waterdown wondered. "Acton should have won, game, "Russ" was a stalwart on the nod of the head and the two grasped and not able to be present at every don't you think?," came the query. A who decisioned Acton in three twen-

Group 5 Junior 'C' Schedule

	- Date	Visiting Team Score	llome Team Score
١	Friday, January 3 -	-Milton . 0	Oakville / . 10
.	Friday, January 3.	λ του	Georgetown
1	Monday, January B	Acton 1	Oakville 9
٠	Monday, January 6 21.	Georgetown 6.
1	Wednesday, January 8.	Oakville 10	Georgetown 0
·	Wednesday, January 8	Milton
٦	Monday, January 13	"Acton 3	Milton - 7
	Monday, January 13	Georgetown 4	Qakville 7
1	Wednesday, January 15	Oakville	Milton :
	Wednesday, January 15,	Georgetown 4
1	Friday, January 17	Oakville 8	Acton
1	Monday, January 20. c.	Milton 3	Georgetown 7
1	Wednesday, January 22	Oakvillo	A CONTRACTOR OF THE CONTRACTOR
ł	Wednesday, January 22	Georgetown 4
1	Friday, January 24	Milton
١	Friday, January 24	Georgetown 5	[12] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1] [1
١	Wednesday, January 201	Oakville ;"8	Milton 4.
1	Wednesday, January 29		Georgetown 7
ł	Friday, January 31		Oakville
١	Monday, February 3	Oakville	Georgetown 6
ı	Monday, February 3	Acton 3	Milton 9
4	Thursday, February 6		- Langer 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985 - 1985
1	Tuesday, February 11 .	[Acton 2
}	Friday, February, 14		Georgetown 0
ı	and, remunity, 14	Georgetown . 1	Oakville · 20

Rhodes was engulfed in pucks and only Dame Fortune was capable of "saving his face." She dld just that! A striking example was Leno Marzo's attempt to score with an open net and a loose puck giving him the initlative. All Leno had to do was push it in-but some twist of fate inter venedito shove the puck past th -post-on-the negative-end-of-the-goal back in Tor-opps, I mean George- It was here that Georgetown broke Credit Valley fanatics. But up here, derhand trick of the trade with the high in the atmosphere where the idea in mind of preventing a puck in air is clear and purer than in the behind Rhodes - but nothing could petite "Hogtown", there is an ent- stop the avalanche of rubber that isirely different story circulating and sued from the Acton end. Townsley we are more inclined to agree with found the twine at 15.20- to make it this unbiased version, especially since 4-1 as Grant Gillespie gave him the that is how the game appeared to puck in a lovely rush around the de-

> Georgetown had a peek over their own blue line for a couple of moments in the last stanza and that was only in the trek of penitents to the penalty box. Townsley again bent out Rhodes to bring the Acton total to the 2nd stage. Rhodes was leaping for pucks from every angle at this point in the fraces and still Acton_just_couldn't_bulge_that_twine_ton_right_from_Intermediate_down_to | The puck stopped on the crease, flicked past the corner, burned itself wondering where the hockey players under jumbles of players until finally of to-morrow are coming from, drop Hio "B19" Marzo swished in over the down to the Arena next Saturday blue line, through the defense and | morning or any Saturday morning, made the count 4-3.

The final bonk of the born (actual ly a horn) saved the night for the Credit Valley for Acton pressed so hard that the Papertown threatened to split already bulging, seams. It was during the last period that Acton suffered its greatest mishap. "Russ" Brush, one of the finest defencemen in the lengue, suffered a fractured collar bone and this probably will mean Brush's retirement from hock-Lady Luck's reward to "Russ" and the We had mentioned before that the Queen City players had a list of foul tricks and very few of these were noticed by Ref. Patterson and his as sociate, who "thumbed them off" only 11 times when it should have been a score of times. Six times did the Tanners suffer a trip to the penalty box and one of these was a misconduct penalty. E. Marzo just informed Patterson what he and the other players thought of him. "Off for 10minutes," bellered Patterson. "Line-ups:

Georgetown - Rhodes, goal: Shropshire, Chriss, defense; Storey, centre;

Acton--Evans, goal; E. Marzo, Bayliss, defense; Gillespie, centre; Marzo, Townsley, wings; alternates, Brush, Riddall, Kentner, Lindsay, L.

Mercantile Team Won Last Friday 8-6 Over Tanners

' Last Friday night the Tanners had a guest from the Mercantile Leagues. ty minute rounds by a score of 8-6. The guest was the G H. Wood's team of Toronto, one of the better cams of the Queen City-Industrial Harold Mooney, a former star of "the local squad was among the roster et talent the Wood's team put on view. The game was a fast and tricky affair the length of the sixts minutes and the chemists' eight goals nlight easily have been ten. However, the same could be said of the Tanners, who threw away changes right and left as they dive-bombed the p Wood's net Net minders of both teams were in a spectacular mood and it was mainly due to their efforts that the digits on, they score sheet

Bending one knee and sweeping the ice for the puck, one of Harold Mooney's favorite actions, gainedrecognition, from the Tanners, who were lacking a bit of color until they followed the example set by the "Mercantiles and produced an exact replica of the same trick, only in a more amateur manner. The locals were not in a belligerent mood, probably because of the grifeling game a night previous, but they were the equal of the foronto team in speed and passing plays.

studio in the downtown section of San Fransisco:

"Plane lesons: Special pains given

Kentner like done a great job conching these b'ys.

If there are any chess enthusiasts in Acton, we would sure like to hear from them. There are already some who are very anxious to form a little club and if anyone interested would get in touch with Johnny Gray at the "Y" he will give your more informetion. It looks as though this little Milton group will hold their get togethers in Sandy McLean's old harber shop. I suppose some of them will get trimming whether they like it or not

DANGEROUS

An insurance agent was trying to convince a prospective" customer the meets of life insurance. He kent right at him. "Why", he said finsurance is the greatest thing in the world. No man should be without it. of National Health and Welfart; Ot-Right now I carry a $50,000 policy awa, recommend, during cold weapayable to my wife."

prospect, "what possible excuse can oil in the diet, to ensure intake of you give for living?"

Hockey Standings

Intermediate JTWITTER GAPIS 7 0 1 59 22 15 8 5 2 1 49 32 11 9 4 5 0 42 63 .8 7 3 4 0 27 38 9 3 6 0 45 43 6 9 2 7 0 46 .70 4

Since cold weather makes sun-bathng difficult, and since, nevertheless, the sunshine Vitamin is necessary to health, nuthorities of the Department ther, such foods as milk, cheese and "It's too much," said the harassed lish, and, where necessary, some fish

Group 5 Intermediate

Date	Visiting Team Score	Home Team Score
Thursday, January 2 Friday, January 3	Georgetown18	Orangeville C
Monday, January 6	.Acton :, 8	Elora
Monday, January 6	Orangeville 2	Georgetown
Thursday, January 9	10 ACCOUNTS 10 ACC	Orangeville 4
Thursday, January 9	Milton 2	Acton $
Friday, January 10	Georgetown 9	Fergus 1
Monday, January 13	Fergus 8	Elorn 4
Tues., Jan. 14 (Feb. 6)	Acton 5	Georgetown 4
Tuesday, January 14	Orangeville' 9	Milton
Thursday, January 16	Elora	Acton
Friday, January 17	Orangeville 3	Fergus
Friday, January 17	Georgetown 3	Milton 1
Monday, January 20	Georgetown 4	Elora 8
Wednesday, January 22 .	Milton 6	Fergus
Thursday, January 23	Acton11	Orangiwille 2
Friday, January 24	Elora 6	Georgetown 8
Monday, January 27	Fergus	Georgetewn
Tuesday, January 28	Orangeville 7	Acton
Thursday, January 30	Fergus	Orangeville
Thursday, January 30	Georgetown 3.	Acton 8
Friday, January 31	Milton 7 7	Elora
Monday, February 3	Orangeville 1	Efora 3
Tuesday, February 4	Acton	Milton '
Thursday, February 6	Milton 6.	Orángeville 10
Friday, February 7	Elora 5	Fergus 0.
Monday, February 10	Acton 4	Fergus 3
Tuesday, February 11	Elora	Milton 6.
Thursday, February 13	Fergus	Acton
Friday, February 14	Milton	Georgetown

Sponsored by Branch 197. B.E.S.L.

IN THE ACTON ARENA

Friday, February

SPECIAL FEATURE

Figure Skating by Icelandia Troup from Toronto

PRIZES!

For comic costumes, best advertising costume, races.

Prize by Icelandia for best pair skating to music

Adults 35c

Midget Hockey

Pee Wee-All Stars-Reds vs. Blues

Broom Ball GEORGETOWN VS. ACTON

1111

Dare Devil Wilson, Barrel CLOWN Moccassin Dance (time permitting) Jumper BAND

> Programme will start at 8 p.m. sharp. Ayoid disappointment. Be On Time.

Two Door Prizes

ADMISSION

Children 15e