Acton Tanners Win First Game From Peach Kings, 3-2

Grimshy bottled them up in their blue line, shooting from every conceivable angle. "Booney" extended stick ends, skate ends and pad ends to the frustrated visitors until the final bell. In fact we doubt if they could have scored on Boones with 10 men on the ice. The final buzzer sounded out the idea of any even for the Peach Kings, as Acton still enjoyed a one goal margin.

Referee Houston was in terrible form, allowing many unexplained methods of tripping, etc., to go unpunished than we've seen in all the other play-off games joint-together. What with holdups, tripping, butt-ends, high sticks and all other foul methods the Peach Kings floundered an untripping number of penalties, but these were only minor breaches when compared with the favorite method of stopping a break-through. Just amble up and dive for the incoming players stick, seems to be the motto and hold on no matter what. Remedy: one good stiff crack across the knuckles. All the so-called Kings were masters of this trick and even though some of them looked stiff behind the ears each one practiced it consistently. If the Friday game travels in the tempo like last night's till we're assured of first class hockey for it was that all the way through.
