Milton Take First Victory Over Acton 4-2 Last Night

Brawn a New Hurler On the Mound Supplied the Necessary Spark for Milton To Click

A renovated Milton nine, sparked by the 5 hit hurling of an import from the steel city performed a "coup de grace" of the triple A club here last night. Led onward by this portlander and making effective use of their willow slats, especially one, "Dago" Brush, the County Town eked a 4-2 decision over Acton in the twilight fixture. Don Ryder was touched for 7 hits during the affair and the issue was doubtful until the last trip to the plate. The locals rallied in the seventh but Brawn pulled the game out of the fire with a strike-out. Brush was the "Big Bertha" of the Milton attack with a double and a triple forcing the winning runs over the plate in the fifth and seventh frames.

While Brush and Brawn shone for Milton Kentner was the high boy at the plate for Acton. His single and a double which might have been a triple except for whimsical legs, kept the locals in the running. Some sloppy base running spoiled the triple A chance at achievement and further sacrifice was negligible in output.

This is the only game Milton has won from Acton in four tries and although they are boosted into Int. B. baseball because of the Hamilton imports, they are certainly lacking in several departments and as yet are not in Oakville's class.

The County Town now has a complete mound staff imported—Brawn a southpaw and Porter, a stalky right-hander. Bank the outfielder also from points south failed to put in an appearance last night. Things must be muddled in Milton for such a move to be made by the executive. Imagine Milton, the "Ball Town" of Ontario, relying on outside hired (?) hands to win all the game in tablet form.

Milton garnered two runs off two safeties in the first frame to open the scoring department. B. Clements singled and stole second. Brush managed the first sack on Ryder's error and after Blinco and Toletzka had been crossed out, Dick Clements banged a single to left field which scored the two base runners. Acton tied the count in the last half of the second.

As Lindsay walked and attempted a steal, Brawn threw the spherical away to the first baseman while the "Dude" managed second. Masales' hit was picked up by Brawn after knocking him off his stance and a wild throw allowed Lindsay to score. Kentner socked a long drive to right field which enabled Masters to tie the count. It wasn't until the fifth that Milton forged ahead. Both teams were hitting on a one percentage for their respective innings and the fifth canto found "Dago" Brush the batter with B. Clements on sack.

Brush clouted a double and Clements broke the draw as he completed the circuit. Receiver Brush crashed the party again in the seventh inning when he tripled on a screaming drive to deep center. Brawn was on sack at the time and pushed Acton's hopes of a rally further into the dust as the County Town were ahead by 2 tallies.

Kentner enlivened the half of the seventh with a lovely drive over the night fielder's head and an Acton rally looked forthcoming. Snyder struck out however and the final count remained 4-2.

KAMLOOPS TROUT IN ONTARIO

Introduced into Ontario's Lakeland, the famous Kamloops Trout of British Columbia appears to have taken kindly to the change of habitat in the eight years or so since its introduction. A young Toronto school teacher told of landing one of the rainbow-hued finches at Lake Bernard. It weighed seven and three-quarter pounds, was slightly over twenty-five inches long, and had a girth fractionally over sixteen inches. A younger brother of the angler mentioned, reported that a "technicolor" display of the Northern Lights over the same region on a subsequent evening, created a ghostly sort of light by reflection from an unusually moist ground mist. There was enough light to go fishing, and at his fourth cast landing at the mouth of a creek, he hooked a two and three-quarter pound Kamloops by the Aurora's glow. Reports of other catches of this introduced species will be welcomed at the Museum.

To face the world with a smile, Canadians need clean teeth, doctors remind us. Dirty teeth, as well as being offensive, may retard one's social and business progress. For a clean smile, therefore, the authorities urge regular after-meal and before-bed use of the toothbrush.

Dead Man Found At Brantford May Have Lived Here

Papers found on the body of a man discovered in shallow water near the west bank of the Grand River in Brantford last Sunday, may prove the man to be Benjamin Gurbin of Acton. The body of the dead man was found beneath the C.N.R. bridge which crosses the river near the Lorne Bridge in Brantford. Upon removal of the body to the hospital, a post-mortem examination was begun, to determine the cause of death and the length of time the body had been in the water.

Benjamin Gurbin, who was about 29 years old, came to Acton from the Kapuskasing district, police revealed, and was employed at the cannery here for two months. At the end of that period, last February, he left his job and Acton, leaving no indication behind as to his plans or destination. It is believed that Gurbin has relatives in Windsor.
