Rural Mail Couriers Urge Abolition of The Tender System

Officers Elected at Convention in Guelph of Association which Represents 5000 Couriers

The Rural Mail Couriers' Association of Canada, representing Canada's 5000 couriers met in convention at Guelph to discuss the many and varied problems relating to rural mail de- ing Chair; 1 Table Lamp; Scatter livery, and having especially in mind the deletion of the word "tender" with all that 'it' implies from the present "tender contract" system. At the present time practically every route is operating for an individual price on an individual contruct. This is quite as it should be Dishen, Etc.; Linelaum 13'v8'6", cood but it is not right or just that three as new; Ice Box. or four routes operating from the same office, practically the same miles to travel, and the same number of boxes to serve, should be working with Spring and Mattress: Single under contracts hundreds of dollars Solid Walnut Bed, four, post complete difference in the contract price.

This, in most instances, is not the courier's fault, but because he has a length cupboard; Vanity Dresser, solld "tender" contract that has been set at a price determined by any person who wants to put in a tender. So often the tenderer has an entirely different field of endeavor and rural mail is the sideline. More often the tenderer has no experience concerning the work to be done nor knowledge of the expense that rural mail delivery incurs, seeing only a monthly Government cheque coming in. Before the first cheque arrives he realizes that he has tendered too low.
