SPORTS CAMERA

By H. COLLES

The vacuum created in major athletic activities by hockey's seasonable lapse will be infused with a hurry-scurry again as baseball beckons its finger at mid-October. As a rule May 24 has the distinction not only of Victoria's commemorative but also of heralding the opening of the Halton County League, undoubted since it embraces two Ontario titlists—the hotbed of Ontario Intermediate baseball. And that isn't too far away.

This semester promises to be a scintillating one for numberless reasons. Oakville are reputed to be fielding their usual powerful intermediate crew; over in Milton an enthusiastic executive are formulating plans that they hope will constitute a threat to omnipotent Oakville. Acton are prepared to defend the Ont. Int. C. pennant and although Georgetown are still imbedded deeply in hockey, they have given a "go ahead" signal to County officials.

Locally, it appears that all members of last year's champs will be eligible to play, with the exception of "Dooney" Evans at the keystone. "Dooney" is at present residing in Milton where his services are more sought after since his stellar performance in the nets for the Redshirts.

The hurling staff is intact. Don Ryder, ace southpaw of the triple-A club has already commenced spring training. As a member of the Fire Dept. he has been observed scurrying to the blitzes to pin some with a pace that he intends to duplicate on the base-boards. Our partly right-hander, Peter Chabon, despite rumor, remains in Acton, where it is hoped from this pillar especially to see much more of his sweeping side-arm motion. In a utility position there is Sam Snyder, another right-hander. Sam can virtually step into any position on the club but is valued especially as a relief hurler.

Last year's juveniles had a southpaw who could round out the Int. mound staff in Harry Lawson. The kid with the curve has two or three seasons of juvenile competition left in his repertoire but if necessary, we think Harry could be elevated without any complications. On the Int. club he would receive the benefit of coaching which has, unless there is a drastic readjustment, would never encompass in Juvenile ranks.

As a backstop "Dude" Lindsay is invaluable. Veteran Bob Anderson, who filled the bill so diligently last term can if he intends to make an appearance, substitute in this role. Obviously Acton baseball is suffering from a catcher shortage and only this duo are capable of filling it.

A compact infield is available if last year's clever hoppers appear at practice sessions. On 1st base Norm Morton; 2nd base J. Waterhouse; shortstop, Owen Maslog and on third Edmundo Lorne Masters.

Back in the garden Bob Footitt is a catch for centre field. Over in right field there is a choice of Lloyd Robinson or Bill Waterhouse although Bill is adamant about another year of active play. Jack Kenner's potent bat won't be booming unless he commutes to Fergus and Acton like he polished the hockey season off with.

No decision has been reached by Minor baseball officials.

Post Mortem

Fergus, Ontario's sports mecca, modest aren't they are delighted that Bucko McDonald's Beavers thwarted Acton's championship desires. He's an old Fergus boy, you know. I wonder if Bucko appreciated Fergus while out-touched there. Apparently not. He migrated elsewhere.

Illo Marzo was awarded Acton's most valuable player reward on a basis of all round value. Opinion was unanimous.

Best of this column goes to Georgetown for attaining the pinnacle of success there. Raiders are contenders for Eastern Canada title as of now. I think something should be done numerically to recognize the "Banners" bang up hockey effort and it might include the baseball champs and the band as well.

Clarence Riddall of Milton ascends to Halton County Baseball presidency, relieving Acton's Ed Ryder.

When the water supply became exhausted, a group of French farmers used thousands of gallons of fresh apple cider to put out a fire.
