SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

The government's surplus of receipts over expenditures for the ten months ending January 31st was $741 millions. This looks suspiciously like what, in the business world, would be called a huge profit. Of course $348 millions were absorbed by credits to other countries, which is about the same as an industry's plowing back part of its profits in plant improvement or expansion and other methods of safeguarding the future. It still leaves a bumper sum. Yet nobody shouts to high heaven that this successful year is an evidence of a selfish and predatory attitude. We say "taxes ought to be reduced" which is tantamount to a shareholder's expecting his percentage of the profits. Do people forget that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.
