PART BHIPMENT

Building contractors have their troubles nowadays, not the least of which is the poor quality of lumber still being offered them. A resentful contractor recontly the corner of Lakoshure Highway dispatched this telegram to the . mill that had just sont him a carload of lumber.

"Kinot holes received, please send knots."

in other words, our imports exceed our exports. Consequently, it would seem folly not to take advantage of a market for any product which we produce in Carada and of which we have a surplus. The Marshall plan is helping us out at-the moment, but that is only a temporary measure, and we should prepare for the future. When we hear some people talking about reimposition of price controls we can't help but feel that what they have in mind is to control the other fellow while they have a free hand to get the last nickel for their own product. That perhaps, is only human nature. As we intimated earlier we don't like paying more for our beef -we, don't like to see the cost of living steadily increasing, and while we do not pose as either a economist or a politican, it would seem to us that we must take a broader viewpoint than many of us are inclined to do. Furthermore, it isn't going to hurt many of us to get along with a little less beef. Certainly the sooner we get our house in order the better we will be able to weather the depression days that He ahead when the Marshall Plan comes to an

Halton Plowmen to Hold Annual

Match on Erwin Gunby Farm The annual match of the Halton Plowmen's Association is scheduled for Thursday, October 28th. Last week the Nelson Township directors with assistance of Stanley Hall M.P.P., who is chairman of the farm machinery end of the big event, selected a site on the farm of Enwin Gunby, located on No. 5 Highway, near Tansley. The members of the field committee feel they have been most fortunate in securing such an excellent location for the Halton Match, which is recognized as one of the top county matches held annually in the_Province.
