Do you want a stove that will, burn any type of coal and need fuel only once a day?

We have two Warm Morning Heaters in stock that will do this and more. This stove, developed by the Anthracite Institute in our neighbour country, the United States, uses a different principle that gets more heat out of coal The fuel capacity is large allowing you to leave your fire longer without attertion. The appearance of this fine stove is good and at a very attractive price.
