TO MOTHER
 Dear Mother we have memories of childhood's happy days. When you in love and faithfulness Guided and cheered always My little feet seem prone to run Afar: from wisdom's ways
 Then, one by one in turn we kneel To say that old-time prayer,
 Still, "Now I lay me, see repeat Though old, and gray our hair,
 And down the years comes Mother's voice,
 "May God bless you, my dear!"
 Dear mother mine, soon at thy gates Of pearl, thy form we'll see,
 Waiting expectantly,
 A smile of welcome on thy lips,
 And brothers, sisters, Father too,
 All watching there for me
 As weary, pain-worn children now We wait upon the shore
 Glimpsing the ambling evening star
 The near muffled oar
 Hear Mother's voice from Heaven clear,
 Call, "Home at last, my dear!"

SPORTS CAMERA

 When the Toronto Maple Leafs go to bat on their own ballpark, it seems to be a signal for fans in this locale to once more become baseball conscious. Leafs yesterday occupied home quarters, playing host to Newark Bears and thousands of eager customers flocked to view the "49 edition flying under a judicious insignia appropriately tagged "Handicap Bank" included among the spectators, of course, were the usual quota of office "Johnnies" whose grandmother's funeral cottage conveniently dispersed within sight of the stadium.

and a large attendance spoke for the player's interest. Although there is some trouble about which organization will sponsor this year's entry it doubtless will be ironed out before opening day. Battery trouble seems to be a major obstacle to a winning combination. Sam Snyder was the only hurler to show up on Saturday while not a catcher was in evidence. Probably, as interest mounts, the deficiency on the mound staff will be obliterated as there is no lack of first string twirlers in this district. But however else another thing. Unless "Hodge" Lindsay and Bob Anderson decide for another year, there just aren't any back-stops lined up.

EXPANDING FIELD
 There are lots of openings for the right men in the field of professional agriculture, writes Dr. E. S. Archibald, head of Canada's Experimental Farms System in the Financial Post. "At present there is a definite shortage of trained agriculturists, but heavy prospective graduations in the next two years will alter conditions somewhat. Nevertheless, agriculture will probably occupy a favorable position as compared with other professions for years to come."
 "It would be dangerous to generalize on probable first year earnings, but in institutional work a good average graduate may expect to receive between $2,000 and $3,000 on starting.
 "Average earnings in such work now run at about $3,500 after five years' experience and about $4,500 after 15 years."

DON'T SCALP THE LAWN
 Don't clip the garden grass too short. Many people go to endless trouble in the spring fertilizing, top-dressing and rolling their lawn, only to offset much of the good they do at the time, by mowing it too close all through the summer. The shorter the grass, the more the grass will be exposed to the burning summer sun, the more fertilizer and water will be required and the easier it will be for weeds to encroach.
 The cutting bar of the lawn mower should never be set lower than one and a half or two inches from the ground, except with creeping bent grasses, which are seldom used on garden lawns. Mowing should be frequent, so that clippings may be left on the lawn where they form a good source of rich nutriment. If the grass has grown too long, however, the clippings must be raked off, as if they lie on the lawn they tend to smother the grass roots and cause dead patches to appear.
 Watering is valuable during the hot summer months. A good soaking once a week is more use than a light sprinkling every other night. Watering should be continued until the soil is thoroughly moistened to a depth of four inches.
