

SPECIALLY TOLD

The following brief comments by Franklin P. Jones in the Saturday Evening Post are a rather good hot-weather diet.

Give a lawyer enough rope and he'll hang the jury.

Neighbors don't come to see you just because you have television. They like the coffee and sandwiches too.

The gold duffer seldom addresses the ball properly after he misses it. You don't have to leave your right arm to get a loan, these days. At some places they will accept the left.

The nearest thing to a man with his head in the sand is apt to be a small boy with a shovel.

PLOT AGAINST SHIPPING

Now that the Communist CSU has been settled, the task of keeping the Canadian merchant fleet on a straight course is considerably easier, says Ronald Williams in The Financial Post.

The story of the Communist war against our shipping is so fantastic, says Williams, as to tax the credulity of decent Canadians.

Here's an example.

Under CSU union rules, the union was given the right to say prior to sailing, if the condition of the ship was satisfactory.

One 10,000 tonner was held up at a cost of more than $1,500 a day because a washroom mirror was cracked.

The cracked mirror was brought to the attention of the captain half an hour before sailing. "Must be fixed by four sailing," said the union.

The captain agreed to take the mirror out of his own quarters to replace the cracked one.

"No good. It's gotta be a mirror like the one that's supposed to be here."

It was late Saturday afternoon, a favourite time with the unionists for "making demands" because the chances of the ship owners being able to do anything about it were at a minimum.

But the captain sent an officer ashore to buy an exact duplicate mirror and a union carpenter to install it.

They got the mirror and the carpenter. But after the carpenter got on the job he claimed he needed a special tool to install the thing. He went off the job to get it never come back.

Did the Communists persuade him not to come back? "We think so," say ship operators.

Met men work about one month as hard as they do, they do not think they do.

Start Youngster's Financial Career With One Dollar

Early Years are Best in Forming Steady Savings Habit

To your youngster a dollar means more now than it will in later life. If he can retain this youthful respect for money as he matures, he will be likely to form life-long habits of wise spending and regular saving.

As countless success stories show, these habits are of vital assistance in career building and happy living.

You can impress these important traits on your child, and by using a simple method. Thousands of Canadian parents have employed it successfully. You just give your youngster a dollar to start a bank of Montreal savings account. You encourage him to save from his pocket money for some of the things he wants. Thus you help him to help himself and to enjoy his pocket and usefulness.

Why not send him around to the B of M to open his account to-morrow. William Clayton, local branch manager, and his staff will be glad to assist your youngster to start his own success story.

COLOURED CAR ROUTES

Plan for coloured routes through London and other towns to enable motorists in great straits to them to find their way easily and safely is to be submitted to the Ministry of Transport. It is suggested that a pair of coloured discs should be placed on lamp post. It is claimed by the inventor that the plan would enable motorists to find their way to a town or village with complete ease, by following through traffic along a specific route.

BURLINGTON

Rumors have been making the rounds the past few days that Burlington is to have a second theatre in the very near future. Upon investigation the Gazette learned that there was foundation to the rumors and a couple of sites on Hunt St. had been looked at by the interested parties.

On Saturday afternoon when a truck driven by Charles Sander on Ontario Street, near Maple Ave. power was off in the area for nearly three hours until repairs were made by Hydro employees.

With the passing of fall, heating completion and the receipts all in from the recent Carnival held in the Lions Club it is reported that the total net profit will be in the neighborhood of $6,000, practically the same as last year when the net profit was $4,017. The gross take was some $200 in excess of last year but expenditures ran slightly high.

OAKVILLE

Leveling of approximately ten acres of Trafalgar Park this week to be followed by seeding this fall, marked the first step in a long range plan to convert this long unused parkland into a modern recreation centre, it was announced yesterday by Don Davis, chairman of the town parks board.

While patrolling the Main Street about 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning Constables Ed Heath and Alfred Hooks noticed a new car cruising around in a suspicious manner. They stopped the car and questioned the occupants, Edmond Bissan and Carl Coughlan, two young men of no fixed abode. Upon investigation it developed that they had stolen the car, a new 1949 Pontiac, from a 16th man.

Attended by a huge crowd of fun-seekers, the carnival held by Bronte-Trafalgar branch of the Canadian Legion at the Bronte Athletic grounds Saturday evening proved one of the gayest and most successful summer events in Bronte's history.

OCTOPUS AIDS NUFFIELD RESEARCH

Unusual aspects of biological research are seen in the Nuffield Foundation's fourth report issued recently. The Foundation was established and endowed with $10 million by Lord Nuffield six years ago, and the present report, according to the trustees, signifies the end of the first phase of its activities. One grant of $16,000 financed an attempt to discover how learning and experience are stored in the brain. For this, octopuses were victims of the experiment. By removing parts of their brains when they had learnt to respond to one set of conditions, Professor J. Z. Young has found that though outwardly still normal the octopuses have forgotten their training. "Studies of these portions of the brain are now being made," says the report "and may provide some clue to how past experiences are stored."

From September 2nd to 10th, the National Horse Show will be held at the C.N.E. in Toronto. Prominent horse owners of the United States and Canada will send their finest animals to compete in the various classes at the Coliseum. Maybe the draft horse is meeting some opposition from the tractor but admirers of the saddle horse profess not to be worried.

ERIN

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the 40x60 barn, sea son's crop implements etc. on the farm lot 19 w. on R. on the 7th line, Erin Township, the property of James Ross, in the early hours of Thursday morning of last week.

The Village Council has received a complete detailed report on the cause of the fire, and the Ontario Department of Health on May 10th and 11th. The tests of the water taken from wells showed the following characteristics: A 79 B. in C. 6 D. 15.

Mr. James O'Connell, bank Hill boy, was seriously injured last Saturday when he fell from the highest on the farm of Stanley Somerville, when he fell from a load of grain landing on his head and shoulders. He was removed to Bronte General Hospital and later to Toronto General Hospital, Adelaide.

GEORGETOWN

The Georgetown Recreational Commission fund raising campaign is in full swing again after a vacation lull. Treasurer Jack Malcolm and many of the canvassers have been on holidays but are now back to work and ready to resume knocking on doors. The total contributions to date amount to $350.00 this week's acknowledgements amounting to $80.00.

Council passed a by-law regulating sanitary conditions and controlling the erection of privies, cesspools and septic tanks, as recommended by Halton Health Unit.

A boys baseball league has been formed in town with teams chosen from different districts. Teams entered are Main St. John St. College View and Glen Williams.

Two Georgetown lacrosse teams journeyed to Orangeville last Friday for O.L.A. lacrosse fixtures. The nuggets swamped the home team 14-6 and the Pee Wees were beaten 6-2.

CASUALTIES TO FISHERMEN

During the holiday season nearly every day there are stories in the newspapers telling of the wonderful luck local and American tourists are having fishing. Every district in the various and many vacation resorts in Ontario delight in boasting about the record catch of fish. There is, of course, a local pride in boasting of such accomplishments, but back of it too, in many cases, is the desire for publicity to attract other fish-loving anglers to spend their holidays and their money at their lodge.

Seldom does one see publicity given to hazardous casualties of fishing. But the Peterboro Examiner is the exception, for after devoting about a column to the many successful and record catches of maskinonge in the beautiful Kawartha Lakes district, it ends up its fishing story with this paragraph:

"In ratio to the step-up in fishing results comes the casualties to fishermen. Dr. A. L. Russell, of Baileboro had three cases of removing fish hooks from anglers' fingers and another man with a hook in his scalp, all since opening day in the Rice Lake area. Another call from a fisherman who gaffed his nose with a hook. He was taken to the Port Hope Hospital for treatment before the doctor arrived."

Far be it from us to discourage such a pleasant diversion as fishing by reprinting this paragraph!
