At the regular meeting of the Inter-Urban Area Board on Monday evening it was revealed that no petitioners for water mains could accomplish any results unless they came forward and offered to put up the full amount of money necessary to carry out their petition. ## MANNING ELECTRIC

Acton, Ontario

By H. COLES

Before you pronounce any obsequies over the plight of Acton Juniors, give the club executive, managers and trainer the credit due for taking an active interest in promoting Junior baseball this term. The obstacles overcome by these men in order to keep the future into circulation should be a good lesson to our Intermediate brethren, who, apparently think only in terms of the present. Lack of funds, non-descript uniforms, no equipment, these were some of the difficulties existing right from the club's formation. But under every handicap including a long wait from the O.H.A., the club personnel realized their goal—a berth in the Ontario play-downs.

They didn't attain the height of success when they did succeed, it's true. Nevertheless, they proved to fans and scoffers alike that with encouragement they could play a brand of ball on par with Ontario's best minor clubs. Take last Wednesday's spectacle as an example. Without any exceptions, it was the best game seen in Acton Park this year by this corner and between two of Ontario's finest pitchers. Simcoe had Acton's measure in the deciding set on Saturday last but I must confess, scribe never witnessed so many "breaks" plague a team as they did the local Juniors then. Fortune punched them right in the teeth at the start, releasing a knock-out blow in the form of 10 runs after two had been scratched in the third inning.

However, even faced with the huge deficit of Saturday (Simcoe had a 10-0 lead at one stage), Acton kept trying to make a game of it. That reaction sat well with Simcoe's fans, who before game's end were urging, and even cheering the boys for their pluck and downright refusal to submit to defeat. Unfortunately, the wide margin, although narrowed in later innings, constituted too great a handicap and the Reformers Cubs finished the better team by 12 runs. Admittedly, Cubs had a better balanced club but by our standards Acton Juniors are to be commended for doing so much with so little this season.

The Intermediates hopes of acquiring another pitcher to bolster the mound corps were reduced when it was revealed John Mowat, former Acton righthander and this year with Galt Terrier Pups of the Junior Intercounty, was ineligible to play Int A. Following the example of Hespeler, A's negotiated with the O.H.A. for Mowat's transfer believing the transaction would be endorsed by that august body as in the case of Hespeler who made full exercise of their privilege of signing Preston and Galt Juniors. But the O.H.A. had lost their former viewpoint or something in that nature and as a result Acton will just have to get along without Mowat. However, they can throw Harry Lawson, if Lawson agrees, that is since his return from the New York Yankee camp, Lawson has improved in his one-hitter on Wednesday testified. Consequently with Lawson strengthening the hurling staff it could mean another step in the direction of an Ontario championship.
