CAMPBELLVILLE NUPTIALS FOR LOIS ANN WILSON AND HARRY COXE LAWSON

Ebenezer United Church, set with spring flowers, lilies, tulips, daffodils, narcissi and snapdragons was the setting for the wedding of Lois Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Wilson, R. R. 1, Campbellville and Harry Coxie Lawson, son of Mrs. Hazel Lawson and the late Harry Lawson, Acton. Reverend R. W. Pickersgill performed the ceremony Saturday afternoon, February 18th. Mrs. Rena Elsley played the wedding music and Mrs. William Kee of Guelph sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "Because." Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white velvety-ray styled with net yolk, round neckline, long sleeves and bodice buttoned down the back. The graceful skirt was draped into a bustle effect with large bow at the back and swept into a short train. A beaded tiara held a long veil of bridal illusion. The bride wore a three strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of red roses. The maid of honor, Miss Jean Engle and the bridesmaid, Miss Donna Easterbrook, wore identical floor length gowns of pale pink fashioned with brocaded satin waists and full skirts of double net over chiffon. They wore pale pink tiara headresses and carried bouquets of yellow daffodils. Their matching necklaces of rhinestones centered with pink cameos on a sterling silver chain were gifts from the bride. Mr. Kenneth Hutchison of Rockwood was best man and the ushers were Mr. Ross Hall of Guelph, cousin of the bride and Mr. Harold Townsley of Acton, boy friend of the groom. Almost one hundred guests attended a reception in the basement of the church following the ceremony. Spring flowers adorned the attractively set up tables and the bride's table was centered with the wedding cake and tall lighted tapers. The bride's mother, Mrs. Wilson, received her guests wearing a gown of navy silk flake, navy hat, white gloves and corsage of yellow roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, Mrs. Lawson, who chose black silk tulle, black hat, matching accessories and corsage of red roses. Leaving for a honeymoon trip to London and Detroit, the bride wore a navy printed silk dress, wine topcoat, navy accessories and camellia corsage. The groom's two grandmothers, Mrs. Nellie Coxie, Acton and Mrs. Harry Lawson, Stewarttown, attended the wedding. Also the groom's great aunt and uncle, Miss Hettie Lawson and Mr. David Lawson of Georgetown and the bride's great aunt, 84 year old Mrs. Annie Fowke from Detroit. Guests were present from Acton, Campbellville, Guelph, Rockwood, Georgetown, Hornby, Brantford, Toronto, Orillia, Detroit and Niagara Falls.

Juniors Clinch Group with Two Wins of Week

(Continued From Page One) In my first article, I have endeavored to give the reader, in as brief a form as possible, the early formation of Rotary. Naturally, when you form an organization of this kind, your constitution will contain your proposed ideals, aims and objectives. Thus, on the first Chicago Convention in 1910, the following five original objectives were formed: 1. Extension of Rotary, which at that time meant United States and possibly Canada. Plans for a world wide organization were not contemplated at that time, but one year later, 1911, we find three clubs registered from the British Isles, i.e., Belfast, Dublin and London, England. From 1911-1921 Rotary grew very rapidly and by 1921 had increased to a membership of 1000 clubs, represented on every continent. In 1912 the association was officially called "International Association of Rotary Clubs."

2. Unity of effort among the clubs, which I think is self explanatory and came from the motto "United we stand, divided we fall." 3. The third objective dealt with the development of civic pride and loyalty. This, in my opinion, was and still is, the most important of all, since there is no limit in your efforts towards improvement of your hometown and towards your fellow citizen in distress: 4. Objective number four dealt with the promotion of "honorable business methods." I rather think that in most major cities of the United States, there was an urgent need at that time for a reform of business methods and the businessman and Rotary member especially, realized that to be a good citizen, you must conduct your business in an ethical manner. 5. The fifth objective is no longer a part of the constitution but deals with the advancement of business interests amongst the individual members. At the first convention, a member proposed the following motto "He profits most who serves his fellow best." This was later amended to "Service above self—He profits most who serves best."

These original objectives were frequently revised through the years and have been reduced to four in number and are as follows: 1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service. 2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society. 3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life. 4. The advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men, united in the ideal of service. To be continued.

REINDEER FOR SCOTLAND

British authorities are said to be considering importing a nucleus of suitable reindeer for breeding in the mountains of Scotland, the only part of the British Isles where the right kind of moss for feeding them is available. It has not been disclosed whether initial steps will be taken by the Ministry of Transport who may be anticipating future needs of Santa Claus!

The Redmen had a wide edge on play in both the first and third stanzas, muffing many chances, especially in the initial period and in addition providing a calm, collected Coulson who, incidentally, is a very improved twine-tender, with adequate protection. In the second period however, they relaxed for about three minutes. Within the allotted space the Junior Raiders whipped in two goals proving that they are still very much the opportunist which needs be for chances were indeed rare. The win gave Acton a two point edge on the series and only a tie was necessary to cop the series.
