Rockwood had a taste of high water conditions last week when as a result of the heavy rains first of the week, caused the river to come up to a high point. Water overflowed the highway in the village opposite the Candy factory, and also caused a slight washout at Mr. C. Down's drive adjacent to the candy factory, as well as doing some damage to a portion of Valley Road adjacent to Horlop's Mill dam, also breaking some of the timbers in the dam as a result of the heavy ice going out. During Tuesday evening and on in the night, lanes were set at different points on the section of Highway affected by overflow from the river, and members of the highway Department were busy during the night keeping a look-out for the safety of motorists. The mill dam at the Woolen Mills presented a miniature Niagara. With a gradual lowering of temperatures, the high water eased off during Wednesday forenoon, and those residing on Valley Road were able to get to the village and home again.

A railroad's real worth lies not in the dollars and cents it earns but in what it means to the territory it serves.

THE BARNARD is planned with a surprising amount of livable space compacted into a small area, without waste. It is designed for a narrow lot. The living room has corner windows and a fireplace on the outside wall. Entrance to the living room is through a vestibule equipped with a convenient coat closet. The bathroom hall holds

Hello Home-makers! Glamour at moderate cost is what we all want in desserts. There is nothing like a new dessert during the spring season to pep up a meal. Even a different presentation of an old standby will often do the trick.

At this time of the year, fresh fruits are practically non-existent. However, there are preserves, jams and jellies, not to mention the innumerable canned or frozen fruits, which we can serve alone or in interesting combinations or as garnishes to add colour and extra goodness. With your own home-canned fruit, cracked eggs for baking and a little top milk saved for a few days to use as whipping cream, the cost of desserts will be very modest. Finally, always consider an attractive arrangement on a pretty plate.

For Sunday dinner, you can be a bit extravagant in your selection of a crisp meringue tart filled with strawberries or tinned pineapple topped with whipped cream. On Saturday, the left-over cake from Saturday along with the egg yolks left over from the baking of meringues, may be concocted into a tasty dish of Trifle topped with jelly. Then Tuesday, a Rhubarb Betty, using bits of maraschino cherries in the biscuit crust may be a good choice. Next day, serve rice pudding another creamy dessert; this time try adding slivers of candied ginger in place of raisins. Come Thursday, try a jelly roll filled with a raspberry jam and accompanied by chocolate peppermint sauce. Then don't forget to have prunes for breakfast that day so you can have prune whip with oatmeal cookies on Friday Saturday is one day when there will be someone home to set the table for you—a good time to make a last-minute dessert but a hearty one—Fruit Dumplings.

Announcement to Business Men

Your business, listed for sale with us, goes into the hands of every member REALTOR across Ontario. This gives you province-wide sales service.

You get this extra service because we have been, for some time, a member of the CO-OPERATIVE Listing Division of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards. Under this plan we also have for sale many types of businesses, including summer cottages, all over Ontario.

Here is How It Works

You list your business with us—a copy of this listing goes to every member of the Division throughout Ontario. You get a better class of buyer and more of them—therefore the price of your property is kept up. You get a clean transaction because the deal is being handled by Realtors who know what they are doing. You know from the outset what fees will be charged because there is a set schedule.

So, if you are contemplating a change SEE US and get the full advantage of this very successful CO-OPERATIVE LISTING PLAN.
