

LOCAL NEWS

Haven't seen much of the sun since last Saturday. —The exterior of the Baptist Church has been redecorated. —Thanksgiving is just three weeks from next Monday. —Have to hurry if the paving on No. 25 highway is to be completed before October 31st. —Happy New Year to our Jewish friends who are celebrating the year 5711 this week. —Lawns are unusually green for September and flowers should make a grand display at the Fair this year. —It's too bad the children are back at school—they could have had lots of fun making mud pies on the streets this week. —Fair officials report that the midway at Acton Fair this year will be bigger and better than ever, with more rides than in former years. —Congratulations to Mr. George Fountain of Acton who won first prize in an Old Time Fiddler's Contest held last Saturday in Glen Williams. —Engineers were in Acton Thursday inspecting out the installations for the new warning signal to be situated at the Mill St crossing of the railway. —About fifty relatives and friends were present when Mrs. Elberly entertained her brother, Mr. Clifford Webster and Miss Jane Holmes at a shower and Sunday supper party in honor of their approaching marriage.

The first signs of fall are visible already with shorter days and a few trees beginning to show promise of the beautiful colors we'll see in a few weeks. —You may feel safe from mud splashes when you're in your car this murky weather, but please remember those walking. Your car develops pretty wide wings of mud that are apt to splatter other's clothes, as you fly along. —Miss Alrena Hill, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hill of 114 1/2 Acton, was suddenly caught in the belt of a tractor while thrashing at the farm last Friday. Suffering injuries to the right side of her face and neck and with her right arm fractured, she was treated in Guelph General Hospital. —There will be another Boy Scout paper collection this Saturday. The usual procedure will be followed if there's a test. Scout paper cards showing the boys will soon be picked up your bundles which will they hope be securely tied with string or rope. If you haven't one of these cards to display, give us a call at 174 and we will see that you get one. —Miss Jean MacMurdy, a niece of Mrs. J. C. Matthews, was very lucky at the Exhibition when she won a beautiful bridal gown and veil. The dress had been worn by a regular model while it was on display, but when Miss MacMurdy was declared the winner in the draw, she put the gown on herself, modelling it for all those present as well as news photographers. A school teacher in Toronto, she plans to be married in a few months.
