SUNDAY, OCTOBER 8th, 1950
GIVING OURSELVES TO CHRIST
Lesson Text—Matt. 16:24-25, Mk. 1:16-20, Phil. 1:19-26

EXPOSITION 1 The Cost of True Discipleship, Matt. 16:24-25. The time was not ripe for Jesus to declare to His disciples His approaching rejection, suffering and death. He tells them He "MUST" go to Jerusalem, "must" suffer, "must" be killed, "must" be raised again. There was no imperative necessity for these things. Why "must" he die? (Jno. 3:14, Heb. 9:22, Isa. 53:4-8, 2 Cor. 5:21, Gal. 3:13, 1 Pet. 2:24). But there is another glorious "must" that is raised again. (Rom. 1:4, 4:25, 5:9, Jno. 14:19). Peter again rushes to the front, but not this time with a flesh-given confession of faith but a flesh-given protest against the cross. And now Jesus pronounces him no longer Peter (rock-man) but Satan (an adversary) and a "stumbling block." All this downfall and humiliation came from his mind not the things of God but the things of men.

Then follow the wondrous words that set forth conditions and cost of real discipleship. (1) "Let him deny himself." Real self-denial is the denial of SELF. The word translated "deny," means "to affirm that one has no acquaintance or connection with one," just as Peter denied his Lord (Matt. 26:72; Luke 22:34). To deny self then is to say to self—when it comes forward with its claims, its demands, its interests, its desires, its opinions, its strength, its anything—"I don't know you." It is to renounce self with all that belongs to it, its ideas, hopes, plans, purposes, ambitions, strength, ALL. (2) "Let him take up his cross." The cross is the suffering and shame that lie in the path of loyalty to God (literal execution on a cross for Jesus and persecution for all who, etc.) (3) Tim. 3:12). To take up our cross is to go right on in the path of duty and meet the suffering and shame and crucifixion that lie there. To compromise with the world to avoid these, is to refuse the cross and cease to be a disciple. (3) "And follow me." i.e. to have the mind of Christ (Phil. 2:5-8; 1 Pet. 2:19-21). This looked hard to the disciples, but Jesus went on to show how well it paid, that a man made a bad bargain if he gained the whole world and in doing it lost his soul or life.

II. Call of Peter and Andrew. Mk. 1:16-20. Simon and Andrew were attending to their own business when Jesus called them into His work, and God most frequently calls men to higher work when they are going faithfully about the humbler duties to which He has called them. (Ex. 3:1, 4:5, 1 Ki. 19:21, Matt. 9:9). Jesus called them into a work of the same character that they were already doing now they were to fish for men. The ordinary fisherman catches to kill and eat them. The Gospel fisherman catches men to make them alive and feed them. Jesus gave them the commandment, "Come ye after me," and the promise, "I will make you to become fishers of men." Commandments and promises always go hand in hand in the teaching of our Lord Jesus. Our employment of the promise is conditioned upon our obedience to the commandment. The day came when Jesus' promise to Peter was so wonderfully fulfilled that Peter caught more men at a single haul than he did fish on this day. (Mt. 2:4-13). Jesus says to each one of us just what He said to Andrew and Simon, "Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men," and one great condition of success in fishing for men is "Following Jesus." Anyone who does follow Jesus will be a fisher of men.

Andrew and Simon showed that they believed Jesus' promise and appreciated His call by leaving all and following Him (Luke 5:11). Forsaking all will pay; for those who forsake all gain all, both for time and eternity (Matt. 19:29). They not only left their nets to follow Jesus, but they did it "straightway." The trouble with many of us is we are willing to follow Jesus, or think we are, but not just yet. The one who would follow Jesus must forsake all (Matt. 16:24; Luke 14:33). James and John as well as Andrew and Simon were attending to their proper business when Jesus called them. They were not fishing, but they were getting ready to fish, and it is just as important to mend one's nets as it is to cast them into the sea after they are mended. James and John not only left their nets but "left their father Zebedee" also. Whoever would follow Jesus must stand ready not only to leave business and ambitions, but to leave loved ones as well. If only the whole body of believers in our day would rise and follow Jesus and fish for men!

III. A Christ-Centered Life, Phil. 1:19-30. Paul was a Christ-centered individual. As he lived, it was Christ. If he died it was Christ. All things pertaining to his body were estimated as how they glorified Christ. If they did not glorify Him, he would have none of them. He is so much devoted to his Saviour that he regards leaving this world to go to Him as preferable but he is also aware that Christ wishes him to serve His people in this world. There is such a blessed concentration on the Lord in control of our lives!

THE GOOD OLD DAYS MAY HAVE SEEMED BETTER

Toronto City Council is taking steps towards the inauguration of the scheme for the building of a system of electric, radial railways covering central Ontario and radiating toward Toronto. On the map showing the plans of the proposed electric roads, Acton is named as a junction point with lines running from here to Guilford and to Ferris.

A four man team from Acton tennis club drove to Erin on Tuesday and played a friendly match with the team there. Following is the score: Matthews, Acton, 6-3; Ramsden, Erin, 6-3; Condon, Erin, beat Moore, Acton, 6-4; Richardson, Erin, vs. Coghlan, Acton, 7-5; 3-3 unfinished. The hub of civilization, Rockwood is greatly wrought over the proposed Toronto and Guilford radial road because the proposed road is marked to go through the Corners and Elton Mills and does not touch that hub of civilization and industry. It would never do to have such a manufacturing centre as Rockwood cut in the cold. The government should be petitioned not to allow such a calamity to overcome Rockwood.

The W.C.T.U. will shortly give their attention to curtailing the sale of cigarettes in town.
A cricket match at Georgetown is on the tapis. Acton cricketers believe they can win there.

Y Schedule Begins Many Plans Ready

Commencing Monday the "Y" will again be a busy centre of activity as the fall program for all regular gym classes gets underway. Much thought and preparation has been done to further improve the program quality and this year promises to set a new record of service and satisfaction to the community. Although activities commenced on Monday a fitting opening social event is planned for Saturday afternoon in the near future. It is known however that an opening dinner is planned for senior members late in October and will feature an outstanding speaker.
In addition to a host of sports leagues, competitions, and holidays events a new "special achievement program" will be established in the physical department program for the young members. It is expected the body building will be popular again in the young members and instruction will be available in boxing and wrestling. Planned for the development of a study course "keep fit" class for young conditioning exercises and volleyball. Some new equipment has been purchased and the shower facilities improved to meet any increased activity.

The Y Volleyball League has held an executive meeting and hopes to have its activities in motion soon. The Y's Men's Club has opened the season for regular meetings and is making early preparations for the annual Halloween party for the youngsters. The card club has drawn up plans for the winter season including an open euchre tournament details of which are to be announced soon. Although the Badminton Club has made no declaration to date it is certain that they will be announcing their plans soon.

The Junior town has shown its intention of resuming social get-togethers soon while the older youngsters are already taking steps to organize a remodelled weekly dance and fun club to replace the Penguin Club which failed last year. A handicraft program for adults and younger Y members is strongly anticipated confirmation of which is expected soon.

To make way for new classes some changes have been necessary in this year's fall and winter regular gym class schedule. The new schedule is as follows:
Prep. (8-9) Boys, Saturday 4:11-4:45; Girls, Saturday 10:15-11:15.
Midgets (10-11) Boys, Tuesday 4:15-5; Thursday 4:15-5; Girls, Wednesday 4:15-5; Saturday 9:15-10:15.
