Mrs. Annie Harris Dies In 77th Year

Following a year or so, of health, and operations last year, Mrs. Annie Harris passed away a. her home last Tuesday evening in 77th year. Back in 1900, the late Annie M. Harris, daughter of Dr. Pasmore of Deseronto. Ont. was united in marriage to Mr.

Harris Harris For a year or more they resided in Manitoba where Wasley Harris was on the staff of an agricult. ural school, following his graduation from the O.A.C. Guelph and afterward moving to a farm near St. Catharines While there, during harvesting operations, he met with a fatal accident, falling off a load of grain and breaking his neck, living only a few hours.

After disposing of the farm, Mrs. Harris and her adopted daughter. Clara, moved to Rockwood where they have since resided, living in one of Rockwood's old houses at the corner of Harris St. and Vinegar Hill as it was then known. and later on; moving into a fine new residence near to the present United Church. During the recent war. Mrs. Harris was bereft of an only son, Wasley Pasmore Harris is an airplane mishap in Souris, Manitoba.

Last week Mrs. Harris' brother. R. H. J. Pasmore in Montreal was bereft of a son-in-law, Dr. J. K. Carver, due to a heart attack. A sister. Mrs. J.-W. Wilcox of Toronto survives.

The funeral took place last Friday with a private service at her late home, followed by service in the United Church with Rev. J. W. Oliver in charge and assisted by Rev. John Ward, a former pastor. During the service, hymns "Unto the Hills" and "Sun of my soul" sung. Pallbearers were Messrs. Peter McBryde..... John Kerfoot, John Carter, Gerald Clemens. Roy Day and Robert Lealie.

A number of floral wreaths bore silent testimony to the deceased and one wreath was from the neighbors on Harris St. Flower bearers were Mrs. J. W. Oliver, Mrs George Peal, Mrs. George Bolton, Mrs. O. Ostrander, Mrs. A. K. Thomas and Mrs. F. Copeland. - Interment took place in Rockwood Cemetery. .

Friday evening, the Boy Socuts with their leader, Scout Master James A. Milne, along with the Cubs and their leaders, Joyce Waller and Catherine Linfoot conducted a concert in the town hall with Mr. Martin Bauer in charge of the program Several Items by the Cubs were enjoyed by those present followed by vocal numbers by James A. Milne with Mrs. M. Bauer at the plane and Mr. Bauer on the viblin A duct by Martin Bauer Jr. and Thelma Thatcher, trombone and cornet was enjoyed with Mrs Bauer at the plane. A highlight of the evening was a showing of films by Mr. M. Bauer The first film "Cange Country". was taken near the foothills of the Rockies and "Eskimos of the Arctie", was the second film. A comic film "Honeyland" was enjoyed by the young filks The evening's program was closed by the Cubs assembling on the platform under the direction of Mr. Bauer and ainging "God Save the King."

Some time next week we herald the approach of the basketball lunch at the close. team from Milton who will invade with mighty force against the undaunted fearless heroes of A.U.S. The outcome will be presented in a later issue.

Enthusiasm for bowling petered out during the last month or so. Tony has been doing his very best to arouse interest. Every Wednesday we see his happy smiling face peeking in-our door to remind us of "Bowling Tonight".

the results were quite good;

First on the program was the singing of the King. Rod Force was the master of ceremonies. Jo Ann Veldhuis and Fred Euringer minutes to prepare to demonstrate, "Before, during and after a date".

-A skit by Pat Terry and Marjorie Warne received favourable comment. Chris Lamb and Joyce Lambert rendered a piano duet. Then Jo Ann and Fred demonstrated. The effect was quite hilarious since Fred had to be the girl and Jo Ann the boy and no talking was allowed, just actions.

The next event on the program was a play in which Jack Davidson was a U.S. delegate, John Ware a Russian delegate, Don Dawkins a Canadian delegate and Rod Force was the Secretary General Trigvie Lie. They discussed the affairs of the world, this finally led to blows, and after things were quieted down the meeting was adjourned."

Then members were chosen for a debate, Mr. Robbins and David Mc-Vey versus Miss Grindley and Lorraine Mullin. The question was, "Should students be given homework every night of the week?" They were given time to prepare.

Rod Force and John Ware dressed up as clowns took Frances Fletcher's picture. Then, to fill in time, while the debaters were getting ready. Crawford Douglas played the - piano. He played Dorsey's Boogie, Bumble Boogie and others. A couple of girls were called on to demonstrate the principles of jiving but they declined. Then came the time for the debate. Both sides had some very good ideas but David McVey and Mr. Robbins received a unanimous vote. The judges were John Mowat, Betty Lawson and Mr. Doyle. This concluded a very enjoyable program.
