NATURE THROUGH A MONOCLE

Spring— You perfectly priceless old thing I'm frightfully bucked at the signs that one sees: The jolly old sap in the topping old trees: The priceless old lilac and that sort of rot: It jolly well cheers up a chap, does it not? It's so fearfully bright, So amazingly right, And one feels as one feels if one gets rather tight. There's a tang in the air, If you know what I mean, And the grass, as it were, Is so frightfully green. We shall soon have the jolly old one on the wing, E—Spring.

THERE'S MONEY FOR SEED at the B of M

For many farmers, operating funds are low at this time of year. It's the in-between period when there's loss of expense, little income. If this is your problem, talk it over with your B of M manager. If you can plan repayment from your farm income, there's money for you at the B of M—for seed, feed or fertilizer.

BANK OF MONTREAL Canada's First Bank Acton Branch: GORDON ODER, Manager WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

OLD REMEDY

A Georgia rural schoolteacher drove up one afternoon to one of those combination gasoline-and-grocery stores characteristic of the more isolated parts of this state. Nobody came near her so she got out and approached a raw-boned farmer who was dosing off the "loafers' bench." "Could you tell me whether or not I need any oil?" she asked.

The old codger turned his thoughtful gaze on her, shifted his tobacco to the other cheek. "No, noam, I can't exactly tell if you need oil by just looking at you. But a good dose of oil never hurt nobody." From "Life's Like That" in the Reader's Digest.

IT'S MOIDER

About ten days after I landed in America from England, I hailed a New York taxicab and instructed the driver to take me to "Three-three-three West End Avenue."

He repeated the number, "Three hunter toly-tree," and immediately began questioning me as to whether we were short of food, what did I think of Churchill, the Labor Government, and so on—all in the richest Brooklyn accents. As I paid him he nudged me up and down and stated in tones of awe, "Gee, biddy, you sure do moider the English language!"

Easy As Renting a Safety Deposit Box

Would it surprise you to hear someone say that? Have safety deposit boxes seemed to you rather out-of-the-way things, complicated to rent and not for everybody's use?

In fact, though, renting a safety deposit box is very simple. You just drop into your local branch of the Bank of Montreal and ask for O. Hunt, the accountant. He'll be very happy to make over a box to you. Sign your name, turn the key, and you have your own personal strong box in the bank's vaults.

And there's another thing. A safety deposit box at the Acton branch of the B of M will cost you only $5 a year—that's less than two cents a day. Store your bonds or important papers and jewellery in it. You'll be giving them the finest protection money can buy, and getting yourself a solid chunk of year-long peace of mind.

Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, APRIL 1st, 1951 GOD'S WONDERFUL CREATION

Golden Text.—O Lord, how manifold are thy works! In wisdom hast thou made them all. Ps. 104:24.

EXPOSITION I.—The Creation, v. 1.

In the first verse of Gen. 1, we have all the clear and positive information that man possesses about the original creation of the heavens and the earth. The universe did not come into being by chance. "God created" it. It is therefore good, has a benevolent design, and is subject to Him. The universe is not God, but God's handiwork. God is in the universe, but separate from it and above it. How He created it, we are not told. There is a profound philosophy in the first four words of the Bible. "In the beginning God." In the beginning of the world's history—God; in the beginning of all true science—God; in the beginning of all true philosophy—God; in the beginning of all right living, and right thinking—God; in the beginning of every wise undertaking—God; in the beginning of every day—God.

II. Rehabilitation of Earth to Become Man's Abode, 2-5.

In verse 2 we are told the earth was (or became) "waste and void" (v. 1). The words translated "waste" and "void" are used in the Bible to express God's judgment upon sin (Jer. 4:23-27; R. V.). The words translated "confusion" and "emptiness" in Isa. 44:11 are the same words used here. Isaiah tells us in so many words that God did not originally create the world "waste" (Isa. 45:18; R. V.). It is plain therefore that in the beginning of verse 2 we have the description, not of the creation of the earth, but of a judgment that came upon the earth after its creation (presumably because of the sin of some pre-Adamic inhabitants). What follows then is not the story of the steps of the original creation, but of the rehabilitation of the earth to become the abode of man. If this view of the passage is correct there never can be any possibility of any conflict between anything geology may discover in the record of the rocks, and that which is here recorded, not as the steps of creation, but as the steps in the refitting of the earth.

Seven times we are told God saw that what He had made was "good". The three Persons of the Trinity are found in the first three verses. In verse 1 we have God, the Father. In verse 2 we have the Spirit. In verse 3 ("and God said") we have the Word. The phrase "And God said" occurs ten times in the chapter. God's creative work is done by His creative Word. God's creative work is also done through His Spirit (1 Cor. 3:16; Job. 33:4; Ps. 104:29, 30). A most majestic declaration of the power of God is found in the 3rd verse. He simply said, "Let light be," and light was. The Hebrew word for "day" is often used of a prolonged period, and God's days are not twenty-four hour days (chap. 2:8; Mic. 4:6; Dan. 8:14; 2 Pet. 3:8). If the interpretation of these verses given above is the true one, it matters not whether the days in this case are 24 hour days or lengthened periods. God could certainly rehabilitate this fallen earth to be the abode of man in six days of 24 hours each. Indeed, He could create it originally in six days of 24 hours if He would. In fact, of an earlier generation made merry over the first chapter of there was cosmic light before the sun was made, but every well-informed scientist now knows that there was cosmic light before the sun became a separate and distinct body.

III. Creation of Man, 26-31.

"Let US make" is full of meaning. In it we have the plurality of Persons of the Godhead suggested in the very first chapter of the Bible (3:22; 11:7; Isa. 6:8). This plurality is also indicated by the name of God which is a plural noun. Man was to be made in the image of the Godhead. This image and likeness referred rather to intellectual and more likeness than to physical likeness (Col. 3:10; Eph. 4:24; Jno. 4:24). But God does manifest Himself in a material form (Phil. 2:6; Ex. 24:9, 10; Isa. 6:1-4), and this form is seemingly in some respects like the human form. Though this image has been blurred and marred by sin, it has not been obliterated (Jas. 3:9). This image and likeness was perfectly realized in the perfect Man, in typical Man, the ideal Man, "the Son of Man," Jesus Christ (2 Cor. 4:4; Col. 1:15; Heb. 1:3). This glorious image is completely restored in regeneration and what follows it (Eph. 4:23, 24; Col. 3:10, 1 Jno. 3:2).

God appointed man to have dominion over every created thing on earth (Ps. 8:4-8). The incoming of sin has interfered in a measure with the perfect dominion of man over the animal creation, but it will be restored in the regeneration and restitution of all things (Isa. 11:6, 7; Rom. 8:21). God "formed man out of the dust of the ground"

FORCED SALE

We were having the gas tank filled before braving the Big Horn Mountains when a big sedan drove up. Hoping to get the latest news about the road, I walked over to the car. The driver was pale and seemed agitated but the man sitting beside him seemed calm, even a little smug.

"Yes, it's pretty rugged up there," the driver replied to my question. "I met this fellow" motioning to his companion—"in a place where we couldn't pass and neither of us dared back. So, after 20 minutes of haggling, I bought his old jalopy and pushed it over the edge." From "Life's Like That" in the Reader's Digest.
